Indonesia's Sukarno Visits Lincoln's Tomb

'Like A Pilgrim On Pilgrimage'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia said he visited Abraham Lincoln's Tomb here Saturday "not as a tourist but just like a pilgrim on a pilgrimage."

The tomb was his first stop after arriving here in an Air Force transport plane.

His itinerary includes visits to Springfield and Petersburg farms, a tour of New Salem State Park and a formal dinner in the Executive Mansion Saturday night before departure for Detroit Sunday morning.

"Lincoln was one of the men who gave me inspiration for my work and struggle," Sukarno said in a statement.

"I prayed to the God of all men that he give Abraham Lincoln one of the best places in Heaven."

He referred to a moment of silent devotion at the wreath laying ceremony at Lincoln's burial place. One of his party said the President at this point uttered a traditional Moslem prayer for the dead.

Gov. William G. Stratton and other state and city officials greeted Sukarno at the airport and accompanied him in a motorcade to Oak Ridge cemetery, the site of the tomb.

"We consider you the Lincoln of Indonesia and that that's the highest compliment I can pay you," Stratton said to Sukarno on their meeting.

A biography of Lincoln was given to Sukarno by Springfield Mayor Nelson Howarth, who conferred on the President's 12-year-old son, Guntur, an honorary commission as police lieutenant.

After laying the wreath, Sukarno walked along the ropes that restricted the crowd of about 1,000 and signed autographs. One was for James Peterson, 2, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson of Florence, Ala., were also tomb visitors.

On hand were four Indonesian exchange students from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana: R. Boedisantose, a food technology major, and three architectural students, H. Matakusunah, Rachmad and Soedarman.

If War Comes

May Use H-Bombs To Strafe Airdromes

WASHINGTON (AP) — H-bombs may be used to strafe airdromes if war comes. They would be dropped from swift jet bombers screaming along at low level to avoid detection.

This new and startling tactic should be entirely different from the popularly understood method of dropping the mass destruction weapon from a plane flying at 40,000 or 50,000 feet, with the detonation occurring at a height of two miles. That was the technique used in the recent drop by an American plane in a test at Bikini.

The hint of the ground-strafing application of thermonuclear weapons comes from one of the best authorities—the Strategic Air Command. A Senate subcommittee issued Saturday a censored transcript of testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of SAC, and other officers of his command testifying in the inquiry on air power.

As is often the way of air officials discussing tactics and strategy, the method was presented as one which might be used by the Soviet air force. Col. Edward M. Nichols, of SAC's operations directorate, included among the tactics to be used for destroying a large number of strategic aircraft on the ground the following:

A "10-megaton bomb," with the bombing done at 1,000 feet. Ten megatons is the equivalent of 10 million tons of TNT.

Two bombs would be dropped. This apparently would be to provide complete coverage for a large airdrome or complex of installations.

Elsewhere, Nichols had explained that "we can come in at low level today with our jet aircraft, come in fast enough and low enough that the aircraft will survive." Low altitude—at a thousand feet or less—means that a plane often can fly under the searching fingers of a radar warning system. It also multiplies the difficulty of either antiaircraft or plane interception.

LeMay Figures Russia Could Destroy U.S. By '59

If Soviet Airmen Get The Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay estimates that by 1959 Russia will have enough long-range bombers and nuclear weapons to destroy the United States — if Soviet airmen should get every conceivable break in a surprise attack.

This reluctant "guess" by the commander of the Strategic Air Command was made public Saturday by the special Senate subcommittee investigating relative U.S.—Soviet airpower.

The estimate was made against the background of a situation in which all the armed forces are bidding for funds, and competing with each other for what they consider their rightful place in the defense picture.

It was included in nearly 200 pages of closed-door testimony from which 111 deletions were made by Defense Department censors prior to release.

LeMay's opinion, based on jet bomber programs of this country and intelligence estimates of the Soviet, was produced in a series of questions by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), chairman of the air power inquiry.

The general said that if data supplied by the Central Intelligence Agency are correct, the Russians will have nearly twice as many long-range jet bombers as this country by 1960 "so the advantage will be with the Russians."

LeMay said he could not guess what the Kremlin leaders will do then but added:

"From 1958, he is stronger in long-range airpower than we are, and it naturally follows that if he is stronger, he may feel that he should attack."

Symington broke in to say that if the Russians got all the breaks "in a sudden surprise attack, wisely handled by their air commanders, it might be possible for them to destroy the United States now (from 1958 on); is that correct?"

"Yes," LeMay replied. "If everything went in his favor and we made all the mistakes possible to make, and we were caught completely by surprise on the ground —I might add I don't think this is possible to happen—but if it did happen, we only have thirty-some bases, and I think that they could all be hit: and in that case, we would have practically nothing left to do any retaliating with."

He said that intricate "war games" had indicated that by 1960 the Soviet could win "with a complete surprise attack," that by 1958 their total bomber power, both long-range, medium and other, would be equal to this country's.

LeMay testified that past and present superiority of his world wide bomber force had prevented start of an atomic war and should prevent one as long as superiority continues.

Release of LeMay's testimony followed a statement by the general in charge of U. S. Air Force defense Friday that the best American fighters now in operation could not cope with Russia's newest jet bomber in a one-way "suicidal" attack on this country.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, told the subcommittee that the introduction of new planes and weapons "is remedying this deficiency," however.

Guard Home Believed Intended Target Of Bomb

CHICAGO (AP)—A home that may have been the target of a bomb that backfired was placed under police guard Saturday.

The home owner, John G Olinder, reported he had been threatened via telephone and obtained police consent to take his family away for a few days.

The bomb exploded in front of Olinder's home on the North Side early Friday and killed James Dorris, 58, an ex-convict. Police theorize that Dorris had the bomb in his hands and set it off accidentally when he tripped over a low fence.

A patrolman was assigned to Olinder's home after he reported a man with a rough voice telephoned him early Saturday and said: "You've got just 24 hours."

Olinder, a county highway engineer, obtained approval of Acting Police Capt. Martin Joyce of a plan to take his wife and their 5-year-old daughter to an undisclosed place for a few days. He said his wife was nervous.

Olinder said he does not believe he was the intended target of the bomb. He also said he did not know Dorris, who used the name Clarence "Mike" Campbel'

'Miracle' Wheat Crop Harvest

Six weeks ago they would have sold their crop for a song because of dry weather and poor appearance.

Now they are harvesting what one elevator operator called "the best wheat I ever saw," with yields running from 10 to 60 bushels per acre.

Farmers are getting $1.93 per bushel and none is going into government loan.

The good harvest is credited to substantial rains in September and October which maintained the grain through the winter and spring. Local showers and a good rain May 1 finished off the grain in good shape.

HONEST PRISON BANK

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Here is a bank that has no trouble with bouncing checks.

"We don't let our depositors spend the money until we know the check is good," the manager said.

It's the bank that serves the inmates of Southern Michigan Prison, the world's largest walled prison. Seven employes handle accounts of the inmates. They're permitted to buy hobby supplies, books, etc., out of prison industry earnings and other income.

Algerian Rebels Cut Throats Of 12 French Civilians In Raid

ALGIERS (AP) — A band of Algerian rebels slashed the throats of 12 French civilians in a raid Friday night on a construction company in eastern Algeria.

The rebels cut down the head of the French construction company, his wife, five technicians and five guards while 30 Moslem workers scattered in panic.

Rescue troops found the two young children of the company chief and his wife huddled unharmed among the mutilated bodies.

The rebel band fled into the Aures Mountains 150 miles south of Constantine. French troops pursued them.

The raid took place as Algeria rocked under one of the worst waves of rebel violence and sabotage in the 18-month-old nationalist uprising.

Terrorists dynamited a big dam, fired grain storage depots, and threw grenades in crowded cities. French troops countered by killing at least 80 rebels in battles southeast of Algiers and far to the west near Oran.

Sudden new violence against the French flared also in the neighboring North African territories of Morocco and Tunisia.

The French announced they were building barbed wire entanglements along the Morocco-Algerian frontier to counteract Algerian rebel traffic across the border.

The violence spread over Algeria as Premier Guy Mollet prepared to stake the life of his government on an assembly vote of confidence in his North African policies.

He has arranged a parliamentary debate starting next Thursday. He seeks approval of his plan to crush the Algerian rebellion with a maximum military effort before attempting any political settlement with the nationalists.

French officials in Algiers said the rebels are stepping up their activity all over the country in an effort to wreak as much destruction as possible before the arrival of heavy reinforcement from France.

Hiroshima Girl Dies: Shows No Radiation Damage

NEW YORK (AP)—An autopsy report said Saturday there were no signs of atomic radiation damage to a Hiroshima maiden who died here while undergoing her third plastic operation.

— NEA Telephoto

DIES — One of the "Hiroshima Maidens" died of a heart attack in New York during humanitarian surgery to remove disfiguring scars left by the world's first atomic bomb raid. Tomako Nakabayashi, 26, died six hours after the plastic surgery at Mt. Sinai Hospital. It was her third operation to remove the scars.

Tomako Nakabayashi, 26, was one of 25 Japanese girls brought here last year for treatment of burns they suffered in the atomic bombing of their city. They became known as the Hiroshima maidens.

She died of what medical examiner Dr. Milton Halpern called a heart arrest while undergoing the surgical treatment Thursday night.

Bride Of A Month Kills Husband, His Sisters, Mother

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A bride of one month killed her husband, his two small sisters and his mother with a rifle in her new home in suburban Hessville late Saturday.

Detective Capt. Russell Oltz said Mrs. Opal Agnes Collins told him she killed the four in an argument involving insurance and a transfer of property. He said she did not give details of the dispute.

Dead were Ben Collins Jr., 28; Mary Sue Collins, 11; Martha Ann Collins, 14, and Mrs. Julia M. Collins, 48.

Six-year-old Bobby Collins, Ben Collins' brother, ran out of the house when the shooting started and went to the home of a neighbor who called police.

Capt. Oltz said the four were killed with a .22 caliber automatic rifle belonging to Ben Collins.

15-Year-Old Boy 'A Little Sorry' He Killed Couple

WATSEKA, Ill. (AP)—A 15-year-old parolee said Saturday he was a "little sorry" he shot and killed a farm couple he maintained "didn't like me."

Sheriff Merle T. Wilmoth said Lester Deffenbaugh related in a signed statement Friday night he had planned "for some time" to kill Stanley Jensen, 34, and his wife, Margery, 31.

Jensen had been shot Friday four times by a shotgun; his wife eight times by a rifle, Wilmoth said. Their bodies were found at the Jensen farm at nearby Herscher.

The youth had lived with the Jensen family for nearly two years as a ward of the state following his parole from the Illinois State Training School at St. Charles. He had been confined there for nine months as a delinquent.

David Oram, Iroquois County state's attorney, said the youth will be charged with murder. Deffenbaugh is being held without charge at Watseka.

Kefauver: Demos Can't Beat Ike With Stevenson

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Democratic party cannot win the presidency with Adlai Stevenson, Sen. Estes Kefauver said Saturday.

Kefauver, carrying his campaign against Stevenson for Florida's 28 nominting votes in Tuesday's presidential primary through inland Central Florida, said the Democrats must have "new leadership and a new program" to defeat President Eisenhower in November.

"If the Democratic party is to win in 1956, we have no choice but to breathe new life, vitality and purpose into it. What was not good enough to win in 1952 will not be good enough to win in 1956," Kefauver said in stump speeches at Wauchula and Sebring.

The Tennessee senator said the Democratic candidate had carried only nine of the 48 states against Eisenhower in 1952. He said that Florida, a traditionally Democratic state, was lost by 100,000 votes.

Bartender Hunted In Heiress' Death Taken In Vermont

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP)—A 35-year-old bartender, hunted from coast to coast in the slaying of a pretty Philadelphia heiress in Nevada, was captured Saturday as he arrived to visit his wife in this small Vermont town.

William E. Boswell was seized by two Vermont state troopers and a Middlebury policeman on duty as part of a 24-hour guard placed at the home of his mother-in-law.

Boswell, wanted in the slaying of Mrs. Anne Harris Van Ryne, 22, in his apartment in Carson City, Nev., was unarmed and offered no resistance when the officers grabbed him.

He drove up to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Eva Daudlin, for a visit with his wife, Mrs. Arline Boswell, 22, who returned to Middlebury from Nevada three weeks ago.

He had parked the car and was walking up to the house when the three officers took him by surprise.

Boswell was held on a fugitive warrant. A warrant charging him with murder was issued in Carson City Friday and a nation - wide alarm sent out for his arrest.

At Carson City, police Inspector Erwin Butner said state troopers informed him by telephone that Boswell had denied the slaying, adding Mrs. Van Ryne had loaned him her car.

ILLINOIS ELKS NOMINATE THORNTON FOR PRESIDENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—George F. Thornton of Oak Park was nominated without opposition Saturday to the presidency of the Illinois Elks.

U. S. May Suggest Soviet Include Air Force Officers In Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, it was learned Saturday, probably will suggest to Russia next week that its invitation for a few Air Force officers to visit Moscow be broadened to include top leaders of other services.

President Eisenhower will make the final decision, probably on a recommendation from the Joint Chiefs of Staff that the Soviet invitation be accepted subject to certain conditions which in effect would change its nature substantially.

Eisenhower's own attitude toward an exchange of officials between this country and the Soviet Union was described by informed officials as positive. The administration appears at the moment to be prepared for an open-ended series of official visits which could lead eventually to an invitation to Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to come to this country. That is not a specific purpose of American diplomacy now but some officials concede it could work out that way.

Eisenhower has given his personal attention to the Soviet invitation to the Air Force ever since Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and his associates decided early this week that it could lead to an important visit or series of visits in the interest of the United States. Some administration officials see the whole operation as one which could also contribute to what the President described in his speech at Baylor University Friday as "our efforts to establish a climate in which universal disarmament can go forward."

Sokolosky invited Gen. Nathan F. Twining, air chief of staff, to send two or three "high level officers of the United States Air Force" to the celebration of Aviation Day in the Soviet Union on June 24.

Plan Floor Fight On Wage Proposal For Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) Saturday pledged a Senate floor fight to put a prevailing-wage amendment in the big highway construction bill—a move that may prove embarrassing to Senate Democrats.

The multibillion-dollar road building measure comes up on the Senate floor Monday. The leadership is planning to push it through to final passage by Tuesday night.

Kuchel told a reporter he would press for a roll-call vote on his amendment to write into the bill a requirement that contractors on the interstate system must pay the prevailing wage rates in their area as determined by the secretary of labor.

The 40,000-mile interstate system, chiefly composed of superhighways, get the bulk of the federal money in the bill, with 25 billion dollars allotted to it.

A Democratic senator, asking not to be quoted, said that his side might seek to take the play away from the Californian by having the same amendment introduced from the Democratic side.

The prevailing-wage proposal, known as the Davis-Bacon amendment from the 1931 law applying the same standards to federal construction, is strongly backed by labor organizations.

May Exhume Bodies Of Three Slain Schoolboys

CHICAGO (AP)—State's Atty. John Gutknecht has called a meeting for 3 p.m. (CST) Monday to determine the possibilities of exhuming the bodies of three slain boys whose bodies were found in Robinson's Wood northwest of Chicago Oct. 18.

The meeting in Gutknecht's office will include law enforcement officers, pastors and relatives of the slain boys, Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11. They disappeared Oct. 16.

Proponents of the exhumation have said they seek to find possible new clues and to end a controversy among medical experts over the findings of Dr. Jerry Kearns, former pathologist for the coroner.

Gutknecht said the meeting would seek to determine whether or not the parents will consent, and whether or not there is any prospect of developing new clues.

Mrs. Eleanor Schuessler, mother of the Schuessler brothers, has consented to exhumation of the bodies under certain conditions. Her husband, Anton, died of a heart attaack shortly after the killings.

Malcolm Peterson, 40, and his wife, Dorothy, 37, still were considering the plan to exhume the body of their son.

CAR HITS, KILLS DECATUR BOY, 18

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—An 18-year-old boy who was to have graduated from high school June 5 was killed Saturday just east of Decatur.

Ronald Irving Raebel was trying to load an engine block onto a jeep when he was struck by a car driven by Jesse C. Wolfe, 34, of Decatur.

Wolfe was charged with reckless homicide.

Raebel, a senior in high school, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Raebel of Decatur.

HURLED FROM SLED — A test dummy, still strapped to its seat, is hurled from a rocket sled traveling at a speed of about 650 miles per hour during supersonic bailout tests at Hurricane Mesa, Utah. The dummy was hurled over the 1,500 foot Mesa and was "killed" when its parachute failed to open.

Committee Raps 'Defense Letdown' By West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee said Saturday large amounts of U. S. arms shipments slated for Europe should be sent elsewhere until it is "clearer" what defense policy Europe intends to follow.

The committee rapped what it called a defense letdown by some "prosperous" Western European nations, and it said the United States "cannot hope to overcome lack of zeal on the part of any nation by supplying it with equipment."

The House group set forth its views in a report to accompany the foreign aid bill, from which it cut more than a billion dollars out of the $4,900,000,000 total requested by President Eisenhower.

No specific European country was mentioned in the report. Chairman Richards (D-SC) had previously named Britain, France and West Germany as slackening in their defense efforts.

NOAH'S ARK ARRIVES AT PARIS AIRPORT; PASSENGERS UNHAPPY

PARIS (AP)—Noah's Ark arrived by air Saturday with an unhappy assortment of passengers.

Aboard a chartered DC4 were 50 chilled monkeys, 14 frigid chimpanzies, 4 gelid gorillas, 4 cold hyenas and a frosty hippo.

There also was a cargo of snakes. But they're cold-blooded critters anyway and they shrugged off the cold of high altitudes as they do the heat of their native Africa.

The hippopotamus was particularly unhappy. He was not only cold, he was dry. Attendants sloshed buckets of water over him en route, but any self-respecting hippo wants barrels of water, not buckets.

Phillip Carroll, an American hunter, is flying the cargo from the French Cameroons to New York. All but two of the gorillas. They go to a Frankfurt zoo in western Germany.

Documents Reveal Nazi Tried To Get 1940 GOP Convention Adopt Isolationist Plank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Long-secret documents made public Saturday recounted that Nazi propagandists with thousands of dollars in hand collaborated with "a well known Republican congressman" in trying to get the 1940 Republican National Convention to adopt an "isolationist" platform.

No name was given for the congressman in captured German documents held secret for 16 years by British, French and American officials. They were made public without comment by the State Department, but a footnote cited a keep-out-of-war newspaper advertisement published at the time over the signature of Hamilton Fish Jr., then a Republican representative from New York.

Fish, asked for comment, said he remembers the ad very well and he added that, in raising the money to pay for it, "not one cent came from German sources."

Many of the documents made public were cables to Berlin from Hans Thomsen, counselor and man in charge at the German Embassy in Washington in 1940, America's last full year of peace before World War II.

Reporting on this is a "most urgent top secret" cable of June 12, 1940, Thomsen told Berlin the isolationists apparently were losing out.

Looking to the 1940 Republican convention, opening within two weeks at Philadelphia, he proposed a two-part "well-camouflaged lightning propaganda campaign:"

1. "A well-known Republican congressman who works in close collaboration with the special official for press affairs will invite some 50 isolationist Republican congressmen on a 3-day visit to the party convention." Their aim would be to "work on the delegates to the Republican party in favor of an isolationist foreign policy . . . $3,000 are required."

2. "The Republican in question is prepared to form a small (ad hoc) Republican committee" to publish full-page newspaper ads during the convention "with the impressive appeal 'Keep America Out of War.'" The cost was estimated at $60,000 to $80,000.

Thomsen cabled he had accepted proposal No. 1 as a "unique opportunity." As to the ads he said the Republican congressman's "Republican friends" who probably pay half the cost. He asked Berlin's approval to pay the rest. Other documents indicated approval was given.

A footnote by State Department historians said, "such an advertisement appeared in the New York Times for June 25, 1940."

A check of this issue of the Times turned up a full page ad of "The National Committee to Keep America Out of Foreign Wars." Fish, who was a House member from 1921 to 1945, signed the ad as chairman of the committee.

Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) recalled today that, as a member of the House from South Dakota in 1940, he led a group of "Young Turk" Republicans to the Philadelphia convention.

"We were mostly against Wendell Willkie because he was an interventionist," Mundt said. "I remember there were about 20 of us, all in our first year in Congress, and we went to Philadelphia together."

Mundt said he couldn't remember whose idea it was.

The Resolutions-Platform Committee was headed by Alf Landon of Kansas, who had been the unsuccessful Republican presidential candidate in 1936. Landon was described in accounts of the 1940 convention as "an advocate of all proper aid to the Allies short of involving the United States in war."

Soon To Be Consolidated, West Liberty Plans Reunion

The last program to be presented by the pupils of the West Liberty school before the area is consolidated was given May 22 at the school. Mrs. Paul Cooney is the teacher having held that position the past 10 years.

Recitations, All Dressed Up, Graham Vasey; Not Good at Speaking, Billy Jones and contributions by Jimmy Killam and Marilyn Vasey were heard before a piano solo by Russell Hicks, recitation by Doug Reining and a dialogue, Sick Baby with the Nurse, Nancy Williams, Doctor, Donnie Cook and the baby's mother, Laura Jones.

Three recitations, Views of Early Days, Russell Hicks; A Fortunate Clock, Laura Jones and My Teacher, Donna Cook; song by the group, Bible Tells Me So; piano solo, Laura Jones; dialogue, Brave Boys, Buddy Vasey, Mike Reining, Laura Jones and Nancy Williams; recitations, Niece's Little Daughter, Judy Scott and Youthful Disappointment, Mike Reining; dialogue, Betsy's Bungalow, Pam Williams and Buddy Vasey and a song, Till We Meet Again, by a group of the children and the closing recitation, Larry Cook.

Harry Killam presided at the closing business session for the community schoolhouse. The West Liberty school observed its centennial in 1937 with 100 years of school records. During the session those present planned a Homecoming to be held this year before the school building is sold. Co-chairmen for the arrangements are Mrs. Harry Killam and Bob Scott.

The committe in charge of the May meeting included Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vasey and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Killam.

Jehovah's Witnesses Dedicate Hall May 30

Jehovah's Witnesses will dedicate the newly constructed Kingdom Hall located at 350 West Independence avenue on May 30.

The program will start at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday with songs and experiences by Bible ministers of Illinois Circuit No. 4. Following this, there will be a talk on the history of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Jacksonville area, by F. H. Clanton, minister from Granite City, Ill.

The dedication talk will be delivered by P. Lemmons of Peoria, Ill., at 3:00 p.m. Mr. Lemmons is a special representative of the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society.

Paul Haman, public relations man for Jehovah's Witnesses in this area, is to address the assembly Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. His subject will be: "Which Church Did Christ Establish?"

The building was started in May, 1955 and consists of an assembly hall, rest rooms, utility room, cloak room and a guest room. The new hall has a modern lighting system, concrete floors covered with tile and many other advantages. It was built by Jehovah's witnesses, doing all the work and supplying all the money. The actual cost of the building was $6,000 and it is valued at $13,000.

The Jacksonville congregation consists of 30 members, most of whom are actively engaged in the preaching work. All work is in harmony with the parent organization in New York.

Diplomas Presented To New Berlin Class

NEW BERLIN — Elementary commercial exercises were held Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. for Community Unit School District No. 16, including Berlin, Curran, Loami and New Berlin, at the high school in New Berlin. The processional, by the grade school band, was followed by the invocation by Rev. Maurice Powers of the Loami Baptist Church. Aubrey Holmes, executive secretary of the Illinois Teachers' Retirement, gave the address of the evening.

Donna Isaacks gave a cornet solo "Bolero," by Buchtel. The elementary graduates, as a vocal ensemble, sang "My Task" and "Children of the Heavenly Father." Mrs. Henry Roberts presented the DAR awards to John H. Crawford, Loami, Ella Margaret Grider, Curran, Nancy Kay Kundsen, Berlin and Richard Henry Reichart, New Berlin, Supt. W. G. Bird presented the graduating class, followed by the presentation of diplomas by Lloyd Loving, President of the Board of Education. The Benediction was given by Rev. Maurice Powers and the Recessional by the grade school band.

Vacation School June 4-5

The Berlin Christian Church will have vacation Bible school each afternoon from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. from June 4 through June 15. The theme of the school's work will be "Our Living Bible." Those in charge of the children will be: Nursery, Helen Marie Parker and Mary Buble; Beginners, Dorothy Crabtree and Inez Williams; Primary, Violet Tolliver and Elsie Ruble; Junior, Ann Clary and Grace King; and teen-age, Drury Benton, pastor.

Eleven children received their first Holy Communion at St. Mary's Catholic church on Sunday morning, May 22, at 8:00 a.m. mass. The children were: Sharon Leady, Robert Moffitt, Nora Rhodes, William Fromme, Donald Knepler, Richard Mudd, Ometta Salmon, Bonita Vogt, William Vogt, Constance Wilson and Mary Ann Workman.

Those receiving their diplomas in graduation from the eighth grade were: Karolyn Knepler, Elaine Grey, Sandra Moffitt, Rosa Rhodes, Cecelia Reichart, Charles Walters, Dennis Nordike, Phillip Reichart, Timothy Sullivan and Thomas Meier.

Frank Long had the misfortune to fall at the home of his son, Virgil, with whom he resides. Mr. Long sustained a broken hip and was removed to St. John's Hospital in the McCullough ambulance.

May Organize Kindergarten

The organization of a private kindergarten is being considered in Community Unit 16 school district. As it is considered advantageous for children to attend for one year prior to grade school, the consent and cooperation of the local school administrators has been secured.

Any child in school district Unit 16 area who will be five years old before December 1 will be eligible. A competent teacher with kindergarten experience is willing to teach the class for a nominal fee. Classes will be held in the Sangamon County Fair Building.

The registration date for next year's class has been set for Monday May 28 from 2 to 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the fair building. All parents of children in this age group are urged to give this matter serious consideration.

The Loami Community will observe Memorial Day with a program in the town square at 2 p.m. Senator George Drach will be speaker of the afternoon and music will be by the Community Unit 16 High School Band. The new bandstand will be dedicated. The public is invited.

Army Officer Addresses Rural Youth Of Greene

CARROLLTON — M-Sgt. Walter Beyer of Alton was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Greene County Rural Youth held Thursday evening in the Farm Bureau hall. M Sgt. Beyer, who is a recruiting officer, spoke of the requirements for entry in the Army and the training each recruit will receive. The WAC program was also explained in detail.

The first soft ball game to be played by the Greene County Rural Youth softball team managed by Peter Steinacher will be played Sunday in Rockbridge against the Rockbridge team according to an announcement made Thursday evening.

A report was made by the committee concerning the lemonade stand at the Greene County Fair and a report was also made by the committee in charge of the sale of the Safety Belts. That committee will meet June 7 at which time the active sales campaign will be launched.

Plans were made for attendance at a Barn Dance Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rawe with Miss Elizabeth Ann Rawe and Miss Agnes Rawe as hostesses.

During the evening a farewell gift was presented to Miss Norma Twitchell who has worked with the group for several months as assistant youth adviser and who is now leaving the county. Jerry Hayden of Pike county was a guest of the group.

The soloist for the evening was Don Heberling of White Hall and special musical numbers and music for dancing at the close of the program was played by the Rhythm Masters of White Hall.

Refreshments were served by Miss Helen Koster, Miss Peggy Schnelt, Miss Bernadine Tepen and Peter Reed.

cars ARE MY Line

by: E. W. Brown

Our children, their sayings and antics, are probably our most common source of humor. If only they knew how we superior grown-ups chuckle at them. (And if only we realized how they laugh at us).

Mothers-in-law have been done to death with jokes—they're probably the second most-used category—which strikes me as strange because I think most people like their mothers-in-law.

I'm sure the third most-used source for jokes, although I may be a little prejudiced, is cars and the people who drive them.

A salesman who was in here the other day combined the second and third categories. He defined "mixed emotions" as watching your mother-in-law drive over a cliff in your brand new car.

Teenagers and cars are a constant source of laughs, like the case of the mother and father who were dressing down their son for dating a girl of whom they didn't approve. "With our old car," the son said sadly, "she's the best I can get."

Later, when he went to college he had his own jallopy. It was an old car, so he supplied the "automatic clutch."

And I always remember the sign displayed by a lonely service station at the edge of the desert: "Don't ask us for information, if we knew anything we wouldn't be here."

Someday, perhaps I'll make a real collection of car stories. Beneath the humor I think you'd find an interesting history of our times. If you've got any good car stories to add, we'll give them the same carfeul attention we give the hand-picked used cars on our lot.

And speaking of hand-picked cars, we just traded for a '51 Chrysler Windsor Deluxe sedan which has been driven less than 12000 miles. We sold it new and can show you the entire service record. Better see this one. It's only well broken-in.

In Last 15 Years Canada's Growth Is Unmatched

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
(Written for The AP)

When British novelist Anthony Trollope visited North America in 1862, he set down the following among his lasting impressions:

"In going (from the United States) into Canada an Englishman is struck by the feeling that he is going from a richer country into one that is poorer and from a greater country into one that is less."

If Trollope were around in 1956 he would find 16 million Canadians daring him to repeat his statement. For with swelling momentum since World War II, the nation across the world's friendliest border has developed one of the world's liveliest and healthiest economies.

It has been a growth so rapid as to astound not only Canada's closest neighbor but even Canadians themselves.

With only about a tenth as much population, Canada covers an area some 700,000 square miles greater than the continental United States —a total of 3,845,774 square miles.

In Trollope's time, much of this area was unexplored wilderness. Untouched and unknown were vast deposits of iron, oil, uranium and other resources which were in the 20th century to make Canada one of the world's wealthier countries.

One way of showing what has happened during the past 15 years is in terms of goods produced—or gross national product (GNP).

In 1939, Canada's GNP was valued at less than six billion dollars; in 1955 it was more than 26 billion. This rate of growth was unmatched even by the legendary wartime swelling of the U. S. economy.

At the base of these statistics lies an almost unending chain of discovery amid the Canadian wilds. Uranium has been found in this province, oil in that; and in others one strike after another has turned up vast reserves of iron ore, coal, copper and other resources.

The result has been a bonanza of development, largely paid for with Canadian funds, but into which many outsiders have bought heavily. Some of the biggest names in American finance are included in the latter category.

Lead, zinc and copper were the lures to booming new development of northern New Brunswick, and on the south side of the St. Lawrence river in the hitherto almost uninhabited interior of the Gaspe Peninsula, a 40-million-dollar copper development center went into production this year.

What may become Canada's biggest single frontier-breaking project is still in the engineering and research stage. It would spend 650 million dollars in northwest British Columbia and the Yukon to harness a river and lake system into a 4½ - million - horsepower hydroelectric project and establish a metallurgical and electrochemical center for processing ores.

This project is backed by Ventures, Ltd., a Canadian holding company headed by Thayer Lindsley, a New Englander who moved to Canada 43 years ago. Lindsley, now 73, will soon become chairman of the firm and has named Robert B. Anderson, former U.S. deputy secretary of defense, to succeed him as president.

Other companies and governmental departments have invested heavily in the development of hydroelectric power.

In British Columbia, the Aluminum Co. of Canada turned a mountain water system from east to west in order to supply power for its huge plant at Kitimat, 400 miles north of Vancouver. The cost to date has been 300 million dollars and is expected eventually to reach 550 million.

On the Niagara River, Ontario is spending 343 million dollars to develop 1,800,000 horsepower in electric energy. The same province is working with New York state on the huge St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

One of the chief factors in Canada's new era of prosperity has been the discovery of tremendous oil reserves, beginning at Leduc, near Edmonton, on St. Valentine's Day, 1947.

Some 2½ billion dollars has been spent on oil exploration, development, transportation lines and marketing. Western Canadian oil reserves are now estimated at three billion barrels, and the figure is still growing. Experts say the area favorable to oil extends to the Arctic Ocean.

American interests also have bought heavily into Canada's forest industries, which have long made that nation the world's major producer of newsprint.

Home Bureau Activities

The Jersey College Unit of Home Bureau met recently at the home of Mrs. Alvin Ginder. Mrs. Ginder conducted the meeting.

"Oven Meals," the selected subject, was presented by Mrs. Robert Daniel.

The chairman read the highlights of the board meeting.

Mrs. Grace Ater won the prize in a game played during the social hour. The hostesses served refreshments.

The group's June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Luther Kennedy.

VIRGINIA— On May 28, the Cass County Home Bureau will present a girl's trio from Arenzville high school on its regular weekly program over station WLDS, Jacksonville, at 4 p.m.

Miss Eileen Fiedler, Monroe Unit radio chairman, will introduce the members of the trio, Eileen Brassell, Helen Kolberer and Kathleen Ruppel, and their accompanist and director, Miss Elizabeth Paul.

The Chandlerville Unit will meet June 1 with Mrs. Roscoe Milstead. Mrs. Raymond Edge will be the leader for the lesson, "Quick Summer Desserts With Homemade Pastry Mix." Mrs. Lloyd Miller will have charge of the lesson on "Joint Tenancy."

ASHLAND

ASHLAND — The Ashland 4-H club met at the home of Joyce Senters Monday evening at 7:30. The meeting was called to order and the minutes were read by the secretary.

Louise Troxell gave a demonstration on "Correct Measurements." Maureen Dorsett gave a talk on "Food Handling." Refreshments were served after games were played.

Miss Anna Rose Jokisch entertained at a bridge party at her home Tuesday evening, with two tables at play.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Douglas, Mrs. Marjorie Bloomfield and Mrs. Artie Walker attended Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron night at Astoria Monday night. Mrs. Bloomfield served as Ruth.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mapes and son of Astoria were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Mapes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Page.

Mrs. Elaine Tinsley has accepted a position at the Brownback Drug store, due to the resignation of Mrs. Mabel Woods.

Judy Troxell, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Troxell, had the misfortune to fall at her home and fracture her left shoulder Sunday evening. She was taken to the Memorial hospital in Springfield Sunday night for medical aid.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson and son of Greenview were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Cora Moore.

Mrs. William Walbaum, who has been a surgical patient in Memorial hospital, Springfield, for several weeks, returned to her home the fore part of the week.

Mrs. Ada Gaither, who had been a patient in the Memorial hospital, Springfield, for some time, and since has been at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Clemons, has now returned to her own home and will be glad to have callers.

Mrs. Mabel Aggertt was admitted to the Memorial hospital, Springfield, on Tuesday afternoon for observation.

The baccalaureate services for the 1956 graduating class will be held Sunday at the Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. (CST) with Rev. Hebert Cherry, pastor of the First Church of God, to bring the message.

BLUFFS

BLUFFS—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ruetzel of Los Angeles, California, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reutzel of Camp Point and Mrs. Iva Boden of Clayton spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Fry Main.

Florence Clemmens, Grace Leppert and Eloise Malcolm of Winterhaven Florida spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Fay Main and friends in Bluffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kilver have received word that their grandson, William Knudsen of Chicago, son of Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Knudsen has been honored with a scholarship to Northwestern University. It is a one year renewal for the four years, one of twelve awarded jointly by the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce and the Board of Education.

Good citizenship paid off for these folks chosen from 98 nominees from Chicago's various high schools. They were nominated by their respective faculties on the basis of scholastic standing, leadership, character and participation in school extra cirricula and community activities. The scholarships and civic achievement medals were presented at a recent luncheon at Hotel Morrison in which some 1,000 civic leaders and parents were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Traw recently purchased the Shonwiler house from Fred Muntman.

Mrs. Ina King and son, Jerry and Miss Janet Joiner of Mulkeyton visited Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Etta Atkins and Mrs. Kings sister, Miss Orban Atkins.

E. C. Albright entered Wabash Hospital Decatur Sunday for observation. His son, Irvin, of Chicago who has been visiting his parents took him to Decatur.

Miss Carol Ann Lloyd of Beardstown, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Mueller is able to be around the Peoria Methodist Hospital on crutches. She has been undergoing surgery and been confined to a whel chair until recently.

FISH DO SMELL

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Experiments with adult salmon, a scientist says, suggest they may smell their way back to their home streams from the ocean.

Dr. A. D. Hasler, University of Wisconsin, told a meeting of marine biologists that salmon with their smelling organs plugged appeared confused.

Miss Bauch, Pittsfield, Retires From Teaching

PITTSFIELD — Miss Minna Bauch, principal of the elementary schools of Pittsfield, who has reached the age of retirement from teaching, is nearing the completion of 46 years as a teacher in the schools of Pike county, 36 of which have been in the Pittsfield schools.

She started her career at Summer Hill, where after the first year she became superintendent of the high school for two years and was later made superintendent of the schools at Hull for three years. She served four years as County Superintendent of Schools, thus accounting for 10 years of her tenure spent in schools outside of Pittsfield.

MISS MINNA BAUCH

Thousands of her former students look upon her with highest regard, remembering with gratitude her concern for their welfare, her high standards and firm convictions of what was right and worthwhile, from which she never deviated.

She has been honored on many occasions recently by her fellow teachers, the PTA, the church and the organizations to which she belongs and for which she found time in addition to her heavy schedule as a teacher. Miss Bauch has been the recipient of many gift tokens of friendship and esteem.

She has been a good citizen as well as a good school teacher. She was superintendent and teacher of the junior department of the Methodist Sunday school for more than 20 years; a member of the I.E.A., department of Elementary Principals, treasurer of the Mississippi Valley division of the I.E.A., and is a past president of the Sigma chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, also local B.P.W.C. Study Club and Past Noble Grand of the Rebekah lodge are among her other activities in the community.

Plans To Travel

Her plans for the future include traveling, to which she is looking forward with pleasure. On June 20 she will leave on a tour of the Northeast United States, including visits at Boston, Cornish, the Niagara Falls, etc. and Southeast Canada.

The following excerpts from a letter to Miss Bauch from J. H. Voshall, superintendent of Pittsfield district No. 10, speaking for himself and the board of education, might well include her fellow teachers, parents, former students and present students, in wishing her health, happiness and contentment in the days that lie ahead.

"Thirty-six years of teaching service in one community is indeed an enviable record which very few teachers anywhere in the nation can excell.

"We have learned from you many lessons that can be taught only by a wise leader and a great teacher. We have learned also many things that cannot be taught through words but must be caught from the example of a master of the art of living. We have learned from you the importance of kindness, of service to others, of dedication to worthy causes, of loyalty to work and profession, of thoroughness in work, and of sound judgment and honor.

"It is indeed impossible to measure the worth of your 36 years of service to the youth of this community, most of whom are your former students, and we are profoundly grateful for the privilege and opportunity of having had you as a teacher for so many years."

The Maryland Jockey Club was founded in 1743 at Annapolis. The association now races at the Pimlico course outside Baltimore.

"Water Safety Rules"...

... and don't forget these other important YMCA water safety rules: Pick a safe place to swim. Keep within the limits of your swimming ability. After hard exercise, relax a bit before you hit the water. Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. Don't take a sailboat out unless you're a good swimmer and understand sailing. Avoid swimming during electrical storms. When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the victim with a pole, rope, clothing or something buoyant. And most important of all, if you're in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Cramps don't cause drowning—panic is the danger. Remember that comparatively small objects will support you if you'll just take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. So happy paddling! Last one in's a monkey's uncle!

ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE—At an assembly of the two sixth grade classes of Washington School, Monday afternoon Kenneth Nash, chief petty officer in the N. S. Navy, home on leave, showed movies he had taken while serving in the South Pacific. His daughter, Judy, is a pupil in Mrs. Margaret Sullivan's class.

Morgan County Garden Club's Plant Sale Was Big Success

The Morgan County Garden Club held a most successful plant sale at the Youth Center on Saturday morning, May 19th. This sale was sponsored by the Finance and Plant Exchange committees with Mrs. Charles Gibson as Finance Chairman and Mrs. Alvin Middendorf as Plant Exchange Chairman in charge.

Mrs. Milton Stout was in charge of a small but outstandingly arranged flower show. There were 8 tables of floral arrangements as follows: Class I, Snowfall in May, Mrs. Homer Potter as Chairman, consisting of all white flowers.

Class II, Blue Magic, Mrs. F. J. Blackburn as Chairman, using all of the various shades of blue found in the garden.

Class III, Came The Dawn, Mrs. Howard Stevenson as Chairman, was an all pink and mauve arrangements pertinent to the colors of the early dawn.

Class IV, Karats of Gold, Mrs. Ogle Love Chairman, an arrangement of all yellow flowers, using gold foil to cover containers, also yellow flowers in copper and bronze containers.

Class V, Fashions from the Garden, Mrs. Arthur Seeman, Chairman. These were lovely corsages and small arrangements made from flowers now in bloom.

Class VI, Pair Arrangements, Mrs. Merton Abbott, Chairman, showed the use of twin bowls, vases, either tall or short, oblong or round. Various colors of garden flowers were used.

Class VII, Arrangements in Green, Mrs. Merl Kern, Chairman, showed the use of green foliage, leaves or bits of non-flowering shrubbery, vines, etc., in white containers.

Class VIII, Charmettes from the Garden, Miss Anna Mann, Chairman. This was a most appealing table because of the miniature containers of all sorts and sizes, and in which only the tiniest of flowers were used. It attracted a great deal of attention, and there were many contributions to this table.

The show proved quite a success and many club members contributed their arrangements for the various classes, but space does not permit the use of all of the names. Mrs. Stout is to be congratulated upon the success of this small show.

Social Committee

Mrs. Robert Foster was chairman of the social committee, with Mrs. Louis Foster as co-chairman, assisted by the following: Mrs. LeRoy Fairchild, Mrs. Maude Fanning, Mrs. R. G. Floreth, Mrs. Andrew Fox, Mrs. Henry Frisch, Mrs. H. E. Funk, Mrs. Marjorie Gerson, Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Wm. G. Goebel, Mrs. J. I. Graham, Mrs Clark Green, Miss Zelma Hackman, Mrs. Dallas Hagan, Miss Fern Haigh, Mrs. L. K. Hallock, Mrs. Cora Hamm, Mrs. Murl Hardy, Mrs. W. N. Harness, Mrs. Robert Hembrough, Mrs. L. C. Hess, Mrs. C. A. Hibbs, Mrs. M. L. Hierman, Mrs. Roy Hopper, Miss Gladys Howard, Mrs. C. R. Hughett and Mrs. James Haigh.

The lovely tea table was very pretty in its cloth of snowy white, with a huge and beautiful arrangement of iris, peonies, pink carnations and snapdragons, and a dash of red here and there. On the table were two black wrought iron candelabra, each holding 5 tall lighted tapers. Lime ice punch was served with crystal bowls, together with homemade cookies and green mints.

Mrs. Eugene Dodsworth and her committee made a number of lovely corsages from garden flowers, and each new member and new officer were presented with one upon their arrival. Mrs. Gertrude Reynolds sent a lovely all white arrangement of flowers for the officer's table in memory of her sister, the late Mrs. Adelaide Johnson.

Business Session

The business meeting was called to order at 2:00 p.m. by the President, Mrs. Vernon Scholfield, and she called upon Mrs. Roy Hopper to lead in the reading of the club prayer, followed by the pledge to the flag. Miss Gladys Howard, secretary, gave the minutes of the last meeting and read club correspondence, after which Miss Fern Haigh gave the treasurer's report.

The president then announced there would be a short memorial service to departed members who were among the original 13 to organize the Garden Club. Mrs Earl Davis gave a very lovely tribute to these women and Miss Charlotte Sieber sang "Think On Me," "Will You Remember" and "One Kiss." Miss Gladys Howard accompanied her.

Mrs. Herbert Simke, one of the original 13 members, gave a brief history of the club, telling when it first started 15 years ago and about their plans for a Garden Club for Morgan County. It has now grown to a membership of over 200 and is one of the county's most active clubs. Mrs. Scholfield then introduced Miss Lora Petefish of Literberry, as Program Chairman of the day, and who in turn introduced Miss Hazel Graves of the Home Bureau. She gave a very enlightening talk on the care of the African Violet. Mrs. Tunis Archer talked on the care and propagation of the lily, that being her hobby, and she gave information on how to raise lillies from bulb and from seed. Miss Anna Mann gave a brief talk on the care and propagation of the iris and had some plants for demonstration in separating the bulb when it is time to transplant. Explanations on all three of these subjects meant much and are very helpful to the flower growers of this county.

Three new officers were installed: Mrs. N. J. Butler as Vice President, Mrs. Virginia Adams as Treasurer and Mrs. Rex Ranson as Assistant Treasurer. Miss Juanita Coultas, daughter of the late Mrs. D. F. Coultas who was the Garden Club President in 1941 and 1942, was the installing officer.

New members introduced were Miss Maude VanWinkle, Mrs. Emma Calhoun of Franklin, and Mrs. Harold Hamel.

Guests for this meeting were Mrs. Ethel Heneghan, Miss Mary Clampit, Mrs. Bea Loomis and Mrs. Bertha Dunniway, Miss Georgia Ranson, Mrs. Clyde Singley, Mrs. Alta Stewart, Miss Mable Goltra, Mrs. Ralph Woods and Mrs. Merl Reining.

It was announced that the WLDS speaker for the first Saturday in June is to be Mrs. Eugene Dodsworth. She will speak from 9:55 to 10:00 a.m. on June 2nd, and her subject will be "Care of Flowering Spring Bulbs After the Blooming Season is Over."

Rawlings Couple Plans Open House Sunday, June 3rd

FRANKLIN — Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rawlings will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next Sunday, June 3, with Open House at their farm home from 2 to 5 in the afternoon standard time.

John Rawlings and Miss Gertrude Oxley were married June 5, 1931 at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oxley, southeast of Pisgah.

Rev. M. O. Smith, then pastor of the Durbin Methodist church, officiated. Miss Margaret Oxley, now Mrs. H. E. Oliver, was the bride's attendant and Donald Rawlings served as best man.

Beta Sigma Phi Founder Present At Local Ritual

Miss Janette Powell, Educational Sponsor and Honorary Member of Gamma and Xi Alpha Upsilon chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, was the honoree at a surprise ritual and coffee on Sunday evening at the home of Miss Edith Ruyle, 716 W. Douglas Avenue. The ritual was the Order of the Rose Degree, and it was bestowed on Miss Powell for her sixteen years of unselfish devotion to the Chapters, and to express to her the deep gratitude of the forty members for her great loyalty and many contributions to the sorority. The event was of such outstanding significance that the founder of the organization, Walter W. Ross and Mrs. Ross of Kansas City, made it a special point to be present for the ceremony to pay homage, along with the members, to one who has so exemplified and promoted the ideals of Beta Sigma Phi throughout the years.

Mrs. Marian Chase Schaeffer, Social Sponsor of the Chapters, escorted Miss Powell to the ceremonial table at which the very effective officiant, Mrs. J. Merle Wade, presided. She was supported by Mrs. Jay Hamilton, Mrs. Jack Frisch, and Misses Naomi Wood and Dorothy Crabtree. Other participants were Mrs. Howard Brown, Mrs. C. A. German, Mrs. Byron Lucas, Mrs. Paul Mapes, Mrs. Donald Robinson, Mrs. D. B. Woodruff, and Miss Elaine Presvelos.

Misses Verna Butcher and Edith Ruyle, both having the longest active membership in the local chapters, climaxed the ceremony by presenting to Miss Powell the Order of the Rose pin encircled with sixteen pearls. The soft music of recorded Beta Sigma Phi songs served as a beautiful undertone throughout the impressive ritual.

Immediately following the ceremony Miss Powell was escorted to the dining room where a lovely cake with sixteen lighted candles awaited her at a coffee table exquisitely set with a beautiful Battenburg lace cloth, handsome china and silver, and a bowl of yellow roses. The cake was served by Mrs. Schaeffer, while coffee was poured by Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, a long-time friend of Miss Powell's and International Honorary Member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Members of the Committee who planned the event were Mrs. C. A. Boruff, President of Gamma Chapter, Mrs. Ray Broekel, Mrs. Thomas Svob, and Mrs. Charles Vieira. Mrs. John May served as co-hostess with Miss Ruyle in planning table appointments.

HONOR RETIRING VIRGINIA TEACHERS

VIRGINIA—Four teachers in the local schools who are retiring at the close of the present year were entertained by fellow faculty members Wednesday evening at a dinner in the Country Club.

They are Mrs. Helen Plowright, Mrs. Eva Brannan, Miss Sylvan Six and Miss Stella Kern. Each received a gift.

Annual C. D. of A. May Breakfast

On Sunday, May 20th, the annual May Breakfast of the C. D. of A., Court of Our Saviour, was held in the banquet room of the Hotel Dunlap.

Following a delicious breakfast the program was officially opened when Mrs. Harriett Lockman, toastmistress, offered a few thoughts about the Feast of Pentecost. She then introduced Mrs. Margaret Ferry, who reported on the recent revisions of the National Council of Catholic Women concerning Modesty in Dress. Mrs. Ferry stressed the influence of mothers for a successful campaign.

Mrs. Virginia Farran then presented Mrs. Emma Lonergan, retiring Grand Regent, a lovely Rosary, on behalf of the court.

Miss Helen Devlin thanked Father Tracey, court chaplain, for the time and effort he has spent during the past three years.

Tables were decorated with beautiful freshly cut spring flowers and miniature May Shrines, enhanced by tiny replicas of the Madonna.

Mrs. Kay McGinnis and Mrs. Mary Agnes Smith were co-chairmen of the breakfast. Committee members were Margaret Sheehan, Louise Tobin, Frances Yording, Mayme Tobin, Margaret DeVore, Betty Ryan, Genevieve Shultz, Lillian Todd, Patricia Wells, Marie Shields, Catherine Sorrells and Eleanor Foster.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, June 7th, with an installation of officers.

Carpet Traffic Lanes Removed

Do you have a traffic lane? It's that beat down section of your beautiful carpet that has received the heaviest wear.

To preserve the "new all over" look, those traffic lanes must be eliminated, so apply Fina Foam carpet cleaner with an easy to use long handle brush. The colors will spring out fresh and bright with the nap open and fluffy to blend with the unsoiled sections of your carpet.

One gallon of Fina Foam concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Disbanded Nesco Club Gives Walker To Altrusa Loan Chest

The recently dissolved Nesco Office Woman's club formally presented last week to the local Altrusa club a chrome walker to use in the club's Sick Room Loan chest. The latter is a local project, of the Altrusa club's own choosing that benefits the community as a whole and has been receiving station for many contributions of this nature.

The picture on this page shows the presentation being made at the Norbury Sanatorium where the club keeps the large pieces of such equipment that is available for public use upon request. Anyone having need of any sickroom equipment is asked to contact Miss Ethel Glasscock at the Morgan County Health Department.

Club Organized In 1950

The Nesco Office Woman's Club was first organized in May 1950 with a membership of 24 charter members, all girls of the office force.

These 24 members chose officers and drew up a constitution and By-Laws. They chose for a meeting date the second Wednesday of each month.

As the years went by the membership of the Club increased or decreased, due to the turnover of the office force, for one reason or another. The membership roll for 1955-56 showed a total of twenty-one members.

Throughout the years the Club had made it a practice to donate to the various Community Drives such as Red Cross, Polio, and Crippled Children. Ever since the Club's organization it has given the contribution necessary to light a bulb on "The Tree of Lights" at Christmas time. However, the Christmas of 1955 presented a different problem. Misfortune, in one form or another, sought to strike the families of three of our co-workers. In view of this the membership of Nesco Office Woman's Club felt they would like to help the families of these co-workers so close to them.

Choose Project

A Project Committee was named, to which Mrs. Edward Brennan was appointed Chairman, to complete this project, which resulted in all members making very generous contributions of food stuffs, also financial help from the Men's Nesco Symposium Club for necessary purchases, to complete baskets of food for these less fortunate families. As a result, three well-filled baskets were delivered to these stricken families on Christmas Eve, thereby making Christmas a little brighter for these families and bringing peace of mind to the members of Nesco Office Woman's Club for having brought happiness to these co-workers.

At different times the Club has sponsored various projects such as selling Christmas Cards, a ham and fish dinner, candy sales, and chilli supper to increase the Club's treasury, thereby, enabling them to support the various community drives and projects. Proceeds from the chilli supper sponsored in February and candy sales made it possible for the Nesco Office Woman's Club to purchase the chrome walker, presented in the name of the Club, to Altrusa Loan Chest.

The Christmas basket project and the purchase of the walker were accomplished under the capable guidance of the last Club Officers namely, Mrs. Clifford Hess, President, Mrs. Russell Cole, Vice-President, Miss Allene Berghaus, Treasurer and Mrs. Thomas Brennan, Secretary.

The Club held its annual Anniversary Party in the form of a dinner party last Wednesday at the Lake Club in Springfield, with fourteen members present. It was decided to hold a special meeting Wednesday, May 23rd, with a pot-luck supper at Nichols Park, to decide what disposition would be made of the Club, since the sale of the Nesco Company.

With no alternative, due to members leaving the city, etc., it was voted to disband the Club, thereby, bringing to a close the final chapter in the history of the Nesco Office Woman's Club.

INSURANCE WITHOUT GOSSIP

This advice was given 250 adjusters from 15 states during a panel discussion at the Midwestern Hail Adjusters Assn. convention. The panelists advised adjusters not to discuss loss settlements over restaurant tables.

FIREMAN ON THE JOB

RAND, W. Va. (AP)—Volunteer fireman Charles Butler was right there when the alarm sounded. Good thing, too, for it was his house on fire.

"Charlie was a little excited at first," Chief George Hunt said, "but he soon calmed down and took his post."

Mrs. Lillian Phillips Convention Delegate

The Mary Deweese Philathea Class of Central Christian church met at the home of Coral Trabue, 621 Hardin avenue. Devotions were in charge of Miss Ferne Taylor, after which a business meeting was held. Mrs. Lillian Phillips, president, presided.

Mrs. Phillips was elected the delegate to the World-Wide Baraca Philathea convention to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana, July 17 to the 22.

Miss Ferne Taylor, president of the Illinois State Union of Baraca-Philathea will also be in attendance at the convention. She announced that a luncheon for all those present from Illinois will be held one day during the convention.

New officers for the coming year were elected, as follows:

Mrs. Helen McDougall, president; Mrs. Annie Curtis, vice president; Mrs. Coral Trabue, secretary; Mrs. Alma Walters, assistant secretary, and Miss Ethel Shortridge, treasurer.

After the business meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Assisting Mrs. Trabue were Mrs. Florence Ivemeyer, Ruby Deweese and Verna Butcher.

Alene Francis And Ronald Smith Wed

Miss Alene Francis and Ronald Smith exchanged nuptial vows in an impressive double ring ceremony performed at two-thirty the afternoon of Sunday, May thirteen, at the Durbin Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prince O. Francis of Franklin and Mr. Smith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Smith, also of the Franklin community.

The church altar was beautifully decorated with candelabrae, ferns and baskets of pastel and white spring flowers. Larry Smith, little brother of the groom, assisted by Tommy Francis, brother of the bride, lighted candles at the altar.

Rev. George Garris, pastor, performed the ceremony. Mrs. John Rawlings at the organ played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Mary Wells for the vocal numbers, "Through the Years," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The fitted bodice featured a tiny collar and fastened down the back with pearl buttons. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a small satin headband adorned with pearls. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with an orchid.

Doris Richey, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Francis, mother of the bride, wore pink with blue and white accessories. Mrs. Smith, the groom's mother, wore navy blue with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception at Church

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The couple cut a three tiered wedding cake, frosted with white and decorated with yellow roses. Yellow, green and white were used in the color appointments and decorations. Fruit punch, mints and nutmeats were served with the cake.

Mrs. Lois Rickey, Miss Mary Smith and Miss Barbara Smith, sisters of the groom, Mrs. Sally Lindsey, Mrs. Ruby Brummett, Mrs. Louise Bunch, Mrs. Maxine Rawlings, Miss Judy Wells and Mrs. Louis Smith, sisters and friends of the bride, assisted at the reception. Steven Smith, Leonard Smith and Louis Smith served as ushers.

The couple left for a trip through the southern states. The bride was wearing a navy blue dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage for her going away costume. They will make their home at 1100 North Clay avenue in this city.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the Franklin high school and is employed by the Illinois Telephone company in Jacksonville. The bridegroom also graduated from the Franklin high school and is employed by the Ideal Baking company in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Becker Entertains CWF Group

Group 3 C.W.F. of Central Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Arvel Becker of Jacksonville R.R. 4 on Thursday afternoon, May 24.

Mrs. Lucille Chandler, leader of the group, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Helen Winner, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the April meeting. Mrs. Helen McDougall gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Gerald Miller, devotions chairman, presented Mrs. Ruth Moxon who used as her subject, "The Book, The Fourth Witness," closing devotions with a prayer.

Mrs. Lucille Chandler had the study period using as her subject "To Serve This Present Age." The meeting closed with the Fellowship prayer.

A social hour followed the meeting, and the hostess served lovely refreshments.

MRS. RUSSELL D. NEFF

Berniece Ellerman And Russell D. Neff United

An impressive double ring ceremony at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, May twentieth, at the Neelyville Lutheran church united in marriage Miss Berniece Ellerman and Russell D. Neff.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ellerman and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Neff, all of Bluffs.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend John Deterding in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The altar was decorated at either side with white gladioli and pompoms and banked with ferns. Tall white tapers burned in the branched candelabrae that had been lighted by the ushers, Larry Engelbrecht, cousin of the bride and Charles Nichol of Peoria, cousin of the bridegroom.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Yvonne Fargo, cousin of the bride, presented a fifteen minute organ prelude during which Miss Lois Kory sang, "Because" and "O Promise Me." She also played the traditional wedding marches.

Wears Lace and Tulle

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white hand clipped galoon lace over tulle and taffeta. The bodice featured lacy scallops underscored with folds of tulle which framed the wide winging V neckline and long tapering lace sleeves fastened with tiny buttons. Airy panels of scalloped lace floated out over the bouffant skirt worn over hoops.

Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion with a hand rolled hem was attached to a plateau hat of dainty rows of scalloped lace strewn with sequins and seed pearls and outlined with tulle ruching.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with pink and showered with tiny white carnations. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Walter Schmitz of Springfield. Her gown was pink lace and net over matching taffeta worn with a lace bolero. The skirt was detailed with tiny lace ruffles starting at the waist. She wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, the gift of the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink, white and blue daisies tied with blue ribbon.

Russell Brown, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer and wore a dark blue suit with boutonniere. The rings were carried on a satin pillow. Miss Kristi Lou Frye of Jacksonville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore pastel green floor length gown of lace over taffeta. Her headdress was a band of tiny pink flowers. She carried a white satin basket of tiny pink blossoms.

Receive At Church

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. The five tiered wedding cake was frosted in white and decorated with clusters of pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was cut by Miss Yvonne Fargo and served by Miss Marion Mattes. Miss Joan O'Neal of Athens serving punch along with tinted mints and nuts.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Neff attended the Bluffs high school graduating with the class of 1954. The bride is employed at the Pillsbury Mills, Inc. at Springfield and her husband at Allis Chalmers in that city where they will make their home at 7131 South English avenue.

Those attending from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Engelbrecht and sons, Fort Madison, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nichol, Charles Nichol and Joyce Schmidgall, Mrs. Barbara Moore and son, Peoria; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Franke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teefey, Glenn Garber, Mrs. Trela Huffman, Mrs. Jasper Brown, Miss Florence Vidor, Marion Mattes, Lorraine Pahlmann and Jane O'Neal of Springfield.

Will Be June Brides

GLADYS MAURINE ROODHOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Ben O. Roodhouse of Jacksonville announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gladys Maurine, to John Raymond Boyer of Decatur, son of Mrs. Boyer of Melvern, Kansas, and the late William Boyer.

Miss Roodhouse is a graduate of Jacksonville High School and MacMurray College. She is a teacher in Ullrich School at Decatur.

Mr. Boyer is general foreman at Caterpillar Tractor Company in Decatur.

RITA THERESA EVANS

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Evans of Springfield, formerly of Bluffs, of the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Rita Theresa, to Raymond R. Yahnke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yahnke, Plainfield, Illinois.

As no formal invitations are being issued the families take this means of extending a cordial invitation to friends and relatives to attend the ceremony to be at two o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, June sixteenth, at St. Mary's Catholic church in Plainfield. There will be a reception following the wedding in St. Mary's hall at Plainfield.

The bride-elect attended Bluffs schools and graduated from the Western State Teachers College at Macomb. She has spent the past three years in Plainfield where she teaches. Mr. Yahnke is employed by the federal government.

Pilot Club Plans Year Of 'Service And Understanding'

The Pilot Club of Jacksonville, with Mrs. Catherine Rowe as newly installed president, has charted a course of activities for 1956-57 which will follow the Pilot International program theme, "Service and Understanding — A Bridge to Peace," as a foundation for local, district, and international services.

Already three meetings have been held in May. At the regular business session, much time was given to the reading of letters from delegates who attended the recent district convention in our city. From each of the 17 clubs of District 12 words of praise had been received relating to the fine hospitality extended by Jacksonville and to the excellent accommodations afforded by the Dunlap Hotel. Catherine Rowe and Gladys Hamilton, convention co-chairmen, received many compliments concerning their successful long-range planning. Local club committees were congratulated on the thorough manner in which they had planned all details of the three-day meeting. Mrs. Rhoda Samoore, then Governor of District 12, especially was commended because of her efficient handling of each session. Many visiting Pilots, whether from Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, or Illinois, expressed their delight over the beauties of Jacksonville — the impressive homes, trees, flowers, and the various educational buildings.

At a recently called board meeting, Mary Walters, first vice-president and chairman of the coordinating committee, worked with respective chairmen of the thirteen standing committees to formulate a well-integrated club program for the next fiscal year.

The month's program meeting allowed time for each chairman to present her committee's plan of work to the club membership for evaluation, approval, and final acceptance.

The following Pilots will serve as chairmen of standing committees: Frances Allen, Attendance; Wilma Nichols, By-Laws; Joye Siroky, Education; Rhoda Samoore, Extension; Josephine Milligan, International Relations; Elisabeth Henderson, Finance; Gladys Hamilton, Legislation; Ferol Thorn, Membership and Classification; Nell Stout, Pilot Information; Margaret Riley, Public Affairs; Vera H. Seaton, Publicity; Vernice Eldridge, Reception and Fellowship and Special Funds, Gertrude Reynolds.

Nine members joined the Pilot Club of St. Louis at a dinner meeting held on May 10 to honor Miss Sue Berthe, of that club because of her having been a runner-up in the annual Woman's Home Companion Clubwoman-of-the-Year event. Through her contribution to community service, especially in the interests of mental health, Miss Berthe had exemplified one of the principles of PI—Service.

Janet Pires, 9 Other MacMurray Graduates Receive Scholarships

The high level of scholarship of this year's graduating class at MacMurray College is evidenced by the fact that scholarships, fellowships, interneships, and assistantships for study at the graduate level during the academic year 1956-57 have been awarded to ten members of the Class of 1956.

Three students have been awarded scholarships or fellowships.

Artis Elaine Simonson, of Mitchell, South Dakota, was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to the University of Munich, Munich, Germany, where she will study in the field of dramatic literature. The scholarship provides travel, living, and tuition expenses.

Jean Paik of Seoul, Korea, has been awarded a tuition scholarship with stipend at Iowa State University. She will continue her studies in piano.

Seven students have been awarded interneships or assistantships follow.

Beverly Ann Carver of Douglas, Wyoming, was awarded a graduate interneship at Harvard University in the Department of Education. She will teach part-time in the Cambridge public school system, under a Ford Foundation Grant, while studying for her Master's Degree. The award is for $1500.

Elizabeth Burris Edwards of Middleboro, Massachusetts, was awarded a graduate interneship at South Dakota State College, in the Department of Speech. It pays $1800.

Charlotte I. Noll, of Freeport, Illinois, has been awarded a graduate assistantship in Psychiatric Nursing and Nursing Education through the Mental Health Program of the State of Illinois. This is an all-expense plus monthly stipend award. Miss Noll will probably study at the University of Colorado.

Janet Pires Honored

Janet Elaine Pires of Jacksonville, Illinois, was awarded a research assistantship in micro-biology at the University of Chicago. Miss Pires is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Pires, of 308 Hardin Avenue, and a graduate of Jacksonville High School. This year at MacMurray she has been serving as assistant to Dr. Leplie Kanatzar in the fields of biology and physiology. At the University of Chicago, while working toward the Master's Degree, she will serve as assistant to Dr. Joseph Ceithaml, Professor in bacteriology.

Shirley Schmidtberger of Brentwood, Missouri, was awarded a graduate assistantship at MacMurray College, in the field of Clinical Phychology.

Clarissa L. Webber of Hamburg, New York, has been awarded a graduate assistantship at Michigan State University, in the Department of Political Science. Miss Webber will do administrative research and secretarial work on a Viet Nam project, while studying for a Master's Degree. The award is for $1600.

Frances Allen, Clyde V. Smith Wed Saturday

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the family home of the bride, Frances Claus Allen and Clyde V. Smith, both of this city, were united in marriage in a single ring ceremony performed by Rev. Gerald Miller, pastor of the Central Christian church.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Emily Claus, 1331 West College avenue and the late J. F. Claus. Mr. Smith is the son of Benjamin Smith of this city and the late Mrs. Bessie Smith.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Clovd Wilson of this city and Norman Gray, nephew of the groom, served as the attendants. Little Debbie and Linda Gray, daughters of Mrs. Lavora Gray and nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls for the informal ceremony attended by members of the immediate families.

A reception was held at the Claus home during which punch, mints and nutmeats were served with the traditional tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Wilson was in charge of the reception with her mother, Mrs. Claus, as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are on a wedding trip south through Louisiana, Mississippi and into Florida before returning to this city where they will make their home.

The bride, until two and one-half years ago, was associated for some time with Henry's Jewelry store in this city. Mr. Smith is an operating engineer at the City Water Plant.

Max Henderson, Pauline Garrett United Sunday

GREENFIELD—Max Henderson of Wood River and Miss Pauline Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Garrett, of Godfrey, were married Sunday afternoon, May 20, in Melville Congregational church near Godfrey. The candlelighted church was decorated with two pedestal bouquets of white flowers, palms and ferns.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Davis H. Toomey, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Baldes, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, were the couple's attendants. Mrs. Walter Collins, organist, played as the bridal party entered and left the church, and accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kruse, vocal soloist.

Miss Garrett wore a ballerina white lace gown over taffeta and a shoulder length veil secured by a crown of pearls. She carried a lace covered Bible overlaid with a white orchid and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. Baldes appeared in a frock of pink shantung and white accessories and wore a bandeau of sequins. She carried white daisies in a colonial type bouquet.

Reception in the social room of the church followed the wedding. Assisting in serving were the bride's sisters, Misses Sarah and Mary Garrett, Mrs. Joely Lively and Miss Shirley Sloan. The refreshment table was centered with a wedding cake flanked by white daisies and snap dragons.

Mr. Henderson, assistant manager of the Kroger store at Wood River and a graduate of Greenfield high school, has purchased the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. filling station in Greenfield and will take possession June 2. Miss Garrett, who also is employed by Krogers in Wood River, is a graduate of Alton high school.

They will reside in the Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cunningham residence on North Main street in Greenfield after a short wedding trip.

JACKSONVILLE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
by Edna Mason

Lucky winners in the Bulova watch contest at Henry's Jewelry Store are Jerri Beerup and Nelson Spaenhower. Every senior had his name on the face of a clock and then the clock was wound and when it ran down it stopped on Jerri and Nelson's name making them the winners of a Bulova watch.

Rose Morris, senior, received a diamond engagement ring from her one and only Don Anders this past week. Best wishes, Rose!

Friday, May 25, marked the date of the Senior Love Feast. It was held at 6:15 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. There were several amusing moments while the Class Will and Prophecy were read.

Also Friday evening the Sophomores had their class party at the Y.M.C.A., from 8 to 11 p.m. A good time was had by all.

Honor night was held Monday, May 21, in the high school auditorium. There was a large number receiving special honors.

Mary Lee McClintock was inducted into National Honor Society. Miss Mabel Ruyle, teacher of Spanish and French, presented the Spanish award to Judy Lukeman and the French award to Judy Potts and Barbara Dunlap. Jerry Adams received the math award from Miss Elsie Evans, math teacher.

Miss Elnore Stoldt, science teacher, presented certificates to 24 students for their project exhibited at the District Academy of Science, and 11 certificates to those who had projects exhibited at the State Meeting of Academy of Science. The Bausch and Lomb Award, presented each year to a senior who had done outstanding work in science for four years, went to Wanda Tipps.

Editors Bev Skinner and Charles Cleeland, Associate Editor Sandra Bahan and Jim Wallace, sports editor, received pins from Mr. Harold Hunsinger, their advisor. Miss Maurine Self, "J" advisor, presented pins to Judy Lukeman, Barb Gross, Sue Barton and Harriet Lee. Miss Gladys Rust, advisor of Ushers Club, presented pins to Kenneth Jording, Mary Lou Fisher and Shirley Horrer. Medals for third place honors won at the National Rifle Association meet at Washington University were presented by Kermit Reside to Andy Birdsell, Clark Arnold, Steve Wilson and Peter Hartley.

Several seniors have the special honor of having some of their work published in magazines. Those having poems recognized are Charles Cleeland, Judy Lukeman, Rose Sheeley, Betty Kehl and Sue Fohl. Essays recognized were Sandra Bahan, Rhoda Baker, Jon Cody, David Fischer, Sue Fohl, Betty Kehl, Rose Sheeley, Deanna Williams and Donna Abbott. These are all senior students of Miss Emma Mae Leonhard.

One of the most awaited days of the school year was Friday when our annual "J" was received. This year's color combination is gray with red. The theme of this year's book is "Life at JHS."

ROUTT HIGHLIGHTS
by Alicia Fitzpatrick

Graduation being near, many students have decided on careers.

Jimmie Devore, after visiting various colleges, has decided to attend Springfield Junior College. Jim will report for classes September 4. He will major in history and minor in physical education.

Karen Zell has accepted a partial scholarship and has completed all the transactions for admittance to MacMurray College. Karen plans a career of teaching kindergarten.

Jerry Regan has sent in his application to Illinois State Normal University and is now waiting final acceptance. Jerry will take a manual-training teaching course.

Arlene Weaver and Janet Henry are making plans to enter Illinois College in the fall. Both of them will take a general course.

Mary Sue Critchelow will take up nursing as a career. She is going to take a course in practical nursing in Chicago.

Paul Casler, in the near future, plans to join the army on the army six-months training and seven-and-half years reserve act.

Final examinations for Routt students will start Tuesday morning at nine thirty and continue till Friday afternoon. Following a regulation recently passed by the school board, no students except seniors will be exempt from these examinations.

Thursday afternoon three Senior girls enjoyed a luncheon given by the Kiwanis Club honoring the upper ten per cent of the two local high schools. Following the dinner, Mr. Bill Wade gave an interesting talk combined with color slides of the Ringling Brothers Circus in winter quarters in Florida. Representatives from Routt were Karen Zell, Margaret Cox and Mary Sue Critchelow.

Tuesday evening Dick Woodson, a Senior, was the guest of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a dinner held at the Dunlap Hotel. Dick was awarded first place trophy for winning the Teen-Age Rodeo held in April. He was also given the traveling trophy for Routt.

In an impressive ceremony, Dick awarded the traveling school trophy to Jerry Lewis, newly elected president of next year's student.

One of the treasured memories that the Seniors will long remember is the picnic given by Arlene Weaver, Sunday, May 20. The Seniors and their guests spent the day at Lake Springfield. Those attending were Frances Casey and Jim Burke, Mary Sue Critchedow and Paul Tillery, Alicia Fitzpatrick and Howard Johnson, Barbara Smith and Neal Dee, Becky Wagner and Jim Cosgriff, Margaret Cox and George Bossarte, Arlene Weaver and George Dee.

In final preparations for the long-awaited Senior trip, Mr. Lehner gave the last instructions in a Senior assembly Tuesday. The class leaves Monday morning and will return Thursday night.

Congratulations are in order for Barbara Smith and Judy Lair who won the beautiful Bulova watches given by Henry's Jewelry store. The lucky number for Barb was ten, for Judy nine.

Eighth Grade Grads Dance At YMCA Monday

Monday night, May 28, is the annual dance for the Junior High School eighth grade graduates and will be held as usual at the YMCA Youth Center.

Music for the dance from 7:30 to 10:45 will be furnished by Boots Brennan and his band. This year the students voted to be consistent in dress and accessories thereby the girls will not wear corsages as in the past.

ROODHOUSE ROTARY CLUB HEARS LEGION POST COMMANDER

ROODHOUSE—Mason F. Campbell, program chairman at Rotary Wednesday night, introduced Charles W. Brooks, local commander of the American Legion, who spoke of the origin and history of Memorial Day.

A report on the progress of the Little League teams was given by Henry Van Tuyle.

It was announced that there will be no meeting next week since that date falls on Memorial Day.

Crit Haneline and Dr. Robert Hartman were visiting Rotarians from Jacksonville.

JOB FOR PASTOR

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)— The concrete steps to the portico of the Horace Bushnell Congregational Church needed replacing, and that posed a twin problem for the trustees.

Where could they find a workman skillful enough not to mar the antique beauty of the Colonial style structure, and where would they get the money to pay for the job?

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Joseph Zezzo, solved both problems. A stone mason before he entered the ministry, he did the job for nothing.

Clara Hart First President Of New Club At Franklin

FRANKLIN — A new Women's Club called the "Auld Lang Syne Club" has bene organized in Franklin.

They held their first meeting at the Shamrock, Monday evening, with Mrs. Etta Tranbarger as hostess. A delicious fried chicken dinner and a social hour was enjoyed.

The following officers were chsoen: president, Mrs. Clara Hart; vice president, Mrs. Eula Bland; secretary, Mrs. Maude Wiley; treasurer, Mrs. Lulu Wright; historian, Mrs. Grace Bool; reporter, Miss Maude Anderton and Miss Grace Armstrong, sergeant at arms. Other members are the Misses Dorothy Brewer, Ruth Tulpin, Lou Duncan and Mrs. Etta Tranbarger, eleven in all. A handkerchief shower was given Mrs. Tranbarger on her birthday May 13.

Plan July 4th Fete

At the Franklin Lions club Monday evening further arrangements were made for the Fourth of July celebration. Clarence Kenny and James Adkins were appointed co-chairmen and a good program is being arranged.

The club will make the burgoo soup this year but other organizations will have an opportunity to have stands.

Miss Evelyn Seymour and her mother, Mrs. Nannie Seymour, were called to Hayfield, Minnesota, by the death of Mrs. Seymour's sister, Mrs. Hilma Hagen, last Thursday. They left on Saturday and will be gone for more than a week.

The Loyal Bereans of the Christian church met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Minnie Sweet. A delicious potluck supper was served. Eleven members were present and answered the roll call with the name of a bird mentioned in the Bible. Mrs. Essie Henderson led the devotions.

The Franklin Music club will meet at the Shamrock, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock (CST). The roll call will be answered with the names of the mothers of Famous Men.

The Franklin chapter O.E.S. celebrated guest night last Friday evening. Guests were there from Ashland, Waverly, Greenfield, Scottville, Modesto, Winchester and Chatham. Seventy five were present. Jessie Woolfolk of Scottville, Modesto was guest Worthy Matron and Joe Hankins of Waverly was guest Worthy Patron.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayes, Mrs. Pauline Leak and daughter, Carolyn, attended the New Berlin elementary school commencement Wednesday evening. John Crawford, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, received the highest award in the D.A.R. honors. There were 44 graduates, 22 boys and 22 girls.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cline are the parents of a son born at Our Saviour's Hospital Jacksonville, Wednesday morning. He has been named Garry Lee.

Mrs. Clara Hart attended the Spring meeting of the District 6 of the Illinois Welfare Association, held at Quincy last week.

Frank Feagel drove to Evansville, Ind., last Sunday and brought his wife home with him. She had been visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Calhoun for a week.

Clifford Ranson of Lee Center spent Wednesday and Thursday at his country home near Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Cowgur of Jacksonville, visited their cousins, the Misses Dorothy and Ruth Brewer the first of the week.

Mrs. Earl Oettle of Havana spent Wednesday afternoon with her aunt, Mrs. Sadie Wood.

Mrs. H. G. Duncan, who has been spending the winter months in Jacksonville, has returned to her home here and her brother, Earl Bradley of Muscatine, Iowa, is here with her.

Lightning struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McNeeley Monday morning. It set the house on fire but Mr. McNeeley was able to extinguish the blaze with a hose without calling the fire department. Very little damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seymour from South Pasadena, California, arrived here Wednesday for a visit with relatives and friends.

OES Degree For 3 New Candidates

Three candidates received the degree of the order from the regular officers at the meeting Thursday evening, May 24, of the Wilber Chapter 358, Order of Eastern Star at the Temple on West College avenue.

The candidates were Mrs. Thelma Mack, Mrs. Alta Henry and Ross Henry. Music was provided by vocalist, Mrs. Nan Milburn accompanied by Mrs. Inez Canatsey.

The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Lillian Heidinger, welcomed the new members and also the re-instatement of Ormond York. The response was made by the new candidates and much appreciated by officers and chapter members.

A Memorial Service was impressively conducted by Mrs. Edith Landreth assisted by Mrs. Vera Kinnett and Mrs. Dorothy Buchanan using lighted white tapers at the altar.

Pleasing refreshments were served during the social hour by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tucker, chairmen and their assistants, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Arnett and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hess.

Tells Sorority Of Music Box History

Mrs. Cora Littler told of the history of music boxes as Xi Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met with Mable Symmonds at her home on West Douglas avenue.

Ina Stewart, president of the chapter, presided at the business meeting and announced the committees for the coming year as follows: program, Bernita Dodson, Helen Isaac, Irene Lukeman; social, Alpha Quy, Ruth White, Lecie Hutchison; courtesy, Esther Ingoglia, Gladys Crawford; calling, Lola Johnson, Margaret Fitzpatrick; publicity, Alvahlee McCarthy; ways and means, Mable Symmonds, Helen Anderson; scrap book, Dona Floreth.

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. John May, sixteen music boxes of their collection were demonstrated by Mrs. Littler. Like many other items the very first music box went unheeded but Louis Favre is attributed with the first public showing and a little later (1789) Louis Jaccard, another Frenchman, exhibited boxes. Since these two people lived near the Swiss border the manufacture of such articles soon spread to Switzerland where Isaac Piquet began placing very small ones in watch cases.

From that time on music boxes appeared in many forms, but the first ones were gifts (in jeweled cases) presented to Royalty. The boxes contained a very delicate mechanism requiring precision construction and were the forerunner of the graphaphone using a cylindrical record. Many famous people, like Alec Templeton, have collected unique kinds and designs of these music boxes and they are shown in the museums of Europe.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Opal Waggoner of Winchester, Mrs. Erma Kruse and Mrs. Idella Suhre.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to close the meeting.

P.T.A. Banquet Honors Arenzville Grade Pupils

ARENZVILLE—A large crowd attended a P.T.A.-sponsored potluck supper here Thursday night honoring grade school athletes, cheerleaders and statisticians and competitors in the state music contest. Before the meal, the group sung the Doxology.

P.T.A. president Clyde Ginder conducted the program which followed the meal. Neal Hart, Jean Saylor and Robert Wessler sang vocal solos; a boys' quartet, Jerry Lovekamp, Neal Hart, Dale Strubbe and Robert Wessler, sang; and a woodwind trio, Neal Hart, Helen Kolberer and Robert Wessler, played.

Accompanists were Mrs. Harold Wessler and Miss Elizabeth Paul.

Alvin Heitbrink, grade school coach, awarded letters or ribbons to these athletes and cheerleaders for outstanding qualities and achievements:

Alvin Emerick and Jim Hall, managers.

Alvin Heitbrink, Mrs. Delmos Hierman, Miss Elizabeth Paul and James Brewster were guests of honor at the meeting.

During the P.T.A. business meeting, M. G. West installed these new officers: president, Mrs. George Bischoff; vice president, Mrs. Robert Clark; secretary, Mrs. Don Busen; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Kolberer.

Mrs. Bischoff appointed her committees for the coming year.

Mrs. Erma Schwendemann, Local Retired Teacher To Get Degree

Mrs. Erma Schwendemann of 818 South Main street will be among the graduates of MacMurray College on June 3 and will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in Education. Mrs. Schwendemann, who retired from the teaching profession in May of 1955, has spent many years during her 29 year long career completing her college work during summer school, evening classes and extension courses.

Erma Howard Schwendemann is a most determined person and during the years she taught school, 25 of which have been in Morgan county, she worked toward receiving her college degree. She has served as teacher, principal and superintendent in rural schools including Woodson in Morgan county, Curran in Sangamon and at Donnellson in Montgomery county, the latter her home town.

During her long teaching career Mrs. Schwendemann managed to raise her family and fulfill her obligations as a homemaker in addition to her college work. Credits for her degree were obtained by summer classes at MacMurray College which accumulated into a full three years work and also work at Greenville College, Greenville, Illinois.

ERMA HOWARD SCHWENDEMANN

the University of Missouri and Western State Teacher's College at Macomb.

Her husband is George Schwendeman who in 1953 retired after years of employment at the Illinois Steel Bridge company. They are the parents of three children, Mrs. Sally Ball of Rochester, Indiana; George Schwendemann of Long Beach, California, and Miss Theresa Schwendemann of Washington, D. C. They have one grandchild, Miss Penny Ball, formerly of Jacksonville and now of Rochester, Indiana. The family moved to Jacksonville from New Berlin in 1930.

She is a member of the Jacksonville Teacher's Reading Circle, the First Presbyterian church and its activities, the local branch of the AAUW and a former member of the Morgan County Association of Teachers and the Morgan County Principal's Association.

Mrs. Schwendemann will be 68 years young when she receives her Bachelor of Arts degree from MacMurray College and can look back with pride on her faithful and long career in the field of education and ahead in life with the satisfaction of a commendable achievement.

Waverly Girl Scouts Prepare For Summer Camp

WAVERLY — Intermediate Girl Scout troop 35 Friday held camp out in the clover field across from Mrs. Orland Brown's to fulfill one of the requirements before they go to Camp Shagbark J[illegible] 11-15.

Mrs. Dorotha Smith and Mrs. Mary Jean Mitchell assisted Mrs. Brown and all but Carol Ann Prather were present. The girls arrived about 4:30 and prepared supper and breakfast before returning to their homes.

Meeting, Shower Held

Wednesday afternoon the troop leaders and committee members of the Brownies and Girl Scouts met at the home of Mrs. Mary Jean Mitchell. The session was also a shower for Mrs. Paul Hardy and her new baby, Cheryl Louise.

Games were played and prizes went to [illegible] Graunke, Helen Jean Burnett, Jerry Miles and Lola Stubblefield. Mrs. Elizabeth Tribble and Mrs. Pat Walter sent gifts but were not present.

Refreshments of fruit salad, cake, mints, nuts and coffee were served to those present: Mrs. Jereldine Miles, Mrs. Bernita Bivin, Mrs. Wanda Brown, Mrs. Mary Lois Hierman, Mrs. Florence Colvin, Mrs. Lola Stubblefield, Mrs. Helen Jean Burnett, Mrs. Dorotha Smith, Mrs. Kitty Brown, Mrs. Mary Jean Mitchell and the guests of honor, Mrs. Florence Lee Handy and daughter Cheryl Louise of Waverly, Mrs. Billie Graunke and Mrs. Fran Chumley of Jacksonville, leaders at Brownie headquarters were also guests.

100 Reservations For '41 JHS Class Reunion

Over 100 reservations have been received for the reunion of the Jacksonville High School class of 1941, which is to be held June 23 at the Dunlap Hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., and will be followed by a short program and an evening of dancing. Bob Bradney, who was senior class president, will serve as toastmaster.

Letters have been sent to all members of the class whose addresses are available. Those who plan to attend are urged to mail their reservations as soon as possible to Mrs. Carol Coultas Lohman at Ashland, Ill.

Junior-Senior Prom Friday In Greenfield

GREENFIELD — The annual junior-senior prom was held in the high school gymnasium here Friday night. The gym was decorated in a French theme, with a sign at the entrance announcing "La Chambre Rouge" (the red room). One end of the gym was given to a mock French sidewalk cafe named "Le Petit Cafe."

Boots Brennan's orchestra from Jacksonville occupied the space under a canopy near the cafe. Of interest in the room was a huge crystal ball suspended from the ceiling in the center of the floor. The globe revolved, and was lighted by four spotlights.

The menu of turkey and trimmings was prepared and served by junior class mothers. Warren Neil Houlette was master of ceremonies. The Rev. S. W. Thornton gave the invocation and Bob Langley, president of the junior class gave the greetings.

The specialty number was entertainment similar to that you would find on a trip to Paris. First appeared the "French Can Can Girls," Linda Lee, Shelba Smith, Judy Metcalf, Margaret Longmeyer, Joan Meyers and Patsy Cole. A French song was sung by Danielle Paradise.

Two numbers, "Sentimental Journey" and "Garden In The Rain," were presented by a quartet of Marilyn Williams, Jackie Middleton, Ramona Houlette and Lynda Johnson. Richard Hutcheson played a trumpet solo, "September Song."

The senior class response was given by senior class president Cletus Roth. Bob Langley acknowledged the response and closed the program with an original poem.

At 10 p.m. the junior prophesy and senior will were read by John Longmeyer and Don Ferguson. Progressive parties followed the dance, and senior and junior class members assembled at the home of Judy Burkholder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Finice Doyle, for a snack lunch at 12:30 a.m.

Sherry Sousley and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Sousley, were hostesses at dancing in the recreation room and a dessert course was served at 2:30 a.m.

At 4:30 a.m. Raymona Houlette and her parents were hostesses at a French breakfast.

SHILOH W.S.C.S. MEETS THURSDAY WITH MRS. BROWN

The Shiloh W.S.C.S. met Thursday, May 24, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Edgar Brown, RR 1, Ashland. Mrs. Will Sorrill was assistant hostess.

Mrs. Cecil Wegehoft, assisted by Mrs. Vinton Bourn, conducted the devotions. Several communications were read and reports were presented.

Mrs. Vinton Bourn conducted the program, entitled "Why We Give." Roll call was a hanky exchange. The meeting closed with a benediction.

Mrs. Cecil Wegehoft had charge of recreation during the social hour and the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. Steinberg At Meredosia Systematic In News Writing

At Meredosia Mrs. Pauline Rice Steinberg systematically prepares the news coverage for this town of 1,000 people. This is her first venture into any formal writing or any type work other than household duties since completing her education. Mrs. Steinberg will have completed her first year as the Meredosia news correspondent this coming August.

Mrs. Steinberg has a routine system for covering organization meetings in her locality. If she does not personally attend a meeting the Meredosia reporter contacts the secretary or publicity chairman of such groups for details of the gatherings.

Mrs. Steinberg, her husband, W. G. Steinberg and family live just north of the Meredosia city limits. Mrs. Steinberg visits the business district almost every day, various days of the week she makes special trips for organizational coverage stories.

On her schedule for regular coverage are the Parent-Teachers Association, Lutheran Ladies Aid, Friendship Circle, Past Noble Grand club, American Legion and the Sportsman's Club.

MRS. W. G. STEINBERG

She is the mother of three children, Linda, who graduated from the Meredosia high school two years ago and is employed at the Morgan County Superintendent of Schools office in Jacksonville; Jo Ellen, who graduates this month from the Meredosia high school and Terry, 16, a junior at the Meredosia high school.

Resident Most Of Life

Mrs. Steinberg has spent most of her life in the Meredosia community, with short intervals of residence in Jacksonville and South Dakota, where she was born. She is the daughter of Luther and Bertha Brockhouse Rice. Her father died a few years ago and her mother lives alone in Meredosia. She has one brother living, Ralph, of Sault St. Marie, Ontario, Canada. Another brother, Ivan Rice, was killed while serving on a bombing mission over Germany during World War Two.

Other than her housework and caring for her family on their forty acres the Steinbergs have their own chickens and Mrs. Steinberg mothers some 13 cats and kittens, most of which are names suiting their "personalities." They did own one dog but his friendliness brought him to an untimely end with the help of an unresponsive passer-by.

PTA work has taken a good deal of the Meredosia correspondent's time in the past and she has served the organization as both president and secretary. She has also attended several meetings of the nearby Chambersburg PTA. She is active in the Girl Scouts and helps with their summer activities, is a 4-H leader and active in other community organizations.

Her favored hobby is reading which fills in any spare time she can accumulate. Her choice of reading matter ranges from daily newspapers to weekly and monthly magazines and books. She supplements her material by being a member of one of the more popular book clubs.

Although her family obligations have been demanding she has managed some traveling and visited her late brother Ivan in Idaho during his military training and also her other brother and family recently in Canada.

Mrs. Hudson, Recent Bride, Feted At Party

WHITE HALL — Mrs. Sammy Hudson, the former Carla English, a recent bride, was honored with a miscellaneous shower at her home on Thursday night, with thirty five guests attending.

An umbrella, in pastel colors, trimmed with garden roses centered the gift table. The honoree received many lovely gifts, some sent by those unable to attend.

Bunco was played with Crystal White winning floating prize; Marian Edwards, bunco; Meda Hayes, high; Hazel Deavers, low and Melba Hoseman, door prize. Hostesses for the party were Ivamae Dickerson, Pansy McCarthy, Ruth Brant, Lena Hudson, Crystal White, Lela Hubbard and Dorothy M. Young.

Refreshments of salted nuts, cake and iced tea were served. Out of town guests were Mrs. Nelle Lloe and Mrs. Ilda Potts, Santa Ana, California, Mrs. Nona Frye and two grandsons and Mrs. Ruby Denny, Roodhouse.

Shewmaker Gets Appointment

The Laclede Christy Company announced that J. D. Shewmaker an employee of the White Hall Sewer Pipe and Stoneware Co. for fifteen years prior to the sale to the present company, has been appointed general superintendent of both the Sewer Pipe and Drain Tile plants in this city and the Blackmer Sewer Pipe Plant in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Shewmaker will continue to reside here but part of his time will be spent in the St. Louis offices. Leonard Hart has been chosen to replace Shewmaker and a new applicant is being sought for Hart's position as sales correspondent. The changes are expected to take place June 1st.

New Brownie Troop

Twenty girls were invested into the Brownies and their troop given the number 62 at ceremonies held at the American Legion Home on May 17. The girls had met their requirements of attending four meetings and having paid their national registration fees.

Mrs. Richard Pilkington, Mrs. Roy Hutton and Mrs. C. K. Darrow are leaders of the troop and Mrs. Darrow read the Brownie story in which children discover they can be helpful Brownies in their own home.

A ceremony followed with each new Brownie receiving her pin. A short business session preceded and refreshments.

Those inducted into the troop were Nancy Jo Andrews, Judy Bishop, Rama Camerer, Carolyn Kay Castleberry, Ruth Darrow, Carol Easter, Shirley Ann Gant, Adeline Griffith, Machelle Hawkins, Kathy Hutton, Alice Marie Jackson, Rose Ellen Jackson, Anita Kellar, Linda Pilkington, Sherry Pilkington, Beverly Lynn Savage, Linda Schoon, Judy Seymour, Linda Stone, Verna Sullivan, and Linda Kay Renner. (who was ill and will be invested at the next meeting).

Much Action At Municipal Airport; Visitors Welcome At Any Time

Dedication of the Jacksonville Municipal Airport two weeks ago, with thousands of visitors attending the program and displays, touched off new interest in aviation in this community.

Jack Geils, manager, said Saturday there has been a pickup in the number of visitors every day. The Muny Airport is operated by the Byerly Airlines.

"All the people in this area are welcome to visit the Airport at any time" Geils stated.

A number of planes arrive and depart from the Airport each day. There is always activity around the runways and hangars.

Robert Tracy, sales representative of Prairie Farms Dairy, rented a Piper Tri-Pacer at the airport and made a tour through many southern states for the company. He covered seven states in four and one-half days. Tracy said that flying is their only salvation for covering such a large territory in only a few days.

A newcomer to Jacksonville, Miss Virginia Shepard, who has her private pilot license, flew to Russell, Kansas, and returned last weekend. She made the trip in the Piper Tri-Pacer.

New students who have started flight training are Merle D. Swain, Ashland; Dave Hill of Hills Radio & TV, and Robert Gross, veterinarian from Virginia.

Jack Hoecker, local gasoline distributor, saved the day last Sunday when he made a special trip to furnish the airport with aviation gasoline. The twelve Stearmans that made Jacksonville a refueling stop, plus all the other aircraft needing service, depleted the gasoline supply. Hoecker went to the rescue with an additional 1285 gallons of gas.

New aircraft based at the airport are a four-place Stinson owned by Allen Smith, Jr. of New Berlin, and a Taylorcraft recently purchased by Ronald Lockard of Ashland.

Register Now For Red Cross - YMCA Swimming Lessons: First Course Deadline Is Tuesday

Again this year and perhaps for the last time the American Red Cross and the YMCA will sponsor a swimming program this summer at the Nichols Park Pool. Both of these organizations spend much time, money and effort in developing and administering this program with the cooperation of the Park Board in donating the use of the pool.

Since both groups receive support from the free-will contributions of the community and nation and during the past few years neither has received sufficient funds to budget adequately the swimming program is in jeopardy for next year.

In addition to Jacksonville and Morgan county residents for the first time applications will be accepted from Greene county but should be processed through the Red Cross office in Carrollton.

There will be 10 lessons in each of the four courses which will be conducted Monday through Friday mornings. The requirement for speedswimming, diving and water ballet, if under 12 years of age, the child must have passed the swimmers test and if over 12 passed lifesaving.

Applications from Morgan residents will of course be accepted first. Out of county applications will be held in reserve. No late registrations will be accepted for any of the courses. Applications for Course One must be received on or before Tuesday, May 29. Registrations will be closed on the Wednesday preceding each course. Applicants are warned to register for one course only. Your child will be given an opportunity to swim in a succeeding course if space permits.

Basic Water Safety Rules

1. Pick a safe place to swim. Swim only at protected pools and beaches, and obey those warning signs. Never swim alone. There's security as well as fun in numbers. Make sure there's a qualified lifeguard present at all times.

2. Don't misjudge your swimming ability. Especially if you're a once-a-year swimmer with short breath and unconditioned muscles. Know how far you can swim under various weather and water conditions. Then keep within these safe limits.

3. Never dive into unknown water. You might literally end up a "stick in the mud." Before you dive, test the depth of the water and check the condition of the bottom. Look out for dangerous rocks, broken bottles, sharp tin cans. Keep away from weeds, grass and lily pads too. They're dangerous entanglements. You can't tell current drag from the surface. Be sure to check this before swimming. And if you happen to get caught in a strong current swim across it, never against it.

4. Rest, relax and cool off after hard exercise before you go swimming. Plunging into cold water when fatigued or overheated increases your blood pressure and might cause your muscles to cramp.

5. Don't be a water show-off. Horseplay in the water is about as funny as a broken bone.

6. Avoid swimming in heavy surf or under a waterfall. Aside from its strong pull this kind of water is aerated and thus lighter, less able to support your body.

7. Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. Pick your distance. Make sure it's a shorter stretch than you usually swim.

8. Beware of water wings, old inner tubes, rafts and inflated rubber or plastic animals. These objects frequently spring leaks. There's also the danger that children might ride them into deep water and fall off them.

9. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. And if you're in a boat that overturns, hang onto it as it will float. Don't dive off a small boat. It might tip and spill your companions. Or you might come up under the hull and injure yourself seriously. Instead, slide into the water. If you're alone swim with a grip on the tow line. And never overload a boat. If the hull is more than a third under water your boat is carrying too much weight.

10. Don't take a sailboat out unless you are a good swimmer and understand sailing. Landlubbers cause many accidents. A chance wind can take you miles away from help. And the inexperienced sailor always runs the risk of overturning his boat.

11. Avoid swimming during electrical storms. Stay out of open boats; keep off beaches and fields. Don't take shelter under trees, either. If exposed it's best to lie flat on the ground. Safest places during electrical storms are houses, autmobiles, under steel bridges.

12. When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the person with a pole, with clothing or a rope. Of throw him something buoyant. Don't try to be a swim-rescue hero unless it is the only way and you're a strong swimmer skilled in the knowledge of lifesaving.

13. Last, and most important of all: if you're in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Cramps don't cause drowning—panic is the danger. Cling to an overturned boat or some buoyant object. Comparatively small things will support you in the water if you just keep calm and take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. It's actually harder to sink than to stay up.

In short, Warren Flower, YMCA executive secretary states, "make water safety a regular family habit this summer. Then you can forget all about rules and just have good fun—and good health—every time you go swimming."

Schedule For Courses

Course One, June 4-15. Beginners, intermediates, swimmers, junior (12-15 years) Lifesaving and seniors (16 years and up) Lifesaving.

Course Two, June 18-19. Beginners, intermediates, swimmers, junior (12-15 years) lifesaving and seniors, (16 years and up) lifesaving.

Course Three, July 2-13, beginners, swimmers, junior (12-15) lifesaving, seniors (16-up) lifesaving, speed swimming, water ballet and diving, adult night class (beginners, intermediates, swimmers and lifesaving).

Course Four, July 16-27, beginners, intermediates, swimmers, speed swimming, water ballet and diving, adult night classes (beginners, intermediates and swimmers).

A form for application will be on the Journal Courier Sports pages whenever space permits or may be obtained at either the Morgan County Red Cross Chapter or the YMCA. Forms have area.

GREENFIELD — A special meeting of Order of Eastern Star Chapter 424 was held Wednesday night for initiation of candidates. A social hour followed and chairmen, Mrs. Jesse Wilhite, Mrs. Hilbert Becker, Mrs. Grant Melvin, Mrs. Elta Wagner and Miss Minnie Wagner were members of the hostess committee.

Quite a few members of the O.E.S. accompanied a group of young girls to a meeting at Palmyra Tuesday evening in the interest of organizing "Rainbow Girls" in Greenfield.

Personals

Mrs. William Frank Parks, Mrs. Grover L. Bauer, Mrs. C. B. Guy and Jesse B. Parks attended the regional meeting of the Illinois Library Association in Highland Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luketich and son John Luketich of Roxana and Coach and Mrs. Don Luketich and children Craig, Stan and Claire Ann of Bradford were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Shields. Coach Luketich has resigned as athletic director of Bradford high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cole have received word that their son, Sgt. David Cole and Mrs. Cole and son Steven, who have been stationed in Toul, France, the past year, visited Holland during the annual tulip festival and would also spend 10 days in England on a vacation trip.

Mrs. Loretta Doyel, who was called to Chattanooga, Tenn., several weeks ago because of the critical illness of her son-in-law, Darrell P. Hamilton, a former resident of this city, returned home Wednesday. Mr. Hamilton's condition shows gradual improvement.

PITTSFIELD BOOT, SADDLE CLUB HORSE SHOW JUNE 13, 14

PITTSFIELD — The Pittsfield Boot and Saddle Club will present its annual horse show, with the Knights of Columbus co-operating, on two nights this year, June 13 and 14, on its own show ring near Pittsfield High School.

Albert McGinnis is general manager of the event, and with his committees from both organizations is busy making preparations for a "better than ever" show.

Working with McGinnis from the Boot and Saddle club are Noble Harrison, Ed Lowry, Otto Hoerline and John Sutter, and from the Knights of Columbus are Stewart Landess Jr., Al Wuellner, Leo Hayes and Levi Morin.

The committees have secured the services of Temple Stephens of Moberly, Mo., as judge of the show. W. L. McGinnis of Beardstown will be the announcer and Otto Hoerline of Griggsville will serve as ring master.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS NAMED

CARROLLTON — Miss Linda Owens of the Carrollton Community Unit high school and Miss Janet Blackstone of the Carrollton Community Unit grade school were the winners in the essay contest sponsored by the local American Legion. Both essays will be entered in the district essay contest.

Miss Owens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Owens and is a sophomore. Miss Sue Snidle, also a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Snidle won second place honors and third honors went to Miss Clara Reif, a junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reif.

Miss Blackstone is an 8th grade pupil and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackstone. Second place honors in grade school competition went to Miss Connie Gourley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gourley, who is also an 8th grade pupil.

TRAFFIC TROUBLE

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)— While Richard E. Arms, city-county planner, was attending a meeting on how to move traffic by state toll roads, his car was tagged for obstructing traffic.

Police Officer James F. Vesely called a wrecker to tow away Arm's car, and Arms paid Traffic Sgt. Charles E. Berve a $5 fine.

Pack For Routt Senior Trip

ALICE FITZPATRICK AND LINDA CASEY

Two of the Routt high school senior girls are pictured above packing for the Routt high school annual senior class trip starting Monday. Alicia Fitzpatrick offers suggestions to Linda Casey as to what will or will not fit properly in her luggage. The seniors have all been very busy getting ready for this highlight trip of their high school days to start at six o'clock Monday morning when they board a chartered Trailways bus in the city.

The class will be chaperoned by Father Tracey, Principal and Mrs. George Lehner and Coach Larry Zitkus.

En route to the Eastgate Hotel in Chicago, their home for the four day visit to the Windy City, the group will visit the Brookfield Zoological Gardens and have lunch before touring the Zoo. They expect to arrive at the hotel at 3 p.m. After dinner Monday evening at the Hotel they will tour Chicago by bus.

Tuesday after breakfast the group will visit and tour the Merchandise Mart and enjoy shopping in the Loop. In the evening they will have dinner and dance at the Martinique and at ten in the evening tour the Midway Airport before returning to the Hotel.

Wednesday will be a full day of tour and inspection of the Ghetto Market, Chinatown, Field Museum, Sheed Aquarium and Planetarium and visit to the Cabrini Shrine and St. Peter's church.

After dinner in the evening the group will attend the theatre, cruise on the bus and other planned activities. Thursday morning after checking out of their hotel the assembly will visit the Museum of Science and Industry and have four o'clock dinner at Surma's fam restaurant in Homewood. They expect to arrive in Jacksonville tired but happy at 11:30 p.m. Thursday night

Waverly Natural Gas System Wins F.P.C. Approval

WAVERLY—The Federal Power Commission, in an order issued Friday, May 18, granted final approval for the construction of a municipal gas system in Waverly and at the same time issued an order to the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company to supply this community with natural gas for the operation of such a system.

An FPC examiner approved the Waverly application, along with about 50 others, several weeks ago. Objections were filed to a certain number of the gas pleas listed on this blanket approval. No objection, however, was made to supplying Waverly with gas. Gas attorneys for this community immediately went to work to get Waverly removed from the larger group. In last week's order, the power commission removed Waverly and 11 other applicants to whom there had been no objection, and ordered the sale of natural gas to these dozen communities.

The Waverly order calls for the installation of a distribution system and a lateral supply line one half mile in length which will connect the local system with the main Panhandle line.

Cost of this construction is to be financed by the issue and sale of gas revenue bonds. It is estimated that Waverly's daily peak requirements after three years of operation will be 644,000 cubic feet of gas, which is the maximum daily amount to be delivered to this community by Panhandle.

The presiding examiner spoke highly of the revenue bond program which has been set up for retiring the debt incurred in installation of the Waverly gas system.

The order adds that Panhandle is to notify the Commission on the date that gas service begins in this community. The final paragraph of the order states that the Waverly gas system shall be in operation within one year from the date of the order. Failure to complete the operation within the allotted time and without showing good cause shall relieve Panhandle of its obligation to sell gas to Waverly.

The contract has been granted for the construction work, which will commence immediately upon the sale of the revenue bonds which are to finance the project. Four bond houses recently agreed to buy the entire lot of $250,000, providing local citizens would purchase $150,000 worth of the bonds.

They granted two weeks for the local persons to act and that time elapsed without action here. These bonding companies have accordingly requested that their deposit checks be refounded. Attorneys representing Waverly in this matter are now negotiating with other bonding companies in an effort to market the local certificates and get operations started here as quickly as possible.

Carrollton Lions Name C. Blines Jr. New President

CARROLLTON—Charles Blines Jr. was elected president of the Carrollton Lions club at the annual election of officers held Thursday evening at the regular dinner meeting of the club in the Presbyterian church.

Other officers elected were: Richard McLane, first vice president; Charles Hartman, second vice president; Harold Cunningham, third vice president; Clarence Horn, secretary; T. Hough, treasurer; Dr. C. E. Whiteman, lion tamer; and Barton Scowley, tail twister. Everett Mehl and Fran Sears were elected to the board of directors for a term of one year and Robert Schacher and Kenneth Ross were elected for two years.

The attendance prize was won by L. P. Simpson. The Rev. Robert Pitsch, pastor of the local Methodist church, was a guest of the club.

Shurtleff President Speaks

Dr. Roland Turnbull, the president of Shurtleff College, Alton, was the guest speaker at the annual student tea sponsored by the women of the local Baptist church and given in honor of the 1956 graduating class of the Carrollton Unit High School.

The soloist for the program was Miss Nancy Pierson, a student at the college, who was accompanied at the piano by one of the students of the music department of the college. Dr. Turnbull was introduced to the group by Mrs. Evelyn Todd, the president of the Missionary Society of the Baptist church.

In addition to the members of the graduating class there were present the mothers of the students and the members of the faculty of the schools in the Carrollton Community School Unit and their husbands and wives.

Following the program refreshments were served in the church dining room from a tea table decorated in the school colors of green and white. The pourers were Mrs. J. J. Sharon, Mrs. Eva Robinson, Mrs. Glenn Manis and Mrs. R. L. Scott.

Marriage Licenses

Two marriage licenses were issued May 24 in the office of County Clerk Dwight Conrad. One was issued to James F. Lister and Miss Carolyn Taylor both of White Hall.

The other was to Delbert Voyles of Roodhouse and Miss Shirley Crum of Hillview.

Altrusa Guest

MISS SCHIMPELER

Miss Marie Schimpeler will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Altrusa Club May 28.

Miss Schimpeler is secretary-treasurer of the Vogt Roller Company of Louisville, Kentucky. She is past president of the Louisville Altrusa Club, has served as first Vice Governor of Third District and Chairman of International Relations Committee of Altrusa International. At present she is Governor of the Sixth District of which the Jacksonville Club is a member.

Buys Murray Motors

Richard Bendorf of Trenton has purchased the Murray Motors garage and has secured the Ford dealership for Ashland. Mr. Bendorf took over the middle of this week. The garage will be known as Bendorf Ford Sales.

Mr. Bendorf has been affiliated with Ford dealers for 17 years. He is married and has three sons, Allen 6, Robert 9, and Richard 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Bendorf and sons and Mrs. Bendorf's mother, Mrs. Emalie Tragessor, will move here on June 2, when a house will be available. Meanwhile, Mr. Bendorf is staying at the Homer Lewis home.

The back shop of the garage is being decorated by Jesse Bennett now. A grand opening will be held in about three weeks.

Curriculum Committee To Meet

The Curriculum committee of the Ashland Community survey on Education will meet Monday, May 28, at the high school at 7:30 (CST). Mrs. Hazel R. Meyer is chairman of this group and urges all of her committee members to attend and anyone who cares to join this group is cordially welcome. T. J. Fitzgibbon, guidance consultant of the California Test Bureau will speak.

Recommendations made by the curriculum committee and voted on by them and the steering committee of the Ashland School Survey on Education are: 1. that a full-time music teacher be secured as soon as possible; 2. that a driver's training course be made available as soon as possible; 3. that a definite day be set aside on the school calendar for parent-child-teacher consultations, that 10 or 15 minutes be allotted to each child at a definite time of day and that the parents shall accompany the child to school at that time to discuss the conduct and progress of the child with the teacher, that the possibility of an aptitude, not I.Q., testing program be investigated; 4. that a full day be set aside on next year's school calendar for the teachers to visit other schools; 5. that the possibility of a required speech course be investigated; 6. that the possibility of an industrial arts course in the future be considered.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took its worst beating this week since the week of Sept. 25—the week of the first reaction to President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $7.90 to $177.40. Following Eisenhower's attack it fell $8.20 in the week.

The average is now $114.10 below the record high which it reached on April 6 but it was still $5.80 above its low for this year reached Jan. 23.

It had lost more than two-thirds of the rise from January to April.

As the week began, the Wall Street analysts said that the market could be expected to test its low points on the charts to see whether prices would either crash through and establish new lows from which a rally could eventually develop or whether they would rebound immediately.

The averages definitely broke through and established new lows.

From the technician's viewpoint, it could take one or two more sessions to reach an absolute bottom of the market and then a good rally might be in order.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were General Motors off 1⅝ at 41 on 189,600 shares, Standard Oil (New Jersey) off 1¾ at 55⅝, U.S. Steel off 2⅜ at 53¾, Fruehauf Trailer off 1⅝ at 32 and Royal Dutch off 1 at 104⅝.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were Kroy Oils up 5-16 at 2⅜ on 826,900 shares, British Petroleum Co. off ¼ at 20¼, Cuban-Venezuela Oil voting trust off at 2, Burma Mines off 1-16 at 15-16 and Webb & Knapp unchanged at 2¼.

EXPANDING HARVEST BRINGS BIG DROP IN WHEAT PRICES

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures greeted an expanding harvest in the Southwest with a price decline on the board of trade this week.

The market looked a little sloppy on several occasions early in the week and on Friday it looked just plain sick. That was the day when the biggest losses were recorded.

Among other cereals old crop soybeans suffered wide declines. Oats, rye, new crop corn and new crop soybeans also fell, largely because of Friday's weakness. Lard was very weak.

Wheat finished 5-1⅛6¼ lower for the week, old crop corn ½ lower to ¼ higher, new crop corn 1½-1⅝ lower, oats 1¼ to 2 cents lower, rye 3¼-4¾ lower, soybeans 3½-12¾ lower and lard 72 to 90 cents a hundred pounds lower.

The drop in wheat was associated with increasing arrivals of new crop wheat at southwestern terminals. This movement could be expected to expand in coming weeks.

Old crop soybeans fell because of easiness in soybean oil and disappointment over the failure of much talked about foreign buying of bean oil to develop.

Rye went down with wheat. Promising crop prospects sent oats and new crop corn lower.

NEW OREGON BOWLING MARK

ALBANY, Ore. (AP)—A new Oregon state bowling record for women was set by 21-year-old Gloria Johnson in her third year of bowling. Gloria put together scores of 254, 235 and 195 for a series of 684.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (AP) —Unofficial estimated livestock receipts for Monday: cattle 21,000; hogs 9,000; sheep 2,000.

WINDSWEPT WAVES—It would happen that the first time in two years that a formal service-whites inspection was called at the Naval Air Station, Hutchinson, Kan., a baby nor'easter whipped across the quarterdeck (airfield) and snafued the proceedings. As seen in photo the WAVE detachment lost some of its military bearing. In rear row, Ruth Early, of International Falls, Minn., straight-arms her skirt to keep it from blowing aloft. Next to her, Fannie Scott, of Birmingham, Ala., has lost her hat (arrow) while Katherine Kofer, of Allentown, Pa., clutches hers in unmilitary desperation. The hat of Nanette Wilson, of Rock Hill, S.C., has already gone with the wind.

Indonesia's Sukarno Visits Lincoln's Tomb

At the Garrett Tolan farm near Petersburg, Sukarno inspected Mr. Elleen Mere, a 4-year-old champion bull, and other Angus cattle. Sukarno's son Guntur was shown a 2-year-old Shetland pony.

Then the motorcade brought the official party to New Salem State Park. The Indonesian President went through the Ann Rutledge tavern where Lincoln lived at one time.

PARILLI TOUTS CRANWELL

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Billy Cranwell of Virginia Tech may be the finest football quarterback in the South next autumn.

That's the opinion of Vito (Babe) Parilli, the former University of Kentucky quarterback who now plays with the Cleveland Browns.

"Cranwell has the ability," says Parilli, who coached the Tech quarterbacks in spring drills. "He can run and throw, and he can call plays exceptionally well. Above all, he's a hard worker and is constantly striving for perfection.

"There is absolutely no comparison between the Cranwell of 1954 and the Cranwell of 1956. He has made tremendous improvement in every phase of the game."

Cranwell is a 6 foot junior from Richlands, Va.

FROM SEMINARY TO RACE TRACK

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Many boys change their minds about what they want to do in life, but few go to such extremes as Johnny Damien.

He studied three years for the priesthood. Now he's riding race horses.

Damien attended St. Anthony's Seminary in Three Rivers, Que., after going to grade school in his native Windsor, Ont. After giving up the idea of becoming a priest, his size of 105 pounds led him to try to be a jockey.

He bought a standardbred filly and rode her for practice. Then he came to the United States to work for Trainer William Zakoor.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!

Babe Ruth never won the triple-crown championship but he frustrated more potential winners than anyone else. Ruth, according to the current issue of The Packard Sports Library, balked everyone else in 10 different seasons by grabbing the home run jewel for himself. In two other seasons, 1918 and 1931, Ruth tied for the home run leadership.

...ly to his kapiah, the fez-like headgear most of the party wore. The President beamed when the scouts returned the salute, then he proceeded to sign autographs.

Saturday's tour ended with a visit to Lincoln's Springfield home. The President will be the guest of honor Saturday night at a formal dinner in the governor's mansion. He leaves for Detroit early Sunday.

If War Comes

At high altitude at which the bomb was released permitted the B52 to streak away at least 15 miles from the point of burst.

Nichols gave no details of how the low-level attack would be executed—or if he did it was one of the many portions deleted from the transcript before publication.

The destructive effect of a 10-megaton bomb exploding at the surface is enormous. The fireball alone expands to a diameter of three miles. Heat, measured in tens of thousands of degrees, instantly vaporizes any material it touches.

Aircraft caught in the fireball would vanish in a fraction of a second. Even planes in stout hangers two miles from one of the twin H-bomb blasts would be destroyed, along with the hangars. Stoutly built headquarters buildings, with concrete-steel walls almost a foot thick would vanish. Residual radioactivity, aggravated by the presence of dust from the ground burst, would make the area untenable for days.

ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin and family of Sherman, Texas, will arrive in Roodhouse for a visit with his mother, Mrs. C. L. Gleason and husband, and her mother, Mrs. Eliza Roper.

Mrs. Ethelyn Cuddy, who observed her birthday anniversary Wednesday, was surprised when her room mothers, Mrs. James Ferguson and Mrs. William Admire, gave a party in her honor late in the afternoon at Washington School. Assisting the mothers wore all of the pupils of room (4A), who helped plan the party. Refreshments of ice cream and cupcakes bearing candles were served to all and Mrs. Cuddy, teacher, was presented with a large anniversary cake, a gift and cards from the children.

Mrs. James Branson and family visited over the weekend in the homes of her brothers, Edward and Jim DeShasier of Paxton. Mr. Branson is employed as a civilian instructor at Chanute Field, and he and his family expect to move to Paxton June 10. Paxton is north of Chanute Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hughes of Farmington, Mo., have returned home after a visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry McDonald and husband. On Tuesday, the group spent sometime on a tour of Hannibal, Mo., including the Mark Twain cave.

THE MULCH THE BERRIER—Plastic film used as a strawberry mulch on the Ishabashi Brothers ranch in Torrence, Calif., has reduced fruit losses due to mold rot by 75 to 85 per cent. The "magic carpet" of plastic film, made from Bakelite polyethylene, was used on the Ishibashis' 12-acre, 300,000-plant strawberry fields at a cost of 0.7 cents per plant. If one berry per plant is saved over the three-year period the film is left down, it more than pays the cost. One end of the 34-inch wide film is buried at the head of the row and the roll is attached to an improvised jig on the back of a medium tractor, top left. Workers follow behind the tractor to tuck the film in place, and then, with razor blades, cut small slits in the film over the plants, top right. The leaves of the plants are lifted up through the holes, bottom left, and six weeks later, plant following age covers the plastic enough to hold it down permanently, bottom right.

4-H Club Activities

Joyce Corbin, reporter.

Berea Girls 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Becker, with Jeanne Cass and Nyla Strawmatt as hostesses. The minutes of the meeting were read by Phyllis Stuart. The club voted to donate $10 for the camp fund and $10 to the Berea church.

The members who gave talks were Linda Zeller, "Cleanliness In the Kitchen;" Phyllis Stuart, "Experience at 4H Camp." A demonstration was given on How to Arrange a Scarf.

Mrs. Becker showed the members how to measure the amount of material to buy for their skirts. Carolyn Becker gave a demonstration on how to use the seam gauge.

Three more girls joined the club and made the total membership 19.

The Berea Girls 4-H Club met at the home of Karen and Joyce Fitzsimmons. The meeting was called to order by vice president Nyla Strowmatt and pledges to the flags were given.

The minutes of the meeting were read and approved. Karen Fitzsimmons gave a demonstration on "Table Settings" and Nyla Strowmatt and Jennie Cass gave a demonstration on "Good and Bad Table Manners."

Talks were given by Karen Fuchs on "Selection of Material for My Skirt and Scarf" and by Joyce Fitzsimmons on "Good Tools for Sewing." Carolyn Becker gave a talk on "Things to Know Before You Buy Your Material."

Recreation was in charge of Joyce Corbin and Judy Bloomfield. Mary Williams sang a solo. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Jacksonville Evening Unit of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau was entertained at the home off Mrs. Fred Carter west of the city May 17.

The meeting was called to order by the unit chairman, Mrs. Carter, who led the pledge to the flag.

The major lesson, "Wood Floors and Suitable Finishes" was given by Mrs. Carroll Houston and Mrs. Herman Brunk. They showed samples of different woods and ways of finishing.

After a short recreation period conducted by Mrs. Edward Scott the selected subject, "Oven Meals" was presented by Mrs. Rollyn Trotter. She prepared and served an oven dessert of peach pudding. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite flower.

Reports were given by the treasurer, 4-H chairman and membership chairman. The 4-H chairman reported a new 4H club sponsored by the unit with Mrs. Ted Fairburn and Mrs. Henry Peters, as leaders.

The club members and their mothers will be guests at the July meeting, time and place to be announced later.

Four new members were present: Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Frances Willner, Mrs. T. R. Howe Jr. and Miss Whiteside.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rollyn Trotter, 852 Grove street. After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Hunt.

The May meeting of the Asbury Home Bureau was held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lonergan. The chairman, Mrs. Ray Bourn, called the meeting to order and the pledge to the flag was read by Mrs. Harry Driver.

The Home Adviser, Miss Hazel Graves, gave the major lesson, Materials and Fabrics, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. C. J. Lonergan gave a report on hospital nurses training.

In place of the selected subject Mrs. R. H. Davidsmeyer and Mrs. Frank Wolfe favored the group with piano duets. The song of the month, The End of a Perfect Day, was sung by all, led by Mrs. Butler and accompanied by Mrs. R. H. Davidsmeyer.

Routine business was conducted and roll call was to name one's favorite flower. The highlights of the board meeting were read by Mrs. Harry Bourn. Mrs. W. C. Carter gave a health report, Cheer Up and Live Longer.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

ARENZVILLE—The Arenzville Busy Bees 4-H Club met Friday, May 18, in the homemaking room of the high school at 8 p.m.

Suggestions for methods to raise money for the 4-H camp fund were discussed; the group decided to hold an ice cream social.

Hostesses for meetings during the rest of the year were named.

Talks and demonstrations were given by Pam Wessler on sandwich making and wrapping, Ann Dober on how to make a grain line, Deborah Clark on how to measure dry and liquid ingredients correctly and Shirley Hansmeier on health activities.

Deborah Clark also played a piano solo, "The Bells Of St. Mary."

Refreshments were served, and games and group singing occupied the social hour at the end of the meeting.

Among the triple-crown champions, Ty Cobb won with the fewest homers, 9; Heinie Zimmerman had the smallest runs-batted-in total, 106; and Ted Williams the lowest batting average, .343, reports the current issue of The Packard Sports Library

Southern Baptists Map Program To Cope With Growth

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Southern Baptists, already stretching from coast to coast and well into the North, put their heads together this week to ease some of their growing pains.

Representatives of the denomination's 30,377 churches in 26 states will be asked to spend more money, open new institutions and revamp some of its organizations and programs to cope with expanding activities.

An estimated 15,000 messengers, as those attending are termed, are expected to register for the annual sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention and its affiliated groups which begin Sunday and continue through Saturday.

The SBC will hold its first meeting Wednesday. Its auxiliary, the Women's Missionary Union begins a three-day meeting Sunday. The Pastors Conference holds sessions Monday and Tuesday.

An international touch will be given proceedings by the arrival Tuesday of five Russian Baptist leaders now in this country who will be received by the SBC as fraternal messengers.

SBC problems arise mainly from growth of the denomination. Formed by Southern Baptists in 1845 after they split with Northern Baptists over the slavery question, it is no longer a purely regional group.

Its more than 30,000 churches claim a membership of 8,474,741. Each church may send from one to 10 messengers to the convention.

Wisconsin GOP Endorses Davis Over Sen. Wiley

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rep. Glenn R. Davis, Waukesha Republican, was endorsed on the third ballot by the Wisconsin Republican Convention Saturday for nomination to the U.S. Senate over veteran Alexander Wiley who has served three terms. The vote was Davis 1,795, Wiley, 481.

The convention then by unanimous approval declared it a nomination by acclamation by the convention's 2,564 delegates.

Wiley, who was 72 Saturday had left the convention floor before the final vote was taken, and apparently was aware that sentiment was against him. He is an ardent supporter of President Eisenhower.

Later he said he definitely would continue in the race — that he would seek the nomination in the September primary despite loss of convention endorsement.

Asked if he thought he had been deserted by the organization, Wiley said "these people have not deserted me. They have not been with me for a good many years."

Midwest Demos To Meet, Map Farm Program

DES MOINES (AP) — Democratic leaders of 13 Midwest states will meet in Des Moines June 9 to formulate farm program proposals for presentation to the Platform Committee of the Democratic National Convention.

Jake More of Iowa, chairman of the Democratic Midwest Conference said Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Kerr (D-Okla) will address the sessions.

LOCKS TO REMAIN

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Don't worry, folks. Barring a catastrophe, the famed Soo locks will still be here next time you drive by.

That's the reply of the Chamber of Commerce in response to a letter from Philadelphia saying there's a rumor that the locks are to be replaced by a bridge.

There is a proposal to build a tunnel or a bridge connecting this city with its Canadian neighbor of the same name. But bridge or tunnel, the locks are going to stay.

TOMB FOR TOAD

OKARCHE, Okla. (AP) — A wrecking crew was surprised when it broke open a block of concrete and found a live toad had been imprisoned in it. The concrete was from a bank building erected in 1907 and apparently the toad had been in the block all that time. Wreckers said small cracks permitted air and insects to enter the concrete tomb.

After he was freed, the toad was offered several juicy bugs. He looked at them, then toppled over dead.

TAR HEELS LOSE STAR ATHLETE

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina suffered a double loss when freshman David Coates withdrew from school this spring. Coats was a fine tackle in football and one of the most promising shot putters in this area.

BOY, 11, KILLED BY CAR DRIVEN BY 80-YEAR-OLD MAN

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy was killed Saturday when a car driven by an 80-year-old man jumped a curb and struck the youth.

Allen Erickson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Erickson of Rock Island, was pronounced dead a half hour after the accident. Dr. Erickson is a professor at Augustana College.

The driver of the car, Edward G. Cornbaum, and his wife, 78, also of Rock Island were reported in critical condition. No charges were placed immediately against the driver.

Authorities said Cornbaum apparently lost control of his car while turning a corner. His car jumped a curb, police said, and struck young Erickson who was walking on a sidewalk with two other boys. The other boys were not hurt. The Cornbaum car came to rest after hitting a utility pole.

Stevenson Thinks Chances Of Win In Florida 'Good'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, now cautiously confident of winning the Florida primary Tuesday against Sen. Estes Kefauver, Saturday night accused President Eisenhower of standing "grandly aloof" while government agencies go through what he called fussing and feuding in disgusting and dangerous fashion.

Closing out his drive to down Kefauver in a vital test of southern sentiment, Stevenson told a reporter that "I think my chances are good."

He said he didn't think Kefauver was hurting him greatly with last-minute blasts on such issues as Stevenson's veto of an old age pension increase while serving as governor of Illinois.

PRIMARY A BARGAIN

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Gov. Victor Anderson, Republican, and Frank Sorrell, Democratic nominee, found the Nebraska primary last week a financial bargain.

Gov. Anderson, a first-termer, reported to the secretary of state Monday that his primary expenses were $10. That is the filing fee.

Sorrell reported he didn't spend a cent. His name was filed by petition and the petition sponsors paid the filing fee.

ATTEMPT MEANS ATTEMPT

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican supreme court has ruled that a person can not be imprisoned for "attempted homicide" unless an actual attempt is proved.

On an appeal, it freed Javier Rios Vergara of a 12-year sentence on such a charge.

Vergara admitted he took part of a fee promised for killing a local official but said he really did not intend to go through with it. No evidence of an actual attempt was presented.

Dale Long Sets New Major League Record

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

"Any resemblance to Citation?" asked someone.

"Citation looked larger than he actually was," recalled Trainer Jones, "although he was fairly good size. At his best, he stood 16 hands, a little above average and weighed 1,075 pounds.

"Fabius is moderate size, not as big as Citation.

"If they are alike in any respect, it is that Fabius, like Citation, takes everything in stride. Why, a circus brass band could march through the barn and Fabius wouldn't give it more than passing attention. He'd stand perfectly still if kept in the paddock for two-and-a-half hours."

When Fabius won The Preakness at Pimlico and $84,250, Jones did not yet know that the Calumet Farm three-year-old fillies, Beyond and Princess Turia, had performed an unprecedented feat for an entry —finished in a dead heat on the front end of a stakes race, dividing $25,300 in the classic Acorn Stakes at a mile at Belmont Park.

* * *

THAT'S A VERY nice score within a few minutes, but Jones was elated for another reason.

Beyond it also by Citation, you see, and the double victory definitely established the greatest horse ever bred at Calumet as a successful young sire.

"That's what Citation, which stands for $5,000, has to do now to become immortal — produce good stock," said Jones. "He had frightful luck with his first crop, losing half his mares in the virus abortion epidemic. Oddly enough, we have only a half dozen of his second crop and five of them are fillies."

"For a spell there," said Jimmy, "I was afraid Fabius was on the frail side and that a mile would be his best distance, but he has come a long way and takes it well right now. If he comes out of the Jersey Stakes at a mile and a furlong at Garden State all right, he'll go in the Belmont Stakes at a mile and a half, June 16, although I'm not too sure that I'd run him in mud."

* * *

JONES POINTS OUT that Fabius was retarded by races in goo — in the Belmont Futurity and the Garden State.

"Citation could run in the mud and I didn't see any reason why Fabius couldn't, but those races knocked flesh off him, and it took the entire winter to get it back. You've got to get solid flesh on a race horse and it takes time."

Jones swung back to Citation and his remarkable, record-wrecking races with Noor in California as a five-year-old after being fired.

Calumet had another big year after Citation was retired perfectly sound at six after winning the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup, July 14, 1951, but the more important stables get batches of prize thoroughbreds in cycles.

* * *

MRS. GENE MARKEY'S stock fell off after the string had led the money winners for eight of 12 years, with $1,402,436 in 1947, $1,269,710 in '48, $1,128,942 in '49 and $1,283,197 in '51. While the devil's red and blue hardy dropped to the poor relations class, prize money fell to $587,040 in '54 and $438,590 in '55.

Now things are on the upbeat again, Citation helping to bring back Calumet Farm while establishing himself as a sire.

Joe Campbell Paces Purdue To Big Ten Golf Win

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Joe Campbell, the NCAA golf champion, paced Purdue to its second successive Big Ten golf title Saturday with a record tieing three-under par 281 for 72 holes.

Campbell, a junior who also plays guard on the Boilermaker's basketball team, shot his best round this morning, a 67 over the par 71 Wilmette Golf Club. His 281 total tied the conference record set by John Fisher of Michigan in 1935.

Runner-up for the individual title was Rudy Boyd of host Northwestern, with 289. Roger Rubendall of Wisconsin was third with 296.

Purdue's team point total was 1,501. Michigan closed fast for second with 1,508, and Ohio State was a close third with 1,509.

Other team totals: Wisconsin 1,520; Northwestern 1,526; Michigan State 1,549; Minnesota 1,549; Illinois 1,549; Iowa 1,569; and Indiana 1,590.

Rudy Boyd, Northwestern, 70-74-73-72—289

Ken Rodewald, Michigan State, 76-69-76-76—297

Dave Forbes, Wisconsin, 74-79-75-72—300

Frank Judish, Iowa, 76-73-73-79—301

Mike Mural, Ohio State, 73-77-76--75—301

Fred Michlow, Michigan, 78-74-74-75—301

Gophers Rained Out; Assured Of Big Ten Pennant

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Minnesota was assured of its first Big Ten baseball pennant since 1935 Saturday when its doubleheader with Indiana was rained out.

Postponed games cannot be made up in Big Ten competition so the Gophers concluded their regular season with an 11-2 record.

Before the rainout, the only club with a chance to beat out the Gophers for the title was Ohio State. The Buckeyes needed to sweep their doubleheader with Iowa and hope for a double victory by Indiana over Minnesota to have their mathematical chance materialize.

Showers Delay Qualifying Runs At Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Showers slicked the Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday and delayed 10-mile qualification runs for the 40th 500-mile race Wednesday.

Twenty-nine cars already were in the tentative field from qualifications last weekend.

The remaining four spots could be filled in perhaps 20 minutes but drivers of 22 unqualified cars hoped for a chance to squeeze into the lineup. If the rain continues through the scheduled final qualifying session Sunday, track officials planned to add another one Monday to fill the field.

Once 33 cars are qualified, a driver can make the Memorial Day lineup only by beating the speed of the slowest car in the tentative field and "bumping" it.

Jerry Blundy Receives Winner's Flag

Racing fans received their money's worth Friday night at the Morgan County Fairgrounds' stock car races, Jerry Blundy of Springfield and Ed Freeze of Quincy really put their driving skills on the line in the feature event of the evening as both boys stayed neck and neck throughout the race. Freeze led for seven full laps by a car's length before Blundy made his bid and overtook Freeze on the west turn at the start of the whistle-warning 28th lap and held his own to edge Freeze by half a car's length at the finish marker to win top money in the windup race of the evening.

Rusty Bell of Jerseyville captured first place money in the opening race of the evening as he passed Ed Freeze on the west turn of the fourth lap to win the scat race.

Bud Kinsel started at the back of the pack in the second heat race and barrelled his way through on the turns to overtake the field on the seventh lap to net first place money in the heat events.

There were numerous mishaps throughout the different races during the evening but Floyd Yaeger of Pittsfield had the most serious accident. In the third heat race, Yaeger came around the northeast turn on his sixth lap and headed into the bleacher section due to a broken pin in the steering wheel. The only thing that kept Yaeger's car from going into the bleachers was the heavy steel cable strung along on massive timbers directly in front of the bleachers. Yaeger was uninjured.

Feature, 1st, Jerry Blundy, Springfield; 2nd, Ed Freeze, Quincy; 3rd, Wildman Kelly, Macomb; 4th, Rusty Bell, Jerseyville; 5th, Page Baker, East Alton; 6th, Chet Newberry.

GOOD OLE FENCE — IT CAN TAKE IT

Floyd Yaeger of Pittsfield didn't plan on this mishap at the Jacksonville Speedway Friday night but all Yaeger could do was just sit back and let the car go where it wanted to. As Yaeger was making his turn on the sixth lap at the northeast curve in the third heat race, a steering pin broke, throwing the car out of control. The fence was some support but it was the steel cable strung along the fence that kept Yaeger's car from ending up in the bleacher section. In the photo above, Yaeger is seated in the car looking over the damage to the steering post. He was uninjured.

Murray Dickson Does His Part To Quiet Fans

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Little Murry Dickson has done his part thus far in quieting the fans who raised such a howl over the Frank Lane trade that sent Harvey Haddix to Philadelphia.

The 39-year-old righthander not only pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday night. He started off two of the Cards' three two-run innings with singles.

Dickson yielded eight hits, including a seventh-inning homer by Ernie Banks, gave up only one walk and struck out five. It was his second triumph since his return to the Cards after a seven-year absence, to go with the three defeats charged against him as a Philly.

Don Blasingame got three hits, scored three runs and stole two bases as leadoff man.

Second baseman Red Schoendienst, Rip Repulski and Bobby Del Greco remained on the list of crippled Cardinals. An x-ray examination disclosed that Repulski, hit by a pitched ball last Wednesday night, suffered an incomplete fracture of the small bone in his right wrist.

But he was in uniform, his wrist bandaged, and a club spokesman said he was expected to go back in action as soon as he can swing a bat, probably within two or three days.

Fabius, Hartack Net Victory In Jersey Stakes

CAMDEN, N.J., (AP) — Fabius won the $62,000 Jersey Stakes Saturday one week after his Preakness victory at Baltimore, rushing up in the stretch at Garden State Park to haul down first money of $44,700. King Maker was second and Career Boy finished third.

The Calumet Farm colt, the big favorite of a crowd of 36,583, stepped the mile and one eighth in a snappy 1:48 4-5, and packed 126 pounds, high weight in the field of 10 three-year-olds.

The son of Citation, who won this race in 1948, paid $3.60, $2.80 and $2.20. King Maker, owned by the Happy Hill Farm, returned $20.60 and $7.00 and C. V. Whitney's Carreer Boy, second choice, paid $3.20 to show.

Willie aHrtack rode Fabius, who took the lead just before turning into the home stretch, and never had serious trouble maintaining his advantage.

Redlegs Defeat Arenzville 8-0

The J. S. H. "Redlegs" defeated the Arenzville softball team on the Jacksonville State Hospital diamond last night 8-0. Jack McNeely struck out nine Arenzville players and allowed only three scattered hits.

Jim Costello led the "Redleg" attack with 2 singles and a double. The Arenzville team was guilty of 8 errors while the "Redlegs" only made one miscue.

VOISELLE BROKE IN ON CRACKERS

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Bill Voiselle, the New York Giant pitcher of a few years ago who now hurls in relief for the International League Richmond Virginians, got $150 when he signed in 1938 as a high school star near his present home at Ninety-Six, S.C.

"They gave me $150," Bill says, "and promised me another $150 if I stayed 30 days. They were afraid I would get homesick.

"They sent me to Moultrie, Ga. First time I had ever been away from home, and when I got there, the manager gave me a letter and told me to show it to the people at the restaurant.

"I didn't know too much about restaurants, so I would just go to the drug store and get me a couple of packages of crackers and something to drink.

"The manager finally saw I was getting a little peaked and got one of the other boys to take me to the restaurant. All I had to do to get something to eat was show 'em the letter."

Long Hits 7th Homer In A Week As Pirates Defeat Phillies 6-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dale Long hit his seventh home run in seven consecutive games to establish a new major league record here today as the rising Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 at Connie Mack Stadium. Hank Moiles and Frank Thomas also homered for the Pirates who won behind the effective pitching of Vernon Law. Stan Lopata homered for the Phillies.

Long latched on to a record that through the years has eluded all of baseball's great sluggers when he hit the first pitch served up by reliefer Ben Flowers in the eighth inning over the high right field wall. It was the big first baseman's 12th homer of the season, tops in the National League.

The slugging Pirate, who leads the league in batting and runs batted in as well as home runs began his sensational streak last Saturday.

Pittsburgh officials scurried outside the park immediately after Long's blast cleared the barrier and rounded up the youngster who recovered the prize souvenir. He returned it and was given another at its place. A Pittsburgh spokesman said the ball would be sent to the hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Long equalled the major league mark of six home runs in six consecutive games last night with his 12th of the season, also against the Phillies. The six-for-six mark was set by Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns in 1922. Three National Leaguers, in addition to Long tied it—George Kelly (1924), Walker Cooper (1947) and Willie Mays (1955), all of New York Giants. Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees is the only other American Leaguer to do it.

The Pirates took a two run lead in the game in the first inning after two outs. Long doubled. Thomas walked and Dick Groat singled home both runners. The Phillies tied the score with Stan Lopata's sixth homer, a solo blast in the first, and a pair of singles and an infield out in the second.

Pittsburgh broke the deadlock in the sixth when Lee Walls singled and Hank Foiles socked his second homer of the year. Long and Thomas worked up the scoring in the eighth to give Vernon Law his second win against three defeats. Miller suffered his second loss against one victory.

Braves Clip Redlegs 2-1 In 11 Innings To Maintain League Lead

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves hung onto the National League lead with a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati Saturday in a crazy 11-inning contest in which they were held hitless for 9 2-3 innings by three Redleg hurlers before 22,936 fans.

Frank Torre batted in both Milwaukee runs, and both were scored by Hank Aaron before 22,936 at County Stadium. Joe Black was the losing pitcher, and Ray Crone, who shut out the Redlegs for 8 2-3 innings, the winner.

Until the ninth, Milwaukee seemed to be on the way to a decision in the regulation distance, after taking full advantage of Johnny Klippstein's wildness to score one run in the second without a hit.

In the 11th, Aaron tripled, and after the bases were loaded on walks, Torre singled him home.

Then Wally Post slammed a double off the left field fence scoring Jim Dyck, who ran for big Ted, with the score. Post's double was the sixth hit off Milwaukee starter Ray Crone, who had scattered four singles until the ninth in his bid for a shutout.

Warren Blackburn put the Braves down again without a hit, after Hershell Freeman had done the same in the eighth, they and Klippstein manufactured themselves a new niche in the major league record book—the first time three pitchers collaborated to give up no hits over the regulation nine innings.

Jack Dittmer finally got the first Milwaukee hit of the ball game in the bottom of the tenth, when he belted a double with two out. He died on base a moment later.

The Braves took their lead in the second inning, when Aaron was hit by a pitched ball, Klippstein then walked Bobby Thomson and Billy Bruton to fill the bases, and Torre hit a sacrifice fly, that Frank Robinson caught only after a spectacular run, to score Aaron.

Klippstein was lifted for a pinch hitter by manager Birdie Tebbetts in the top of the eighth after muffing the Braves for seven innings. He walked seven, struck out three and hit one batsman.

Klippstein, a 28-year-old right-hander, had a even-steven 10-10 lifetime record against the Braves going into Saturday's contest.

MAYS INJURED IN WARMUP SESSION

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays, New York Giants centerfielder, was struck in the right eye by a thrown ball in practice today and ordered out of the lineup for a day by the club physician.

Willie was hit as he walked into a warmup session between teammates Al Dark and Daryl Spencer in front of the Giants' dugout.

"RED" STRODER, FORMER PRO COACH, DIES

Al Simmons, Former American League Star, Dies Of Heart Attack

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Al Simmons, whose batting feats with an old "foot-in-the-bucket" stance earned him a niche in baseball's Hall of Fame, died here early Saturday four days after his 54th birthday.

One of the game's greatest right handed hitting outfielders collapsed on a sidewalk outside the Milwaukee Athletic Club where he lived in retirement. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He had a lifetime major league batting average of .329 for 21 years, most of them with the late Connie Mack's great Philadelphia Athletics teams of the 20s and 30s; won consecutive American League batting championships with marks of .381 in 1930 and .390 in 1931; and played in four World series with a cumulative batting average of .462.

"Played with 7 major league clubs 1924-1944. Star with Phila. (A. L.) batted .308 to .392 from 1924 to 1934 . . . Most hits by A. L. right-handed batter with 2,831. Led league runs batted in, runs scored, hits and total bases several seasons, hit 3 home runs, July 15, 1932 . . ."

Simmons was born Aloysius Harry Szymanski in Milwaukee on May 22, 1902, the son of a Polish immigrant who died when Al was a boy.

He broke into organized baseball with Aberdeen in the old Dakota League in 1922.

It was about this time that Al spotted a billboard advertising Simmons hardware and Aloysius Szymanski rechristened himself Al Simmons.

He broke in with the Athletics at Fort Meyers, Fla. in 1924, after Mack bought him from the Brewers for $30,000.

Simmons drew raucous laughter the first time he stepped to the plate in Florida. He kept his left foot "in the bucket"—pointed in the general direction of third base.

But Mack wouldn't hear of changing it.

"Leave the young man alone," Mack said. "If he can hit .398 for Milwaukee let him bat the way he wants. I don't care if he stands on his head."

In the succeeding 21 years, "Bucketfoot Al" proved that pulling away from a pitch was no handicap for him.

Simmons is remembered for his batting heroics, but he also was a great fielder and accurate thrower. He seldom, if ever, made an error of judgment, according to his contemporaries.

In addition to being a former major league outfield star, Texas baseball coach Bibb Falk was an outstanding tackle in football.

Slim John Haines Wins Two Firsts In IC4A Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Slim John Haines of Penn won both the 220 yard dash and the quarter mile run—a feat that has been accomplished just twice before in the 20 century — and Manhattan edged Villanova for the team title Saturday in the IC4A track and field championships.

Haines, the 23-year-old, four-time national indoor sprint champion, passed up defense of his 100-yard dash title to try for the same double that Charlie Reinpath and Ray Barbuti, both of Syracuse, scored in 1912 and 1929, respectively.

He zipped to a 20.5 win in the 220 and :47.3 triumph in the quarter. None one in the crowd of 4,500 in Randall's Island stadium expected him to lose the 200, but there were doubts that he could beat national champion Charlie Jenkins of Villanova in the quarter.

Starting from the outside lane, the worst spot, Haines stayed in front all the way and fought off a closing burst by Jenkins to get home ahead by about three yards.

Michigan Edges Iowa In Final Event To Win Big 10 Outdoor Meet

By JERRY LISKA

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Hard-pressed defending champion Michigan needed a second place in the closing mile relay to edge surprising Iowa and capture the 56th Big Ten Outdoor Track and Field Meet Saturday.

Michigan, taking two individual firsts and sharing a third in field events only, shaded the Hawkeyes of Iowa, 41-37½, to nail down the Wolverines' 22nd title in this competition started in 1901.

Iowa, which has never won an outdoor title, had one of the day's two double winners, long-striding Ted Wheeler, and had a chance up to the closing relay in which the Hawkeyes placed third behind Michigan.

Indiana, whose Greg Bell failed to improve on his brilliant qualifying broad jump of 25-11¾ Friday, won the mile relay and finished third in the meet with 34½.

There were no records set in the 13-event finals at Minnesota's Memorial Stadium, but Indiana's Don Ward matched the meet 440 mark of :47.7 set by Cirille Mc Sween of Illinois in 1951.

Another creditable performance was the 14-6 pole vault by Michigan's exchange student from Finland, Eeles Landstrom, which was four inches below the Big Ten mark but set a new Memorial Stadium record.

Landstrom dethroned Wolverine team mate Bob Appleman, who went out at 13-4 and failed to place. Another defending champion from Michigan, half-miler Pete Ray, was an also ran in the 880 event won by Iowa's Wheeler in 1:51.7.

Wheeler also won the mile run in 4:12.7. The other double winner was Michigan State's Ed Brabham, who took the 100-yard dash in :09.7 and the 220-yard dash in :21.2.

The meet's high point man, however, was Ohio State's versatile Glenn Davis, who won the 220 low hurdles, placed third in the 220 dash and broad jump and took fourth in the 100 dash for 13 points.

Of the meet's four returning individual champions, all representing Michigan, only shot-putter Dave Owen emerged a clear-cut repeater, taking his event with a toss of 53-6½.

Other individual champions crowned were Iowa's Les Stevens with a :14.2 victory over favored Joe Savoldi Jr. of Michigan State in the 120 high hurdles and Michigan State's Henry Kennedy with a 9:19.1 triumph in the two-mile.

Big 12 Heads Vote To Continue With 8 Schools

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Principals of the Central Illinois High School Conference Big 12 voted Saturday to continue operation of the league with eight schools.

The vote was taken after formal acceptance of Streator's withdrawal from the Big 12.

The conference also voted for a schedule of seven conference football games each year beginning in 1957 and a round robin basketball schedule of 14 home-and-home games.

Two Peoria schools, Central and Manual, as well as Pekin announced their withdrawal from the loop several months ago.

Washington Defeats Red Sox 4-1, Stobbs, Paula Star For Nats

BOSTON (AP) — The Washington Senators defeated Boston 4-1 Saturday on the effective pitching of southpaw Chuck Stobbs and a two-run double by Carlos Paula.

Paul lined a long two base hit off the center field wall in the fourth inning that spelled loser Ike Delock's third setback. He's won one.

The hit scored Roy Sievers who had singled and Clint Courtney who had doubled.

Sore-footed Ted Williams, in his now-familiar role of pinchhitter, drove in Boston's run with a single back of first which bounced off Sievers and hopped beyond the dugout. Don Buddin, who had singled and moved to second on Sammy White's walk, crossed the plate on the play.

BRATTON SUFFERING FROM "EMOTIONAL DISTRESS"

CHICAGO (AP) — The condition of Johnny Bratton, former welterweight boxing champion, was reported "unimproved" today by the attending physician at the Cook County Psychopathic Hospital.

Bratton, who was taken to the hospital by his mother, Thursday, was said to be suffering "emotional distress."

The Chicago boxer was recognized as champion by the National Boxing Assn. after taking a 15-round decision from Charley Fusari at Chicago Stadium March 14, 1951.

He lost to Kid Gavilan for world recognition at New York two months later.

Track Meet Nets 6 Firsts, 1 Tie For East Aurora

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) —East Aurora successfully defended its Big Eight High School Conference track and field title Saturday by capturing six firsts and tieing for another.

East Aurora's track squad totaled 56½ points. East Rockford was second with 32½. Other school point totals were: Joliet 29; Freeport 27½; LaSalle-Peru 26½; West Rockford 18; Elgin 14; West Aurora 4½.

Two East Aurora runners copped double triumphs. Bob Schindel captured the 100 and 220 yard dash events while Chuck Teuscher took the 120-yard high hurdles and set a new record of 20 seconds flat in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Teuscher's time eclipsed the old record of 20.4 set in 1951 by Bruce Vallett of LaSalle Peru. Teuscher tied the mark in last year's meet.

The other new meet record was set in the shot put event by Bob Parrish of LaSalle-Peru. He put the shot 54 feet 4 inch to break the previous record of 52 feet 4 inch set last year by Joel Petersen of East Rockford.

Roger Craig Pitches Brooklyn To 6-0 Win Over New York Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn's Roger Craig limited the New York Giants to three singles Saturday while his mates clubbed three homers good for five runs in a 6-0 victory. Sandy Amoros, Randy Jackson and Carl Furillo hit the homers. Duke Snider singled in the other run to stretch his hitting streak 16 games.

Amoros and Furillo each clouted two-run homers and Jackson hit his first of the year with the bases empty. The other Dodger run came in the fifth inning on Duke Snider's single scoring Furillo from second. Snider twisted his left knee running out a ground-er in the seventh inning and was replaced by Gino Cimoli. Jackie Robinson also hurt his left knee in the second inning when he over ran first and went sprawling to the ground. Jackson subbed for Jackie in the fourth.

Craig, in racking up his fourth victory against two defeats, had only one bad moment. That came in the second when he loaded the bases on walks with only one out. He got out of the jam by pulling Hearn on a foul to first baseman Gil Hodges and Whitey Lockman on the grounder to short.

Lockman played centerfield in place of Willie Mays who was struck in the right eye by a thrown ball in practice. Al Dark and Daryl Spencer were warming up in front of the Giants' dugout and Willie strolled into the path of Spencer's throw. With Mays out, Craig's task was easier. Bill White, Ray Katt and Dusty Rhodes got the singles, all in different innings.

William Harridge Celebrates 25th Year As AL Prexy

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—William Harridge, who virtually was Shanghaied into baseball by the late Ban Johnson, Sunday celebrates his 25th year as president of the American League.

The white-haired, and dignified Harridge—who at 70 is one of sports' most esteemed executives—never had seen a professional baseball game when he was "drafted" for the American League.

"I was a stenographer and clerk in the passenger administration department of the Wabash Railroad in Chicago," Harridge recalls with a smile. "I was only 26. Part of my job was helping rout baseball teams over the Wabash. One day in December of 1911, my boss, Henry Kline, called me in and said: 'Will, I hate to tell you this, but you've worked your last day for us.'

"I gulped. I thought I was fired—but for what, I didn't know. Then Mr. Kline said: 'Will, we're not firing you. You're going to work next week as private secretary to Ban Johnson, president of the American League.'

"I was the most surprised fellow in the world. I hadn't even seen a professional game, and here I was in the middle of baseball. From $90 per month, I was up to $50 per week in one jump—my, my."

Barry Mackay Retains Tennis Title For Mich.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Michigan swept the singles and doubles championships Saturday to retain its Ten tennis title behind Davis cup candidate Barry Mackay.

The Wolverines rolled up 6½ points to 64 for runnerup Indiana and 46½ for Northwestern. The rest of the field was far outdistanced.

Mackay dumped Al Kuhn of Northwestern in the singles finals, 6-2, 6-2, and teamed w Dick Potter to top Kuhn and Paul Bennett of Northwestern in the doubles showdown, 6-3, 8-6.

In the singles semis, Mackay stopped Mike Field of Indiana in the first set, 6-1, but was extended to a marathon 17-15 in the second.

Kuhn advanced by beating Dave Bowen of Michigan State, 7-5, 2-6, 8-6.

In the doubles semis, Mackay and Potter defeated Jim Andrews and Gene Nedl of Iowa, 6-2, 6-2 and Kuhn and Bennett ousted Brandt and Van Tyne of Illinois 7-5, 4-6, 6-[illegible].

Purdue was fourth with 19½, Illinois had 19, Michigan State 17, Iowa 15½, Ohio State 7, Wisconsin 6½ and Minnesota 2½.

Kuenn's Hitting Paces Tigers To 12-6 Win Over A's In Slug-Fest

DETROIT (AP)—Shortstop Harvey Kuenn smashed two doubles and a pair of singles as the Detroit Tigers blasted the Kansas City Athletics, 12-6, in a slugging contest at Briggs Stadium Saturday.

The two clubs belted a dozen extra base hits, with Earl Torgeson and Ray Boone hitting home runs for the Tigers and Hector Lopez and Gus Zernial clouting round trippers for the losers.

Billy Hoeft restricted the A's to a pair of hits, including Lopez' two-run homer in the first, until he was blasted for five straight base knocks in the eighth when the Athletics scored their other four runs.

Northwestern Blasts Illinois Twice, 6-2, 3-2

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern blasted Illinois twice Saturday to assure the Illini of a last place finish in the Big Ten baseball race with 6-2 and 3-2 triumphs.

Broeker, shortstop and catcher Chuck Lindstrom had four hits each in the twin bill.

Lindstrom had a pair of doubles in the opener and a home run in the nightcap.

GIBSON SMASHES TENNIS RECORD

PARIS (AP) — Althea Gibson, the United States' only big winner on the European tennis circuit this spring, smashed a year-old jinx and won the women's singles title in the French International Tournament Saturday with a 6-0, 12-10 victory over Angela Mortimer of Great Britain.

Miss Gibson's victory, in a gruelling match lasting an hour and 45 minutes, overshadowed Lew Hoad's expected victory over Sweden's Sven Davidson in the men's final 6-4, 8-6, 6-3.

Elks LITTLE LEAGUE

TEAM 1 2 3 4 5 6

The final practice sessions for boys interested in playing Twilight Little League Baseball will be held this week on the following schedule:

Monday, May 28, 9-10 year-olds——6:15 p.m.

Tuesday, May 29, 11-year-olds—6:15 p.m.

Wednesday, May 30, 12 year-olds—6:15 p.m.

All managers will meet at the Elks Club on Thursday night, May 31 at 8:00 p.m. for selection of players. The following managers have been secured for the 1956 season: North Side League—Mr. Baptiste, Mr. John Sparrow, Mr. Jack Spangenberg and Mr. Little; South Side League— Mr. Wilfred Rice, Mr. Don Robinson, Mr. Clarence Watts, Mr. Kenneth Book, Mr. James Stein, Mr. Watson and Mr. Rust.

There is a need for more boys, ages 11 and 12 for Twilight teams, particularly from the north side of town. All any boy needs to do to play Little League Baseball is to report to the baseball diamond and Morton and Diamond street during any practice sessions or scheduled games.

The official opening of the Little League Summer Schedule will be on Monday, June 4 at 6:15 p.m. At 1:00 p.m. on June 4 all boys not selected for Twilight League should report for organization into afternoon leagues.

Baseball uniforms and caps are to be furnished to both Twilight Leagues bearing the names —Cardinals, Cubs, Giants, Dodgers, Red Sox, Indians, Tigers and Yanks. Forty twelve year-olds, forty eleven year-olds and thirty-two boys, age nine or ten will be purchased for those teams. So if you have not registered to play yet, come on out next week.

One Million Dollars Offered For Ram Share

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sportsman Dan Reeves said Saturday that he has received a one million dollar offer for his share in the Los Angeles Rams pro football team.

The offer came from his partners Ed Pauley, Hal Seley and Fred Levy, Reeves said. In the event that he declines to sell, Reeves said, they made a second proposal to sell out to him for a total of two million dollars.

"I have no intention of selling," Reeves said. "I don't happen to have two million dollars so I guess it's a stalemate."

ORDERED TO REPORT FOR EXAMINATION

DETROIT (AP)—Billy Hoeft, Detroit Tiger lefthander, has been ordered to report for a pre-induction physical examination which could lead to reclassification of his draft status. The 24-year-old Hoeft, rejected in 1951, must report to Milwaukee June 18.

Only seven different players in 49 years have won triple-crown fame. Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams each have achieved baseball's greatest batting feat twice. Hornsby won in 1922 and again in 1925 while Williams broke through in 1942 and in 1947, according to the current issue of The Packard Sports Library.

The Ocala Chamber of Commerce made Needles an honorary member even before he won the Kentucky Derby. The colt was foaled in Ocala, Fla.

Dow Finsterwald Passes January In Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, fastest rising young man in golf, ripped off a 4-under-par 66 Saturday to rush past Texan Don January into the lead at 54 holes in the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open.

Finsterwald, the Bedford Heights, Ohio, 26-year-old who is the game's leading money winner, quickly overtook the faltering January, who started the day leading by three strokes with 131 for 36 holes.

Doughty Dow, meanwhile, burned up the 6,216-yard Preston Hollow course for a 4-under-par 31 on the front nine, then eased in with par 35 on the second.

His 200 put him in solid shape for the $6,000 first money in the final 18 holes Sunday.

January limped in with a par 70 for 201, while in third place was Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., who whipped out a 67 to make his total.

Finsterwald, who has rolled up $13,561.8 this year in golf earnings and won one tournament the St. Louis Open—was putting like a demon in his great bid for the first place spot held by January two days.

He missed an eagle by three inches on the 12th hole or he would have been able to start the final round with a 2-stroke lead.

Don January, Abilene, Tex., 64-67-70—201

Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., 67-70-66—203

Jackson Bradley, Houston, 67-69-67—203

Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City Beach, Fla., 68-69-67—204

Jimmie Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., 68-67-69—204

Tommy Bolt, Houston, 68-66-70—204

Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., 70-67-68—205

Palmer Lawrence, Dallas, 69-65-71—205

Swaps Beaten By Porterhouse In Californian Go

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Mighty Swaps went down to defeat Saturday, beaten by Llangollen Farm's Porterhouse in the final stride to the wire in the $109,800 Californian.

As a record Saturday crowd of 58,500 roared and then gasped at the dramatic windup, Jockey Ismael Valenzuela caught the heavy favored Swaps in the stretch and nipped him by a nose to take down the decision in a photo finish.

Mister Gus, stablemate of Porterhouse came in third and Bobby Brocato was battered back to fourth after a blazing early run with Swaps.

It appeared that Swaps had the mile and one-sixteenth feature sewed up for the second straight year. But his jockey, Willie Shoemaker, either went to sleep or Swaps didn't have it, but in any event it was the 5-year-old brown shaded Virginia horse on top at the windup, winner of $63,700 and the prestige of having whipped the great California champion.

The time for the mile and one-sixteenth was a fast 1:40 4-5, shy of the world record Swaps set in winning this same race last year in 1:40 2-5.

Porterhouse returned his delerious backers $28.70, $5.80 and $3.90; Swaps paid $2.70 and $2.90, Trejos aboard, $3.90.

Coming into the stretch Swaps opened up and drew away by a length, then a length and a half and then two good lengths of daylight. It looked like a breeze on into the wire.

To the amazement of the fans, Shoemaker and Swaps seemed to be loafing along, and Porterhouse was driving.

Willie the Shoe rather belatedly went to the whip, but it was too late apparently to shake Swaps up again.

He came back a bit to challenge and the issue was close, but it wasn't enough to win the race.

NEEDLES THRIVES ON DISTANCE

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—When Needles won the Kentucky Derby to take a firm hold on 3-year-old racing honors it marked the third straight time the colt had scored in a $100,000-plus race.

The son of Ponder-Noodle Soup previously won the Florida Derby and the Flamingo at Gulfstream.

The Derby marked Needles' ninth victory in 14 starts during two seasons of racing. He has finished out of the money only twice. He was fourth in the 1955 Gulfstream Park Juvenile due to a poor start and was fourth in the Tyro Stakes at Monmouth Park, Oceanport, N.J., last July after being impeded on the first turn.

Sox Don't Care What Larry Doby Looks Like As Long As He Hits

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Larry Doby may look like a man from Mars with a rubber glove on one hand and an abbreviated football helmet on his head but the Chicago White Sox don't care as long as he hits.

And Doby has given indications that he's ready to do the slugging the White Sox expected of him when they traded Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby to Cleveland for the left-handed hitting centerfielder.

Plagued by a hand infection and a groin injury, Doby returned to the Sox lineup Wednesday and rapped out a pair of hits instrumental in leading Chicago to a 3-2 victory over Baltimore.

Doby capped out three hits, including a double, last night in paving the way for a 2-1 Chicago triumph over his old teammates and it was a bit of smart base running by Doby which enabled the Sox to beat Cleveland.

Nellie Fox doubled but was out trying for third and Minnie Minoso flied out. Doby stepped up and slammed a single, one of his three hits for the night.

Cleveland second baseman Bobby Avila, having no play on Doby, fired to first in an attempt to nail Philley, but his throw was into the dugout and Doby romped home with the winning run.

"It's a good play," said Doby later in the clubhouse. "If he throws to second, I go to third. If he throws to third, I go back to second."

Despite his ailments, Doby said, "I'm feeling great. You have to feel good when you're hitting. I wear the glove because the docs told me to keep resin and dirt away from my hand. It doesn't bother me but the infection is not cleared up and resin or dirt can irritate it."

Larry wears a head gear when batting which resembles a tight fitting football helmet and gives him an awesome look.

"I don't care how he looks up there," said Sox manager Marty Marion, "so long as he hits. And you can see he's going to hit for us."

Nieman, Triandos Set Pace For 9-4 Win Over Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles stole the New York's slugging thunder Saturday night to whip the Yankees 9-4 with consecutive first inning homers by Bob Nieman and Gus Triandos setting the pace for a 15-hit attack.

The two teams now have split eight games. The four victories by the Orioles are more than boasted by any other American League team so far this season over the Yankees.

Nieman, acquired from the White Sox, hit safely in his four times up and drove in as many runs to lead the Oriole attack.

Most of the 26,069 fans felt it was going to be the same old Yankee story when they scored two runs the first inning on three singles, a walk and sacrifice off Bill Wight.

But the Orioles were undaunted and scored four in each of their first two innings. Nieman drove in three with his homer and single and so did Triandos with his circuit blow and a double.

After the first inning, Wight was bothered by only two long range hits by the Yankees as he went the route for the first time this year and beat them for the second straight time. They are his only victories in six starts.

Gil McDougald's triple in the fifth led to a run and Bill Skowron homered in the eighth for the fourth Yank run.

Rotary, Farmers Hear State Dept. Speaker

Fifty farmers of the Jacksonville community were entertained by Rotarians at their annual Farmers' Day luncheon Friday at the Dunlap hotel, at which Harry W. Seamons, of the U. S. Department of State spoke on "The Citizens' Part In The United States Foreign Policy."

Seamons pointed out that firm foreign policy in a democracy is formed by public opinion. He said the actions of the State Department must have approval and support of the majority of citizens.

The speaker said it is his conviction that the United States' foreign policy is a positive one, aimed at building a peaceful world. Seamons is liaison representative of the State Department, helping to promote better public understanding of the work.

John N. Baker, assistant to the president of MacMurray College, was received into membership of the Jacksonville Rotary club. He was introduced by Dr. Louis Norris, and welcomed into the club by William O. Ramdall.

Martha Simmering Dies Saturday In Springfield

A native of Jacksonville, Mrs. Martha Servance Simmering, 47, died at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in Springfield Memorial hospital following a lingering illness.

She was born in Jacksonville, Feb. 15, 1909, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Servance.

She was united in marriage with Jerry Simmering, who survives with three sons, Donald, Arthur and Leo Lyons, all of Springfield.

She also leaves her father, Dan Servance, and five sisters, Mrs. Gladys Deaton, Rock Island; Mrs. Elsie Ludwig, Rockford; Mrs. Cleo Reese, Buffalo, Ill.; Mrs. Thelma Ogle, Springfield, and Mrs. Catherine Lowe, Jacksonville. Her mother and one sister, Mrs. Cecil Tucker, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Simmering was a member of First Christian church.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Bisch Funeral Home in Springfield and burial will be at Greenview.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Children Hurt When Dad's Car Leaves Road

Two East St. Louis children suffered injuries about noon yesterday when the car driven by their father was crowded from U. S. Route 67, eight miles south of Jacksonville.

Harry Flynn, 2H Willow Griffin Apartments, East St. Louis, said his north-bound car was crowded by a southbound machine, causing him to run into the ditch. His car did not turn over, and he was able to continue to this city.

Robert Flynn, 4, and Jerry Flynn, 7, were taken to Our Saviour's hospital for treatment and X-ray examination. They sustained bruises and were badly shaken up.

Mr. Flynn and his children were enroute to this city to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flynn of North Church street.

State Patrolman Clyde Vasconcellos, Jr., investigated the accident. The identity of the other driver has not been established.

Attend Funeral Of Mrs. Deaton

A group of Morgan county relatives went to Stonefort, Ill., and attended funeral services for Mrs. Edward Allen Deaton, who died May 19. Mrs. Deaton was a niece of several residents of the Jacksonville community.

Those attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stucker, Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stucker, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stucker, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Rose and daughter, Jacksonville; Mrs. Fred Keyes, Lynnville.

First Day To File For County Board, June 25

County Clerk George T. Douglas announced yesterday that June 25 is the first day on which to file nominating petitions for Morgan county commissioner to fill a vacancy. The final date for filing petitions is July 2, and the last day on which candidates can withdraw is July 7.

Should more than one candidate file on either ticket, a special primary election will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18. A new commissioner will be elected concurrently with the general election Tuesday, Nov. 6.

The special primary and election dates were fixed some time ago by Judge Fenstermaker. The vacancy on the board of commissioners was caused by the death of Fred Points of Waverly, who had served one and a half years of his term. In vacancies of less than one year an appointment could be made, under the law.

Edw. Driemeyer, Former Legion Leader, Dies

Edward Driemeyer, of Herrin, past state Commander of The American Legion, Department of Illinois, in 1954, died early Friday morning May 25 of a heart attack. He was 48 years of age.

Driemeyer had visited in Jacksonville numerous times, and was well known by local Legionnaires.

Military funeral will be conducted Sunday, May 27th, in Herrin. The body will be moved from the Stormes Funeral Home in Herrin, to the Herrin Baptist Church, for services at 2:30 p.m. Six past Department Commanders of the American Legion will be pall bearers. Burial will be in the Pinckneyville cemetery.

Edward Driemeyer was born and raised in Pinckneyville. He was circulation manager for the Lindsay-Schaub Newspaper Publications, directing the distribution of "The Southern Illinoisan" in Herrin, Carbondale and Murphysboro. He was unmarried and living at the home of his mother, 201 West Herrin Street, Herrin.

He was a veteran of World War II. Served as an enlisted man in the Army for three and a half years, two of which were spent overseas, in England, France and Germany. He was awarded the Croix de Guerre by General Charles de Galle for outstanding meritorious service in the liberation of France and was the holder of two battle stars.

His record with The American Legion was one of steady progress and wholehearted devotion. He served as Commander of the Herrin Prairie Post No. 645 in 1949. In 1950 he was Commander of the 25th District, and in 1951, Commander of Fifth Division (southern third of Illinois). He was president of the Past Commanders Club, Fifth Division, for 1952. In 1953 he served as state Senior Vice Commander, and in 1954 was state Commander. He was the second World War II man to attain this top elective position, and his able leadership will be long missed throughout the State.

George Northrop Funeral Today At Glasgow Church

GLASGOW— Funeral services for George Northrop, who was found dead at his home Friday morning, will be held at 3:30 p.m. (DST) Sunday in the Glasgow Baptist church, with Rev. Richard Shewmaker officiating. Burial will be made in Glasgow cemetery.

$25,000 Asked For Local Man's Death In Wreck

Glen E. Wilson filed a $25,000 wrongful death suit in Sangamon county circuit court Friday for the death of his brother, Henry C. Wilson, of Jacksonville, in an auto collision April 23. Wilson, a former Marine, resided on Center street in Jacksonville.

Named as defendants were Josephine Paglini, administratrix of the estate of Carl S. Paglini; Frank Paglini, administrator of the estate of John Paglini St.; Joseph Paglini and John Paglini Jr. In addition to Wilson, Carl S., Gregory J. and John Paglini Sr. were killed in the crash on Routes 36 and 54, about three miles west of Springfield. The Paglinis were all of Chicago.

The suit alleges that Gregory J. Paglini drove a car owned by Carl Paglini, in which the other defendants were riding. Wilson's suit alleges that the driver was acting as the agent of each of the passengers, and was negligent, speeding and in veering into the oncoming traffic lane, causing the fatal crash.

Driver Taken To Hospital After 3 Car Wreck

Lambert B. Beastall, 56, of 310 West Morton avenue, was given emergency treatment and X-rayed yesterday morning at Our Saviour's hospital after his injury in a three-car collision at the intersection of West College avenue and South West streets. Drivers of the two other cars were unhurt.

Beastall sustained a bump on his head. He was able to go to his home after treatment and examination.

He was driving his Dodge car north on West street, and Andy Lore, 910 Myrtle street, was traveling west in a jeep delivery truck. The vehicles collided in the intersection, knocking the Beastall car into a 1947 Chevrolet driven by A. E. Williamson, 219 West Beecher avenue, who was headed south and stopped at the stop sign, according to a report compiled by police.

The Beastall car was taken to the Bill Houston garage, and the Lore car was taken to the John Ellis garage.

Patrolmen Wilbur Stafford and Ernest Smith went to the scene of the accident and rendered assistance. The officers issued a ticket to Lore on a charge of speeding. He posted $25 cash bail.

Jaycees To Sell American Flags

Do you have a nice, big American flag to display next Wednesday in memory of departed veterans?

You'll have one by Sunday night if the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce has anything to say about it.

The Convention club of the local Jaycees has procured a high quality cotton flag, three feet wide and five feet long. Beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday the members will start making a house-to-house canvass in Jacksonville, offering the flags for $3 each. They hope to have all the flags sold by evening and the narrow margin of profit earned by each sale will go into the fund set aside to help defray expenses of local members to the national Jaycee convention.

'Free Boarders' Hurt All Milk Producers

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)— Government experts say there are at least one million dairy cows that are "free boarders" on the farms that keep them.

That is, they do not produce enough milk to pay their way. Their owners are shelling out for the privilege of keeping them, whether they realize it or not.

But that's the least of the unfavorable things that can be said about these cows. They are, without doubt, at the root of the dairy problem—a problem that has been the subject of bitter debate in and out of Congress. It has been a problem that has influenced many elections and could play a major role in this year's national voting.

There are about 22 million dairy cows on the nation's farms. Agriculture Department dairy experts say fully one million of these produce less than 5,000 pounds of milk a year each. They say a dairyman hasn't much chance to make any money off his cows unless they average at least 6,000 pounds.

Others Hurt

It wouldn't be so bad if the owners of the low-producing cows were the only ones hurt.

As it is, the 22 million cows are expected to produce about 127 billion pounds of milk this year. That is expected to be five billion pounds more than consumers will buy in the form of fluid milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other dairy products.

This extra or surplus five billion pounds depresses the price for all the milk produced—not just the price of the unneeded supply. This surplus milk is diverted into butter, cheese and dried milk and sold to the government under a dairy price support program. The accumulation of these stocks in the hands of the government serves to depress prices of all milk and dairy prices as long as they exist.

Borders Make Surplus

Now here is where the one million boarder cows fit into the picture. They produce the equivalent of the surplus supply—a production which takes money out of their owners' pockets rather than puts it in.

If these cows could be culled from herds at once, the surplus supply would disappear and dairy prices would improve, the experts say.

In the view of Dr. J. Frank Kendrick, head of the department's dairy herd improvement and sire-proving section, a solution to the problem of low returns is to be found in culling rather than in legislative programs affecting dairy price supports and surplus "giveaway" programs.

Why do farmers keep unprofitable cows? The experts say that for the most part, it is a lack of realization that such cows do not pay for their keep.

Malathion Tops For Killing Flies

You now can eliminate 90 per cent of the flies in your barn without spraying.

W. N. Bruce of the State Natural History Survey, Urbana, has developed a method of using malathion strips instead of spray.

To make this effective fly killer, mix 1¼ tablespoons of malathion and 5 tablespoons of starch with a quart of corn syrup. Soak a cloth strip about two inches wide in the mixture, let it dry and hang it from the ceiling.

The syrup attracts the flies to the bait strip, and the malathion makes short work of them. This method is one of many Bruce is experimenting with at the present time.

Pike Arabians In Philly Show

PITTSFIELD — R. O. Emrick took his prize winning Arabian horses, the stallion Imagin and the mare Alima, to Philadelphia Friday where he will enter them in the Arabian Devon Horse Show to be held there May 26 through June 2.

Both horses won top prizes at the Pennsylvania Horse Show held in Harrisburg in October. The stallion captured the King Farouk trophy and Alima won in the three gaited event.

It is expected that as many as 500 horses will be entered in the Philadelphia show, giving the two Pittsfield entries some stiff competition. Hugh Kerr, trainer and rider for the Emrick Stables, accompanied Emrick to Philadelphia and will ride in the show.

Illinois' No. 1 Landlord

If you'd like to take a Sunday afternoon drive some time you could get on Route 10 and turn north on a good gravel road at Burtonview, Logan county. After a mile or so you'd cross Sugar Creek on Crooked Bridge and then jog to the right.

Heading north again you'd be in that fabulous empire—Scully Prairie. On both sides of the road, for nine miles, the land is owned by Thomas A. Scully of Lincoln, a quiet, modest and most conservative man who owns 46,000 acres of Illinois land. Most of it, 30,795 acres, is in Logan county; other sizeable tracts are in Grundy, Livingston, Tazewell and Sangamon counties.

You'll be struck by several things. First, the land is almost as flat as a pool table, but here and there you'll see a grass waterway protecting the land from erosion. This will be not one of those streaks of green that often passes for a grass waterway. It is made right, it is wide enough and it has a healthy sod.

The soil is a brown silt loam, highly productive. In fact, the University of Illinois says it is the best there is in the state. Nature made it good and the Scullys—father and son—have made it even better in the past 105 years.

The proprietors have insisted on good stewardship and you'll see the best farming in the country. The houses and farmsteads are neat and attractive; the fences are straight and strong. You'll see more lush-growing stands of alfalfa and clover than you can see anyplace else in Illinois. Wheat and oats flourish; the corn and soybean fields are clean, with straight rows and good stands.

You'll be in the Scully Prairie and you'll find it hard to believe your eyes.

This is a typical view in Scully Prairie. The heavy stand of alfalfa is beautiful; the seedbed in the foreground has been worked just right and the soil gleams with that health which comes with tilth. Soils specialists talk a great deal about tilth and lament that it can't be bought by the ton. It is the condition of the soil, rather than chemical content. Thus far it has been developed only by plowing down heavy stands of legumes, not just once in a while, but regularly.

Not A Fence Post

A fascinating facet of the Scully story is that although he owns the land he doesn't own the fence post you see at the left. Neither does he own the neat farmstead in the background. The tenants own everything above the ground and pay cash rent under a one-year lease.

At first glance you'd ask why would anybody build a house or a barn, or put up a fence on another man's land when maybe he'd decide you must get off the farm next spring. It certainly doesn't look reasonable.

But it's working out fine.

There are no auction sales in Scully Prairie. When a farmer desires to give up his lease, which happens very, very seldom, there's a long list of men waiting to buy his buildings and equipment. Many of the tenants own large farms, but they rent them out and stay in Scully Prairie.

"To the city man our one-year lease may look one-sided and unfair. But we use it to protect ourselves from the dishonest and the drinking farmers. We are mighty happy with the remarkable record of tenure, where the same men stay on for 30-40 years and even more, where grandsons of early tenants are still on the same farm. We are able to keep good men on our land because we keep the soil in good condition and our rents are low," Scully observes.

The alfalfa field and the cattle grazing there are the property of George Ubbenga. But the lease is held by his father, Henry, who retired a couple of years ago and built himself a very fine house in Lincoln. Henry also holds two other Scully leases and they are farmed by his other sons, Robert and Leo.

Five Brothers

The farmstead in the background is the property of Walter Coers, who bought the buildings and began farming 10 years ago. Four of his brothers are operating Scully farms.

The Apers family, 12 sons and son-in-laws, are on Scully land. Mrs. Maria Cross, who lives in Lincoln, had 11 children—all of them in Scully Prairie. One son died, so now she has 10 children and two grandsons farming under Scully leases.

Ernest Sank, who is now an invalid in a Lincoln nursing home, achieved a remarkable record. For 71 years in a row he went each year to the Scully office and signed a lease for one more year.

You may ask how this could be. Sank's father was killed by a horse. Ernest was then 13 years old and the eldest of a family of six. The elder Scully, William A., said to Ernest, "Son, you are now the head of a household. I have faith in you. Here, sign this lease and we'll work together."

The partnership worked. But this year Sank was unable to come to the office and now the lease is in his son's name.

Another Rotation

Getting back to Ubbenga's alfalfa field, which is the best the farm editor has ever seen in Illinois. He has used electric fencing to divide the 20 acres into four equal fields. He has a good Guernsey dairy herd and some beef cattle. By grazing the small fields in rotation he can keep the crop at its best, and get a lot more feed out of it. There is much less waste by tramping and by rotating he can keep the alfalfa leaves and stems small, tender and palatable. What the cattle don't eat will be made into silage and hay.

A Scully farmer does not pay rent on land in legumes, and he can feed all of it he chooses to livestock, but he can't sell or give away a bale of hay. One lease holder in Sangamon county had so much hay a couple of years ago that he sold 200 bales. His lease was not renewed the next year.

A Scully farmer cannot burn corncobs, except in his kitchen stove. The rest must be spread back on the land.

The Scully rotation is the simplest in the land. One fourth of the land must be in legumes each year; corn cannot be raised on the same field more than two years in a row; soybeans, if planted, must follow corn.

Called The Best

Under this rotation, which the U.I. soils specialists call the No. 1 rotation, any Scully farmer can easily comply with government farm programs. The landlord doesn't care whether he does or doesn't. Last year about 50% of the Scully farmers complied; this year it appears that with a guaranteed price of $1.25 a bushel for corn less than five per cent will do so.

The Scullys have been farmers for 450 years. At one time they owned vast estates in Tipperary and Kilkenny counties, Ireland. But the British government took over the land and paid the Scullys what the latter considered was only a fraction of its worth.

So in 1850 William A. Scully cast his eyes westward and boarded the steamship Britannia at Liverpool, bound for Philadelphia. The Britania was one of the first transoceanic steamers, a sailing vessel with side-paddles.

The elder Scully took the train to Altoona, Pa. That was the end of the line. There he bought a horse and headed through Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana in quest of good land. He carried with him a small spade made from an old wagon wheel tire and he sampled as he rode.

What He Wanted

When he came to the northwestern section of Logan county he found just what he wanted. It was a long stretch of black dirt, too wet to be farmed. But it was big enough that he could control his drain outlets, and he had learned long before in Ireland how to drain land. His ancestors had taught him that good soil, if properly drained, would become more productive each year if it was tilled well and a good crop of legumes was grown on the soil once every four years.

At that time he sent samples of the soil to be tested in a laboratory. The Scullys are still firm believers in soil testing and will not permit the application of any plant feeds unless the test shows they are needed, and in what quantities.

He went back to England, but returned the next year with a wallet full of banknotes. At that time there were many veterans of the Mexican War who had title to 160 acres of bounty land somewhere in the west. They didn't want to leave the east and the south, but they were plenty willing to sell their title to a quarter section for $200, a dollar and a quarter an acre. The elder Scully bought them and the government land office deeded him the land in Logan county.

At this time, naturally drained land in Logan county was selling for $40-$50 an acre.

40 Years Of Drainage

After he got title to the land Scully sent over some Irish farmers, but most of them preferred to work by the day as laborers. Scully put them to work digging ditches and laying tile and for more than 40 years there were Murrays, Hallihans and Murphys busy at the task. As the land was drained, and ready for crops, the Germans moved into Scully Prairie. Before World War I you had to know German to do business in that area and today it is figured that more than 90 per cent of all Scully leases are held by men of German ancestry.

As Scully Praire was pulled out of the mud and began prospering the envious began clamoring. Politicians went around yelling that no one, and especially an alien, should hold so much land. They finally passed an alien bill and the elder Scully, at 80, was forced to apply for citizenship papers.

At one time legislators in 10 states passed laws forbidding aliens

New Ruling May Alter Cattle Feeding Ways

URBANA—Recent decisions of the Pure Food and Drug Administration to allow ear implants of stilbestrol may change the method of using this hormone-like chemical in cattle feeding.

G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says work at the California, Georgia and Purdue agricultural experiment stations has shown that stilbestrol ear implants will give good results.

One advantage of ear implants, Carlisle says, will be lower cost. Implants large enough to influence a 180-day feeding period will cost about 15 cents compared with a cost of about 90 cents to add stilbestrol to the feed for that length of time.

With implants, you can also be more selective in determining what animals should get stilbestrol. For example, you can feed steers and heifers in the same lot and implant only the steers. And you may not want to feed protein supplement, which now is the only way to add stilbestrol to the feed.

In the experiments, gains have been about the same when implants were used as when stilbestrol was added to the feed, Carlisle points out.

A disadvantage of the implants will be the extra equipment, such as chutes and head gates, you may need in order to handle the cattle.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

THE HOG SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

This is the season of smallest market supplies and highest prices of hogs. Receipts will probably taper off during June and reach the lowest level of the year during the first week in July. The week of the highest price is much more uncertain.

SUPPLIES. Marketings of 1955 fall pigs reached their peak during the first half of March. At that time nearly 1.4 million hogs a week were slaughtered at major centers — 20 percent more than the peak reached one year before. Since that time marketings have declined almost every week, but slaughter has continued 10 to 20 percent greater than a year before.

The pattern of summer hog marketings is changing rapidly. Before World War II, marketings were smallest in August. From 1947 to 1953, market receipts averaged the same in July as in August. Last year June and July were the months of smallest supplies. Weekly slaughter at major centers ranged around 700,000 head except for the first week in July, when it fell to 600,000 head, the lowest of the year. Monday of that week was July 4. July 4 comes on Wednesday this year, so market receipts and slaughter are likely to reach their low during that week.

Receipts have been 10 to 20 percent greater this spring than they were a year ago, but supplies in prospect for the summer are no larger than last year. These facts indicate that the seasonal decrease in receipts from April to June will be considerably greater than it was a year ago.

PRICES. Average prices for barrows and gilts at terminal markets fell to a low of $10.67 a hundred pounds last December. That was when marketings of 1955 spring pigs were at their peak, and federally inspected slaughter was 40 percent greater than two years before. Prices climbed about a dollar a month in January, February and March. They went up about $3.00 more in April and the first half of May. By mid-May the average was around $16.00, or about 50 per cent higher than the low December average.

A normal price advance is around 30 percent, so we have already had a larger than normal seasonal percentage increase. Dollarwise the price increase does not seem to be excessive. In fact, hogs are still cheap in comparison with most other farm products.

During the last 10 years the best price recovery was in 1953. After making a monthly average low of $15.50 in the previous December, the average price went over $20.00 in March and then ranged from $20.00 to $27.00 for 16 months. At that time the price weakness ended about six months after farmers stopped increasing farrowings. Prices seem to be following a somewhat similar pattern now.

Hog prices have not followed any consistent seasonal pattern since World War II. From 1947 through 1954, highest monthly average prices came once each in March, April, July and October and three times in September. In 1955 the seasonal top in hog prices came during the third week of June.

In future years the best prices seem likely to come in May or June, before hot weather starts and before large supplies of early spring pigs come to market.

The 1955 fall pig crop marked the end of 24 months of increasing farrowings. Winter farrowings (December-February) were about the same as those of the year before. Farrowings during the main farrowing months, March-May, have been probably about 8 percent less than last year.

These facts suggest that the worst is past for hog producers. The seasonal price decline this fall seems likely to be smaller than normal, and 1957 should be a good year for hog producers.

Smith Orchard Near Patterson Changes Hands

PATTERSON — The 627 acre orchard farm lying north and east of Patterson, which for the last 43 years has been known as the Thomas S. Smith & Sons Inc. Orchards, has changed ownership this spring. The new owners are Eckert Brothers of Belleville, Ill.

According to older people the first orchard on this place was owned by the late Ben Hahn, who sold it to the late E. M. Prindle. After several years ownership in the Prindle family it was sold to the Brown-Danskin Co. of Minneapolis, Minn., and it was from this company that Mr. Smith purchased the first 100 acres of orchard in 1913 and about the same time purchased adjoining land from Nathan Bowen.

This farm now consists of 500 acres in the north part of Greene County and 127 in the south edge of Scott County. Four hundred acres are in orchards, the rest of the acreage is in woodland, pasture and some farming land.

Smith's first manager living on the home place was John Prindle of Patterson. Other managers through the years have been the late Joseph Ryder, the late Earl Fry, Robert Byers and Harry Hatcher, the latter now of Barry, Ill., who still assists with the management, together with his brother, Clarence Hatcher, who resides on the place.

Harry Hatcher began working for Smith when 14 years of age, later becoming manager, which position he filled for 18 years. Also now living on the place besides Clarence Hatcher and family, in the tenant houses, are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pence and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cumby and family, who have been retained by the present owners.

Over this long period of years many people in the surrounding communities have had employment with the Thos. S. Smith Orchards, both in the orchard and the packing sheds, some of the older ones recalling wages of $2 per day. Since Smith's death a few years ago, his son George Smith of Chicago, has kept in close touch with the management of the farm.

The Eckert Brothers, who purchased the place also have large orchards near Belleville and Carbondale, Ill.

Primaries Are Useful

Though the spring presidential primaries are not over yet, we're already hearing from some quarters again that they're a waste of time and money.

The argument is that they don't really prove who the people want for nominees, and that they're so complex and varied they do more to confuse than to clarify.

It is perfectly true that as now constituted the U.S. primary system provides no clear and irrefutable evidence of the people's choices. But it is quite another thing to conclude therefrom that primaries are useless in the determination of party standard bearers.

They alone cannot nominate a man, but they can be a strong influence in that direction. And everybody knows they can pull a candidate down fast.

It is commonly noted that Sen. Estes Kefauver won a flock of primaries in 1952 yet couldn't win the nomination at convention time. But it shouldn't be forgotten that his primary showing was chiefly responsible for making him a close contender.

In 1948, Harold Stassen's Oregon primary defeat at the hands of Thomas E. Dewey was an event that caught prime attention. But up to that moment Stassen had captured primaries in Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Nebraska. He had taken Oregon, there is little question he would have been the front-runner.

Only 19 of the 48 states hold primaries, the rest choosing convention delegates in state conventions. But the states with presidential preference tests include most of the biggest: California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Jersey.

The others are sprinkled about the country in a way which affords a pretty fair geographic sampling of sentiment.

It is often contended that the primary setup is weak, too, because in many cases results of the preferential voting aren't binding on delegates. The fact is that in 12 of the 19 the vote is binding. It just happens that important Illinois and Pennsylvania are among those where it is not.

Yet this argument is not really too powerful. The primaries admittedly provide simply a sampling of popular response to candidates. The big point is that it can be and often is more than sufficient to give the leading national politicians the cues they need at nominating time.

Despite the notion that they prefer back-room manipulations, politicians are not oblivious to indications of a candidate's popular favor or disfavor. Quite the reverse. They are keenly alert to every sign. And during a primary period they get many.

That is the chief value of primaries. They are indeed imperfect, complex and confusing. But with all these drawbacks they still tell the men who engineer nominations some—if not all—of the things they need to know to make sensible decisions.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — You need more than a scorecard to follow the players in this one. What happened may be high diplomacy. It looks more like a poker game.

Did the United States try to maneuver the Russians into inviting the Joint Chiefs of Staff to Moscow? Or did the Russians try to maneuver the United States into saying whether they'd accept before they were invited?

If the Russians invite the Joint Chiefs, and they go, the way has been cleared for President Eisenhower to ask his old World War II friend Marshal Georgi Zhukov to Washington. It's been rumored Eisenhower wanted to do that.

After such an exchange of visits the door naturally would be open to invite Russia's Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev here. The two Soviet leaders reportedly have been hinting they'd like to come.

As this story unfolds there are two points to keep in mind: (1) some unnamed person who gave a story to the New York Daily News and (2) American officials' statements that the Russians have not yet invited the Joint Chiefs.

This is what happened:

Last Monday the Russians say they suggested to the U.S. Air Force that it send two or three high-ranking Air Force officers to see Russia's celebration of Aviation Day in Moscow June 24. This would not be the Joint Chiefs.

Thursday morning the New York Daily News said it had learned from a source at the United Nations that Russia had sent word to Washington it would welcome a visit by the U.S. military command—the Joint Chiefs—"for inspection of Soviet services."

A few hours later Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, Murray Snyder, said he "wouldn't be surprised" if the Joint Chiefs accepted such an invitation if it arrived. A spokesman for the Joint Chiefs said they would give "serious consideration" to an invitation.

The fact that Snyder and the Joint Chiefs' spokesman made any comment at all was pretty good evidence this country would welcome such an invitation. It was like saying: go ahead.

If the New York daily News' unnamed source at the United Nations was a Russian, you could draw this conclusion:

By leaking on an invitation not yet extended, the Russians could learn whether such an invitation would be rebuffed or accepted.

If the reaction was bad they could get some propaganda out of it, claiming that a simple, friendly gesture they had in mind was dismissed by the Americans even before it was made.

If the source was an American, you could draw this conclusion:

Knowing the Russians had invited a couple of lower ranking air officers, the United States could nudge the Russians publicly—through such comment as Snyder gave—into inviting the joint chiefs.

If the Russians took the hint, but put heavy restrictions on what the Americans could see in Russia, this country then could refuse to let them go and at the same time make propaganda about the Soviets' continued secrecy.

Manners Make Friends

Think what you are doing before you pass on any remark or incident that puts a teen-ager in a bad light. Reputations are easily ruined and stories get exaggerated each time they are retold. So the only kind thing to do is to refuse to pass on any gossip about young people.

You wouldn't want to ruin the reputation of a young girl or boy, but you might if you pass on destructive gossip.

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN AND KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondents

Washington — (NEA) — Visiting Indonesian President Sukarno not only surprised this town with his excellent pronunciation of English. He also gently slapped the wrist of his Washington speech writers by correcting their grammatical construction of a phrase.

First draft of his speech to Congress contained the sentence ". . . to not only become economically stable but also politically stable."

"I don't like to use split infinitives," he told the writers.

A discussion ensued and finally they called an English professor at George Washington University for his opinion.

Turned out the president was right. The way it came out was, ". . . to become not only economically stable."

The Banquet Sukarno invited the Eisenhowers to was the fattest feed witnessed here in years. It was Ike's first state dinner since his heart attack. Try these mouth-fillers:

Fresh fruit, supreme princess, green turtle au madere en tasse, coquille of lobster Parisienne, selected, boned royal squab with pate fois gras dressing, perigourdine sauce; fond artichoke with peas a la menthe, braised Belgian endive, wild rice, peach renett, couronne of mousse of sweet bread in aspic, chiffonade salad, with brown bread and cheese; baked Alaska with blackberries flambe, New Orleans brittle and coffee. (At any restaurant here you would be lucky to get this meal for less than $40.)

When Russian Gen. Ivan A. Serov flew to England in a brand-new jet airliner to make security arrangements for B. & K.'s visit, Andrei N. Tupolev, the aged, famed Russian aircraft designer of the plane, was along. And that evening a small group of pioneer British aircraft people threw a small party for him.

No. 1 topic, of course, was Tupolev's new airliner—especially the jet engines.

"Tell me, Mr. Tupolev," said one guest, finally overcome with curiosity, "am I wrong in guessing from the large size of the engines' air intake that they have about 20,000 pounds thrust?"

Tupolev mulled this query over and replied:

"You could be very wrong. You don't judge how many brains a man has in his head by the size of his mouth, do you?

That ended the questioning on that subject.

In the last three years he has had three attacks and is just recovering from his third. His first attack came while he was Pakistan finance minister in 1952.

"You really learn a lot about your health after you have an attack," the ambassador told a group at an embassy party recently.

"I can testify to that," said a man standing by.

"Why, have you had a heart attack too?" asked a lady.

"No, but I've been pretty close to one," said smiling Jim Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary.

While swapping cardiac stories with Hagerty, Ali revealed that he and the President differ slightly in their recovery technique.

Ike's doctors have him nap before lunch whereas Ali has been told to rest after lunch.

When They Admitted newsmen to the atomic sub Nautilus for the first time the other weekend, living quarters aboard became slightly jammed up. There was some confusion in front of one of the small mirrors in the washroom as several reporters tried to scrape off their whiskers at the same time.

Seeing the confusion, peppery Adm. Hayman Rickover warned: "Be careful, men, the face you shave may be your own."

They Used To Call party-throwing Perle Mesta "two-party Perle" because she spent as much money entertaining Republicans as Democrats. Now they're calling her "itchy-foot Perle. Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) is deeply sorry Sen. Walter George (D-Ga) is leaving the Senate. Like many others, however, he is glad the aged chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee doesn't have to go through the rigors of a stiff primary campaign.

"At his age he should relax and not overdo it," says Green with a grin. The sprightly Rhode Islander is now age 88, just 10 years older than George.

DECISIVE TEST RUN

DETROIT (AP) — Traffic Judge John D. Watts called for a test when Chester S. Bragiel argued he could not have been doing 80 miles an hour when arrested for speeding. "Why my car couldn't get over 50, your honor," Bragiel complained.

The judge had a policeman take Bragiel's car out on an expressway for a test run. The officer telephoned back that the car hit 80 miles an hour easily and could have gone faster. Bragiel was sent to jail for five days and ordered not to drive for a year.

The Mature Parent

Our Responsibility to Home Is Much Bigger Than Child's

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The pink paint which covers the top half of the bathroom walls contrasts beautifully with the blue tiles that cover its lower half.

I chose the shade with care. To it, I matched the curtains, face cloths and towels. I chose the pink-striped tumbler in its blue enamel fixture just as I selected the toothbrushes under it. Even the pink-wickered hamper beside the washbasin was my special choice.

When I clean this bathroom, I do a bang-up job on it. I never forget to scrape the soap dish clean. I always remember to wipe clean the toothbrushes and fasten the hamper lid.

But when my 14-year-old daughter is told to clean the bathroom, she never does a bang-up job.

If she remembers to tidy the cabinet shelves, she's sure to leave her soiled pillowcase draped over the open hamper. If she folds the towels, she forgets to wring out the face cloths. No matter how I complain, she seems incapable of doing a thorough job on the bathroom.

In the beginning this seems like evidence of an irresponsible nature. I contemplate the dirty window sill she has forgotten to wipe—and envision a life of failure for this child I can't make do things.

I see her fired by bosses who admire efficiency. I see husbands turning from her with loathing for her unwashed breakfast dishes. I see her a beggar and burden on other people's responsible nature for the rest of her life.

So I go to the head of the stairs and scream, "Come up here, you lazy girl! Do you call this bathroom finished? Can't you ever do anything thoroughly? Come up here this minute . . ."

The fact that my daughter's responsibility isn't equal to mine scares me to death.

After a while, I get used to it. Gradually, it dawns on me that her interest in a clean bathroom is naturally less than that of its planner and owner. So when she leaves it less clean than I would, I no longer make a fool of myself by screaming.

I no longer demand that she equal my interest in maintaining a home which she has not planned, chosen or paid for. If she leaves a chore undone, I just go downstairs and say pleasantly, "When you go upstairs, please remember to fasten the bathroom hamper."

Home chores can be agony for both parents and children until we face reality—and accept the fact that our responsibility for the home they share with us is much, much bigger than theirs.

After his engagement at the Sahara Hotel here, the loose-limbed entertainer will be heading to New York to start preparations for his new TV show, "Washington Square." His rigorous two shows nightly here are good training for the labors ahead of him.

Ray is going into the embattled Tuesday-at-9 spot once ruled by Milton Berle but usurped this season by that double-dealing Sgt. Bilko. Bolger will share with Dinah Shore the chore of winning back the ratings for NBC. They may receive an occasional assist from Bob Hope and Martin and Lewis.

"It will be very flexible," he explained. "For sets we'll have the park, the Greenwich Village Inn and the Washington Square Playhouse. Thus we can have scenes in the park with a Bernard Baruch character or something like that. We can do musical routines in the inn and play dramatic scenes in the playhouse.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

The Course of Christian Empire

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I have suggested that unless the disciples of Jesus challenged the ancient world with their Christianity they could not have found a more concentrated, or possibly a more difficult, place than Antioch in Syria. It represented the height of worldly splendor and with it the depths of corruption and licentiousness.

Yet Antioch represented also the height of Christian strategy. It has been a maxim of economies and commerce that "trade follows the flag." To a great extent Christian missions have followed both trade and the flag. In some instances the missionaries have been the pioneers.

But, to get back to Antioch, here was a busy city on the caravan routes between East and West, close to the sea, and of easy access to Asia Minor. It was the first area of St. Paul's missionary journeys, thronged with people, many of them Jews, like Paul. There could hardly have been a better strategic base for the movement of Christianity westward, and on to Europe, and eventually to the New World.

Also, in the presence of Barnabas, during the year of Paul's stay there, when he was brought from Tarsus (Acts 11:26), there was contact with Jersualem, and Barnabas was Paul's first missionary companion.

The Book of Acts tells in vivid chapters the story of Paul's missionary journeys. And when Paul and Barnabas had a sharp, but let us hope not an un-Christian contention about whether or not they would take along John Mark, a cousin of Barnabas (Acts 15:36-41), the effect was to send forth two missionary teams instead of one. Paul went with Silas, and they had the remarkable experience with the Philippian jailer (Acts 16). Barnabas went with Mark. We know little concerning the journeys of the latter two, but the John Mark is considered the author of the Gospel According to St. Mark, and his reconciliation to St. Paul is evident from Colossians 4:11 and II Timothy 4:11.

It is not enough to read the Book of the Acts for an account of the missionary journeys. One should follow them carefully with the map found in almost all good Bibles. The area of St. Paul's travels is still today one of uncertainty, tragedy and strife, much in the news, and a present threat of war. The whole Middle East presents difficult and perplexing problems.

I think it is of interest to relate the past to the present, or the present to the past. Names have changed, but situations and places remain.

What has happened to flourishing cities? Antioch is long a thing of the past; a succession of 10 earthquakes ruined it within the first six centuries of our era and it fell to successive conquerors in later history.

A remnant of the ancient city has about 30,000 inhabitants, where once half a million lived in prosperity and splendor. As the poet sings:

"Oh, where are kings and empires now,
Of old that went and came?
But Lord, Thy Church is praying yet,
A thousand years the same."

Masterful Handling of Fish Cookery Is Mark of Typical French Cuisine

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The French are masters of fish cookery. We asked Louis Vaudable, noted gourmet, and proprietor of Restaurant Maxim's in Paris, to tell our June brides how to prepare fine fish dishes. Monsieur Vaudable, now in the United States, replies as follows:

Broiling is a favorite way of cooking fish in France. Because fish is already tender when it comes from the water, it needs only enough cooking to develop flavor.

Season the fish, whole or split, with salt, a bit of thyme or parsley. Brush with olive oil if it is not naturally fat, then run under a preheated broiler (about 500 degrees F.) for a very few minutes, depending on its thickness. When it begins to brown, turn, season and oil if necessary, and broil until it flakes easily when tested with a fork. That's all. Longer cooking will make it tough and dry. Serve immediately.

Chop 1 pound of halibut very fine or put it through a fine grinder. Then pound it in a mortar if you have one, or work it in a bowl with a wooden spoon until it is as fine as you can make it. Now, place the bowl in a larger one filled with cracked ice. Gradually beat in three egg whites, using a wire whisk or wooden spoon, until the egg whites are absorbed and the mixture is smooth. Then gradually stir in 1 cup heavy cream until completely absorbed. Add some salt, a sprinkle of pepper, a pinch of nutmeg, and if desired, a dash of cayenne or pinch of finely chopped fresh dill. Keep on ice one hour. Then butter a fish mold. Stir the fish mixture well to blend. Poud it into the mold. Cover with waxed paper and place in a pan containing one inch of hot water.

At our restaurant in Paris, with this mousse we serve Sauce Ile de France. Its veal-and-vermouth base is sheer flattery for the superb mousse.

MONDAY'S DINNER: Spiced tomato juice, halibut mousse, sauce Ile de France, julienne carrots, buttered whole new potatoes, wholewheat bread, butter or margarine, cucumber salad, fruit jelly, cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Surprise Accounting Is Due For One Tightwad Husband

She goes on to explain that she is married to one and says, "I have to account for every penny I spend out of my household allowance while my husband spends whatever he wants to on whatever he wants. Believe me, it's no fun to never have a cent to call my own."

Then why do you put up with it? Look your husband in the eye next time he asks for an accounting of your household money and say, "I spent the household money as wisely as I know how, but I have no intention of accounting for every penny of it."

And just because you have let him get away with demanding an accounting of every cent you spent in the past doesn't mean you can't stand up on your own two feet and say, "I've had enough of being treated like a halfwit.

"I'm a partner in this marriage and as a partner I am perfectly capable of handling the household finances.

"I am also entitled to spend some money on myself, which I intend to do from now on."

Things may not be pleasant for a few days. But if you stick by your guns you'll get a satisfactory financial arrangement.

It's too bad you didn't start out right at the beginning of your marriage, for it is always easier to begin right than to make a change after years of doing things an unsatisfactory way.

But you owe it to yourself, to your husband and to your children to fight for your own right to a full partnership in your marriage.

Scully Prairie Jewel Of Fabulous Estate

Everything is neat and attractive at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Scully of Lincoln.

Mrs. Scully is an enthusiastic and hard-working gardener. She raises flowers of all kinds, plus vegetables galore.

A great believer in mulches and compost, Mrs. Scully says, "I almost cry when I see people burning grass cuttings and leaves. They make the most wonderful fertilizer there is."

All hedge and grass trimmings are tossed into the picket bins shown in the left background. They are mixed with autumn leaves and watered regularly. In the spring they are composted into "Nature's fertilizer." Mrs. Scully stands in front of piles of compost and sawdust for mulching.

MANY PEOPLE in this area know Scully's right hand man, James M. Stewart. He lived in Jacksonville from 1933 to 1942 when he was employed by the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. After a three year hitch in the Navy he returned to the bank, but became associated with Scully in 1952.

"The abstracts of title to this land are short," Stewart says. "The original grant came from the government to William A. Scully. At his death it passed to his widow and upon her death to Thomas A. Scully. There has never been a mortgage on a single acre, nor any delinquent taxes."

The Lincoln office is also in charge of 55,000 acres of land in Gage and Nuckolls counties, Nebraska, as trustee for a nephew, Robin F. Scully of Beatrice, Nebr.

to own property, but these laws have been repealed or revised.

Came Here In 1940

Thomas A. Scully farmed a large estate in England until 1939. He became alarmed as Prime Minister Chamberlain began muttering through the handle of his umbrella that perhaps Hitler was a nice guy after all. He pulled up stakes and moved to Logan county, where he rolled up his sleeves and began building a new country estate. It's a beauty now, but he's still working at it. The 80 acre tract is surrounded by windbreaks of splendid Douglas firs and there must be a mile or so of trained hedges of privet, Chinese elm, yew box, and arbor vitae. Scully doesn't thing much of the Chinese elm, "it grows fast and we had to have something to hold down the wind which blows like mad in this section. But that which grows fast is never desirable," he exclaimed as he looked with love at his hard maples, beeches and sycamores.

The Scullys have never sought publicity. Illinois historical encyclopedias do not mention them; there's not a single word about them in the journals of the Illinois State Historical society. This is the longest account ever printed about them—and it is the first illustrated story.

No Sign

When the office was housed in a massive, three-story, red sandstone building on North Kickapoo street in Lincoln there was a small sign in gold leaf on the window. It read "Offices of the Scully Estate." Last March they moved to a new ranch-type, air-conditioned house on South Kickapoo. It looks like any other fine residence, and there's no sign about.

Queried about this, Scully smiled and said, "Those who have business with us know where we are."

Uses Soil Test

Scully believes in keeping the soil well fed with limestone, phosphorus and potash, up to test, so it can produce heavy crops of legumes. Tenants can "earn" up to 75c an acre annually on the basis of $1.50 for each ton of limestone applied, $8 for phosphorus and $15 for potash, if soil tests show the materials are needed. This has been working out that Scully pays about one-third of the cost of application, the government about one-third and the tenant one-third.

Scully rents are cheap. They have varied considerably through the years. Back in 1932 and 1933 rents were reduced to 83c an acre, less than the taxes. Right now they stand the highest they have ever been: $18 an acre since 1952. In that year of big crops and big prices you can figure what the holder of a Scully lease had left to put in the bank. But, if the tenant does not put a fourth of the land in legumes the rent goes up to $23.51 an acre, plus a $15 per acre penalty for each acre short of the quota. This tends to make the tenants very much legume-minded.

Land Very Valuable

How much is this land worth today? Recent auction sales of No. 1 land in Logan county have run up to $700 an acre and it said that some well-located parcels have brought up to $850 an acre in private transactions.

Scully's private office tells you much about the man. The furniture is old, rich mahogany and fine leather that should last a thousand years easily.

Recognized By Tenants

Then there's a small plaque, which Scully labels "A bunch of nice foolishness." It was presented to him by his tenants in Grundy county in recognition of his lifelong interest in soil conservation.

Scully is particularly proud of his two sons, Michael and Peter. "They are farmers," he says, which he feels is the highest compliment you can pay anyone. When they were youths he placed them out as hired men during the summer months to farmers whom he admired. He delights in showing the fine workmanship evident in a large shed, a hothouse with adjoining potting shed and lath house for young plants which "the boys" built.

This year he turned over 11,000 acres to each son. Michael has a daughter a year old and is building a house near Buffalo, Sangamon county; Peter has a nine months' old son and is building a house near Dwight, Livingston county.

So it appears that fabulous Scully Prairie will remain in good hands for a long time to come.

Strawberry Patch Needs Attention

There are three things that cut into your strawberry yields, and you can control all three of them. They are rot, wide rows and careless picking.

Frank Owen, fruit crops specialist at the College of Agriculture, recommends captan spray for the rot. Spray at the first sign of bloom, and make three applications seven to 10 days apart. You can pick berries the day after spraying with captan, because there is little residue build-up.

Mix two tablespoons of captan in a gallon of water for small home gardens, and two pounds per 100 gallons for larger fields. Soak the plants with this mixture.

Owen believes 18 inches makes an ideal width for a row of strawberries. If it's any wider than that, you have to step on plants to reach the middle. When the time comes for picking, take your time and pick clean. Get every berry that's ready. Those you leave will be rotten by the next time you pick. Owen estimates that you can lose half your strawberries by not picking clean.

FIELD TRIALS, BENCH SHOW IN PIKE TODAY

Varieties of Corn for Silage

Most of the corn being planted on the Station will be used for silage. Late-maturing varieties usually yield the most forage. The University of Illinois bulletin on corn yield tests is a good guide for selecting silage varieties. When you use this bulletin, first select top grain yielders for your area, and then from this group choose the varieties that are relatively high in moisture at husking time. We will also plant some forage sorghums that generally yield more than the best silage corns. The feeding value of sorghums is not quite as high as that of corn silage, but the increase in yield will more than make up this difference. Some varieties of sorghums that have done well in tests on the Station are Early Sumac, Kansas Orange, Axtell and Atlas. Lodging has been a big fault with Atlas.

Manure Topdress for Pastures

We weren't able to get all of our manure on ahead of corn, so much of it has been going out as a topdress for grass pastures. At a rate of five tons an acre, the result is about the same as putting on 150 pounds of ammonium nitrate, 125 pounds of superphosphate and 80 pounds of potash, all worth about $11. Just because manure doesn't come in bags, don't underestimate its value.

Clover Pastures for Fat Lambs

It has been said that lambs are the only class of livestock that can top the market off grass with no grain. The term grass is used in the broad sense to include clovers. Ewes will milk well and lambs will gain rapidly on early spring grass, but lamb gains will fall off as the grass matures. This is when we need clover or alfalfa pastures if we expect early, grass-fat lambs. Maturing grass is not a good milking pasture for ewes.

Watch for Maggots

Sheep Herdsman Norris Phelps, in his pasture inspection trips, keeps his eye peeled for maggots. Flies lay their eggs in dirty, taggy, wet wool and on blood spots, shear marks or other wounds. Maggots are one of the reasons the Station flock is sheared early. We don't have as much of a problem with wet, dirty wool, and shear wounds also have a chance to heal before fly season.

To prevent blow-fly attacks, treat wounds with Smear 62 or with pine tar. In treating for maggots, Norris first shears the wool from the maggot-infested area. He then uses Smear 62 or a liquid K.R.S. to kill the maggots.

After cleaning the area, he applies pine tar as a repellent against further attack.

BOND WINNERS

Two brothers of the Lynnville area captured $50 savings bonds offered annually by the Crawford Lumber company for the outstanding senior vocational agriculture student at Jacksonville high.

Albert Wilson

This year's winner was Albert Wilson, president of the J.H.S. senior class. In 1955 he was class treasurer. Next month he will receive the State Farmer degree at the convention to be held in Springfield. This is the highest honor that can be granted by the Illinois Association of Future Farmers. He will also receive the DeKalb award.

Joe Wilson

In 1954 the Crawford award was won by Joe Wilson, who graduated that year. He won the F.F.A. State Farmer degree when he was a junior and received the DeKalb award in 1954. His instructors were Kuster and Clarence Stark and he is now farming southwest of Lynnville. He was the treasurer of his class for two years.

The brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wilson, rural route 2, Jacksonville.

SHIP IN SPACE
A Roy Parker Rocket Ranger Story
By RAY BROEKEL

Chapter 2: STRANGE SIGNAL

Synopsis—Roy's ship has been cleared for blast off. Jack Baines has mentioned that a number of ships have been missing of late in space.

Early space pioneers back in space station about two hundred the 1970's had made use of a miles above the earth. Space rockets had taken off from this station.

Rockets in those days were limited as to what they could do because of the fuel problem. At that time only chemical fuel was available. This meant that valuable space in the rocket had to be taken up by fuel storage tanks.

Atomic Fuel

However, in 1983, Dr. Andreas Gutmann, discovered an atomic fuel that took up very little space, and allowed direct take-offs from the earth. The rocket would merely take off to an altitude of 100 miles.

Here the ship would then follow the natural rotation of the earth, but going a little further out towards space in a spiral-like manner. Eventually the ship would be free of the earth's gravitational pull.

At this point the pilot would direct the rocket ship towards the destination. Upon getting within its gravitational pull, the pilot would adjust the ship's controls so that the rocket would spiral in.

Mysterious Signal

Fred Kingston, radiotrone technician, called Roy over the ship inter-com system as they were about 30,000 miles from the moon.

"I'm getting a funny signal on the super-sensitive beam. I'm positive that it's a ship sending out an S.O.S., but all my flight charts show no ships should be anywhere around us."

"Right," answered Fred, as he set his radiotrone adjustment knobs for directional true signals. The beam came in stronger and stronger.

"My gosh," exclaimed Fred. "Unless I miss my guess that ship is almost in our path flight!"

"Ship Ahead"

"Ship ahead," he reported. "Should intersect our course at present rate of speed in four minutes, thirty-two seconds."

The crew of the rocket immediately swung into emergency action. At times like these it was not necessary to issue orders, for emergency action was part of pre-space training.

The S.O.S. ship loomed ever larger in the pitch black of space as the moon rocket approached. Braking action, brought about by reversing jet engine flow, brought the moon rocket within five miles of it.

"What's the report, Jack?" inquired Roy.

Animal World Round-Up Mammal Contest

The Animal World Round-Up Contest closes with this issue, copy No. 9. (The contest began Sunday, April 1.)

All boys and girls should send or bring their pictures and coupons to the Journal-Courier Office in Jacksonville, Illinois. All entries must be in by June 4, 1956. The names of the winners will be published in either the June 10th, or June 17th issue of the Junior Journal-Courier.

Boys and girls wishing to enter the coloring contest, (to nine years of age) must bring or send in all nine contest blanks plus one coupon with name and address. Make sure that your name is on the back of each of the pictures you have colored.

Boys and girls who have entered the Quiz contest, need turn in only the nine consecutive coupons, properly filled in.

Let's Go Birding

THE LITTLE OUTLAW
By Emma Mae Leonhard

Let's go on a walk where there is a hedge of lilacs or forsythia in someone's garden. If you would rather, we can walk along a country road that is bordered by shrubs and brush.

The road around the lake would be ideal. And you had better be careful, or you'll be held up by a tiny outlaw in the bird world—a Northern Yellow-throat.

Mr. Yellow-throat will be the outlaw; but don't fear him, for he's a good outlaw. From the leaves he will pop out suddenly, with his black mask drawn over his face, which looks exactly as if he had tied it on just before starting out on an outlaw career.

He looks like a tiny villain, but he really isn't. He is very sly but only because he's shy and curious.

Almost Funny

This "Little Outlaw" is also very active in dense, low cover in many sites, but it is commonest near water and in dense vegetation of marshy sections. He is so inquisitive that he is almost comical and he practically haunts the cattails, thickets of willows, and tangles of blackberries and weeds in old fields.

In great contrast to his black mask are the olive-green on his back and the bright yellow beneath. We'll hear his tuneless song, "witchity - witchity - witchity-witch," but it will sound out clear notes of good feeling and eager life. Mr. Yellow-throat isn't plotting to bewitch us unless it's with excitement at his quick wren-like actions and daintiness.

And he isn't as hard to find as many Warblers are, for he doesn't haunt the tops of tall trees. He darts about hither and thither in the brush and thickets near enough to the ground so that we can observe his behavior very easily. In fact, if we don't go too near him, he will show a distinct friendliness toward us and appear very interested in us, not to rob us but to peer at us curiously.

We are bound to like our tiniest "outlaw," the Northern Yellow-throat.

By Ray Broekel

This group of stars is actually a cluster of stars that have no definite shape. It can be seen almost directly overhead, but you will have to look sharply, for most of the stars in it are rather faint.

Coma Berenices means Berenice's hair, and the story behind this cluster of stars is rather an interesting one. It points out that faithfulness and belief often end up in honor and glory.

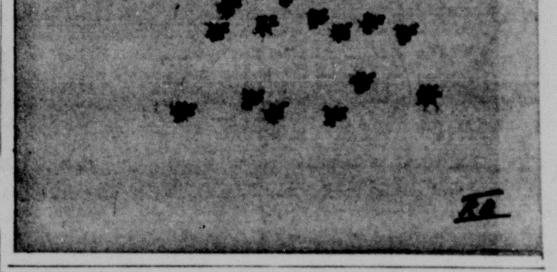
Berenice Worries

Berenice was quite upset because she thought some tragedy would overtake her husband. To make sure that nothing would happen to him she went to the goddess of beauty and told her that if her husband would be allowed to return safely, she would cut off her hair.

In those days the ladies wore their hair in long tresses, so you can imagine that Berenice had to think twice before she would do such a thing.

True to her word, Berenice cut off her lovely hair when her husband returned home safely from his journey. The hair was then placed in the temple of the goddess of love.

Jupiter, the king of gods, was quite moved by this act of faithfulness, so he decided to place Berenice's hair in a place of honor in the skies for all to see forevermore.



THE MERRIE THEATRE-
The Red Lantern Moon
By Hugh Jones

Part 24: SEARCH FOR LIN

Some people think that in order to put on a play everything must be a madhouse of confusion. I, Sir Olan Actbow, say that this is not so!

A good play is carefully organized. Each person knows the job that he must do! Sir Olan Actbow has high standards. "Hi Standards!" ... "Hi, Actbow!"

HISTORY OF THE THEATRE

The second figure in American theatre is Anthony Aston, who described himself thusly—"Gentleman, Lawyer, Poet, Actor, Soldier, Sailor, Exciseman." He arrived in Charles - Town (Charleston), South Carolina, in January, 1703.

Here, according to his own account he turned playwrite and wrote "On the Subject of the Country." This play and all other records of it have been lost, but it probably is the first play written on American soil.

RED LANTERN MOON

(The story thus for: A severe storm is approaching. Will Sumner lands his plane on the island of Okinawa. He spends the evening at the house of the mayor During the evening, the little girl, Lin, goes to show him her little paraquette....but it is gone. Later Mrs. Soong finds that Lin has also disappeared into the storm. The men go out to look for her.)

SCENE 2

Countryside near the temple. 9:00 p.m. the same night. The storm continues raging. The three men, Will, Uncle Te and Mr. Pokang, go back and forth across the stage, and down into the audience looking for Lin. The wind is so fierce that the men can hardly stand up.

Will: Oh, Lin! Lin! (He walks from stage left to center stage where he hangs onto a tree stump.)

Uncle Te: Will! Will Sumner!

Will: Mayor Te! Have you seen or heard anything?

Uncle Te: No, I haven't. You can't see anything or hear anything in this storm. (In the meantime, Mr. Pokang is in another part of the theatre.)

Mr. Pokang: Lin! Lin!

Will: (Sudden thought) Mayor Te, do you think she would try to reach the rainbow temple?

Uncle Te: She was talking about it...she might. Why don't you work your way toward the temple, and I'll circle around toward the Suduki Road.

Will: All right, mayor. I'll get there! (Will struggles up a steep hill (the steps leading to the stage). He goes up, down, across and around the stage. He continues to shout and as he walks you realize it is with great difficulty due to the wind. He hears a voice faintly coming from offstage right.)

Lin: (Fervently) Please, please.

Will: Lin! Oh, Lin! (The force of the wind knocks Will down, near a rock. He beams his flashlight in the dark and he sees the outline of a temple. He then beams the light lower and for an instant, sees Lin. He did not expect to see her and consequently, he beams the flashlight away. Then he realizes that he has just seen her. He flashes the light at her again.)

EARLY SCIENTISTS

Many early scientists were not really scientists at all. They had such mistaken ideas of the world about them, that we often wonder just where they got their ideas. Of course, they very often did make accurate and true observations, but too often they "filled in" when they could not find the answers.

It took thousands of years for some of these mistakes to be realized. Today we are still finding the answers to age old puzzlers.

Old Dried-Up Onion Hides Big Surprise
By A. Jones

Bobby and Mary were still in bed one fresh morning, early in spring. A happy Robin peeped into the window and called, "Chirp, chirp. You're not getting anything done there in bed."

Bobby opened one eye and rolled over. Mary opened both eyes and shut them again.

"Chirp, chirp! Lazy, lazy!" the Robin said.

"Oh, all right. I guess we had better get up, Mary," and Bobby rolled out of bed and slipped on his fuzzy bunny slippers.

Mary got up and looked out the window. You couldn't see the sun yet; it was hidden by the trees, but the whole outside was bright and green. Some dew still shone on the grass.

"I have something pretty to show you," said the Robin. "Come on out!"

The children ran to the kitchen for breakfast. Mother could see that they were in a hurry, and so she quickly set out the juice, cereal, and milk. The children dressed quickly and ran outside.

They looked all over the yard for the happy Robin--but he was not to be found. They looked in all the croners of the big backyard and peeked into the tool shed.

There was the Robin! He was hopping around a dark brown something. It looked like an old onion.

Playing A Trick

Bobby said. "It looks as if he wants to show us the onion."

"Yes, but who wants that?" said Mary. "Who is he fooling? A dried up old onion!" "Well, I guess so. Maybe he is just playing a trick on us. But I am sure that our Robin wouldn't do that."

"Well, he has," said Mary. "Come on, let's go."

Out they ran into the sunlight. Robin flew after them, but they would not listen. He flew around their heads and chriped louldy. Finally he flew away.

At lunch time, the children ran into the kitchen. While they were eating their sandwiches and drinking their milk, they told mother about all the fun they had had, that day.

"But that old Robin played a trick on us," said Mary. "He called to us and we had to look all over for him. We found him in the tool shed. Do you know what, he just wanted to show us a dried up old onion."

LET'S GO AND SEE

"Are you sure it was an onion?" said mother.

"Sure, what else?"

"Well, let us see."

After lunch, all three went to the tool shed.

"Yes," said Mother mysteriously. "We must look into this."

She carried the onion into the house. The children started playing in the grass and forgot about the onion.

Several Weeks Later

Again, it was a bright spring morning. This time, Mother called the children from bed.

"Come and see," she said.

The children were still sleepy but got to their feet and ran to the kitchen. There in the middle of the table was a pretty yellow flower, growing in a green pot.

No, the children could not guess. pot."

but got to their feet anr ran to the kitchen. There in the middle of the table was a petty yellow flower, growing in a green pot.

"Where did it come from?"

"Can't you guess?" said Mother

"No, the children could not guess.

"Well, that old dried up onion was really a tulip bulb. I planted it in some pebbles in the green pot.

Priscilla's Safety Club

Here are some new names for Priscilla's Safety Club —

Jay Andrew Clark, Arenzville
Fred Elliott, 611 Myrtle
James Cuddy Gordon, Manchester
Michael Lee McGlasson, Winchester
Patty Nell, Hillview
Jacquelin Whitler, Concord
James Whitler, Concord

The slogans of all these boys and girls (and those printed last Sunday, as well as some that came in too late to be included in the list above) will be sent to the National contest to see who will be the president of Priscilla's Safety Club, and who will win the bicycle.

All the boys and girls who have sent in safety pledges may come in anytime and get their SAFETY CLUB MEMBERSHIP CARDS.

It is too late to send a slogan for the contest, but it is NOT TOO LATE to join the SAFETY CLUB!! Just bring your name to the Jacksonville Journal-Courier office with the words "I promise to look both ways before I cross the street . . . Always cross at the proper place . . . Watch out for turning cars!" written on the same paper with your name. You may get a Safety Club membership card just by turning in the above pledge. (It is allright for Mom or Dad to do this for you.)

AMERICAN SONGS

Many of our popular American songs have their origins in the history of our country. A great marching song is "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." This was very popular during the Civil War and was sung by the Union forces as they marched to battle. It has been a favorite army song ever since.

The music of a campmeeting hymn was used by the Northern forces. At first they sang "John Brown's Body" to this tune.

Later Julia Ward Howe wrote the words of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" to the same music. Both songs will live forever in the treasury of American folksongs.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was written during the War of 1812 and curiously enough, it was set to the tune of an old English song then widely sung in America. It did not matter that we were fighting England at the time. America wanted a song, so she took the music at hand and used it to carry the words and thoughts she wanted to sing.

Wonder World

CICADA
By Ray Broekel

There are very few people who have never heard a Cicada. This insect can almost make more noise than a barrel of monkeys.

The loud, shrill, rasping noise made by Cicadas is an indication that late summer and early fall are about here.

The Cicada is most commonly known by the name of Locust. To be correct in our naming of the insects we shouldn't call them Locusts, since true Locusts are actually grasshoppers.

The Locust is mentioned in the Bible — and the grasshopper, not the Cicada, is the insect referred to.

Suck Tree Sap

Cicadas belong to the same order of Insects as the Tree Hopper. Adult Cicadas feed on the sap of trees and bushes which they suck out with the help of a sharp, rasping beak.

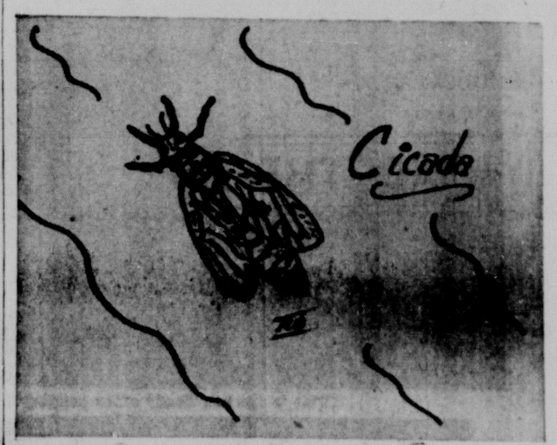
There are over seventy-five different species, or kinds, of Cicadas to be found in the United States.

The different species take varied amounts of time to change from the larva, or worm stage, into an adult Cicada.

17-Year Locust

Perhaps the most famous of the species is the one called the "Seventeen Year Locust." Just as the name implies, it takes the grub seventeen years before it leaves the ground to turn into an adult Cicada.

During the hatching years, called cycles, of various species of Cicadas, it often looks as if it had been raining Cicadas, since they are to be found over almost everything.



VARIETY OF SPICES

Today, we use spices only to flavor our foods, but as far back as man can remember, they have been important. The whole course of civilization has been influenced by them.

At first, their use was discovered by accident. Ancient man threw some cinnamon wood into his fire and liked the flavor. Today, we buy ground cinnamon in boxes.

Perhaps an ancient cook threw some peppercorns into the pot of stew and liked the results. Today we use so many spices in our foods that it takes a good cook many years to get well acquainted with them.

The spice trade has been carried on since before the dawn of written history. Ancient travel was spurred on by the desire for spices. They are needed as medicines as well as flavorings.

Most spices probably originated in Asia. Many of our most famous travelers such as Marco Polo and Columbus were looking for trade routed to the East. They were looking for variety in their spices.

The Dutch boy wears short double breasted jacket and full pants, also heavy wooden shoes.

Methodist Men Install Officers At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — The Methodist Men's Club met Monday night for a supper and program, the last meeting before adjourning for the summer months.

It was voted to present the retiring secretary-treasurer, Jasper Hood, with a gift.

Mrs. W. L. Worcester and her committee of Methodist Church women served the supper.

Visit Fire Station

Mrs. Grover Wallace's first grade pupils, accompanied by the teacher and two of the mothers, Mrs. Wayne Cunningham and Mrs. Jerry Hagen, Tuesday visited the local fire station where they were taken on a tour of inspection by Fire Chief Richard Hopkins, who also took the group on a ride through the city streets on the fire engine.

Fire Chief Hopkins gave the children instructions concerning desirable behavior during a fire and other rules in relation to fires.

ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE — Miss Florence Whitworth has returned home from Peoria, where she attended the Illinois Telephone convention held from Wednesday until Friday for chief operators and other telephone company personnel.

Mrs. E. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Clarence Edwards and Mrs. Albert Powers attended the convention of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs in Chicago recently.

Mrs. C. R. Thomas has returned from a visit over Mother's Day with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Petefish and husband of Jacksonville.

The following Roodhouse people attended a recital at MacMurray College in Jacksonville Wednesday night, presented by the music faculty honoring the composer Mozart: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chapman and Mesdamees Arthur T. Broche, Margaret Sullivan and Ethelyn Cuddy.

Mrs. Harold Snyder and daughter, Christine, of Little Rock, Ark., are visiting Mrs. John Pulling and other relatives in Roodhouse and Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Taylor spent Mother's Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Hartman, in Berdan. Others present were Miss Marta Hartman, who resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Watret and son, Johnny Bill, of Waverly.

Mrs. Clarence Reynolds and baby daughter, Mary Ann, have returned home from Passavant hospital in Jacksonville.

Concord W.S.C.S. Meets Thursday With Mrs. Yeck

CONCORD—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met Thursday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Yeck. The meeting opened with devotions led by Mrs. Tillie Schone. The group sang "For the Beauty of the Earth." Mrs. Yeck assisted Mrs. Schone by reading scripture from Matthew. The theme of the devotional period was "Physical and Spiritual Needs in the World Today."

Roll call was answered by 20 members, each giving a Bible verse containing the word "gift." Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. Mrs. L. C. Hess, spiritual life secretary, made an annual report and read a skit entitled "Manifestation."

A book review was presented by Mrs. Roy Nickel of In My Father's House.

The meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Zulauf, Mrs. Floyd Goodpasture and Mrs. Arthur Yeck.

Guests present were Mrs. Chester Brockhouse, Mrs. Howard Deitrick, Mrs. Aldo Hierman, Mrs. Phillip Yeck, Julia Robison, Deborah Deitrick, Barbara Hess, Rebecca Deitrick, Anita Elliott and Dean Goodpasture.

MOTHER NABS SON

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — When Junior John Reynoso, 34, escaped from the state penitentiary he did not figure on his mother making the capture.

Prison officials said Mrs. Ethel Reynoso escorted her son back to the penitentiary 24 hours later. Reynoso had 23 days left to serve when he fled from a work detail. He now faces an additional five years for escape.

Pittsfield Legion Post 152 Honors 8th Grade Pupils

PITTSFIELD—Pittsfield American Legion Post 152 has concluded its annual Junior Citizenship Awards project honoring students of the eighth grades in recognition of their attainments in scholarship and other activities.

Those receiving the certificates of school awards from the Legion this week were David Giger and Nancy Wendler of Pittsfield Junior High School, with Attorney Paul F. Grote making the presentation.

Attorney Lewis Grigsby presented the awards to Kathleen Huseman and Norris Richards of the Baylis grade schools. Attorney A. W. Schimmel, Jr., made the presentation of awards at Milton Grade School to Junior Shireman and Judy Hess.

The annual program of the Legion is designed to turn the publicity spotlight on the young people of the community whose achievements, deeds and services are above and beyond those ordinarily expected of them. Recipients are nominated for the honor by their teachers and school organizations.

Amvets Provide New TV Set For Veterans' Unit

Every patient in the veterans' section of Jacksonville State Hospital now has access to a TV set, thanks to the latest one presented last week by the 3rd district, Illinois Department of Amvets, and the local post, Jacksonville No. 100.

Dr. Louis Belinson, superintendent of the hospital, is shown at left after he expressed his thanks for the gift. Others in the photo, still from left, are Vernon Rahe, Amvets state president; George Vasconcellos, hospital service officer; Robert Hoffman, Post 100 service officer; Raymond Hart, post commander; Herbert Dodsworth, post service officer, and C. P. Siegfried, post public relations officer.

Three other officers who helped secure the set for the hospitalized veterans were unable to be present when the photo was made. They were Clarence Newlan of North Pekin, 3rd district commander; Paul Lempe of Lincoln, state membership chairman, and John Beadles of Jacksonville, 3rd district senior vice commander.

In expressing his thanks to the delegation Belinson said it was impossible to say just how big a contribution TV has made to the welfare of the patients, "but it has been large. It brings the outside world into the ward. Veterans who have been here for 20 years or more have been amazed and delighted with the revelations that TV has brought into their lives."

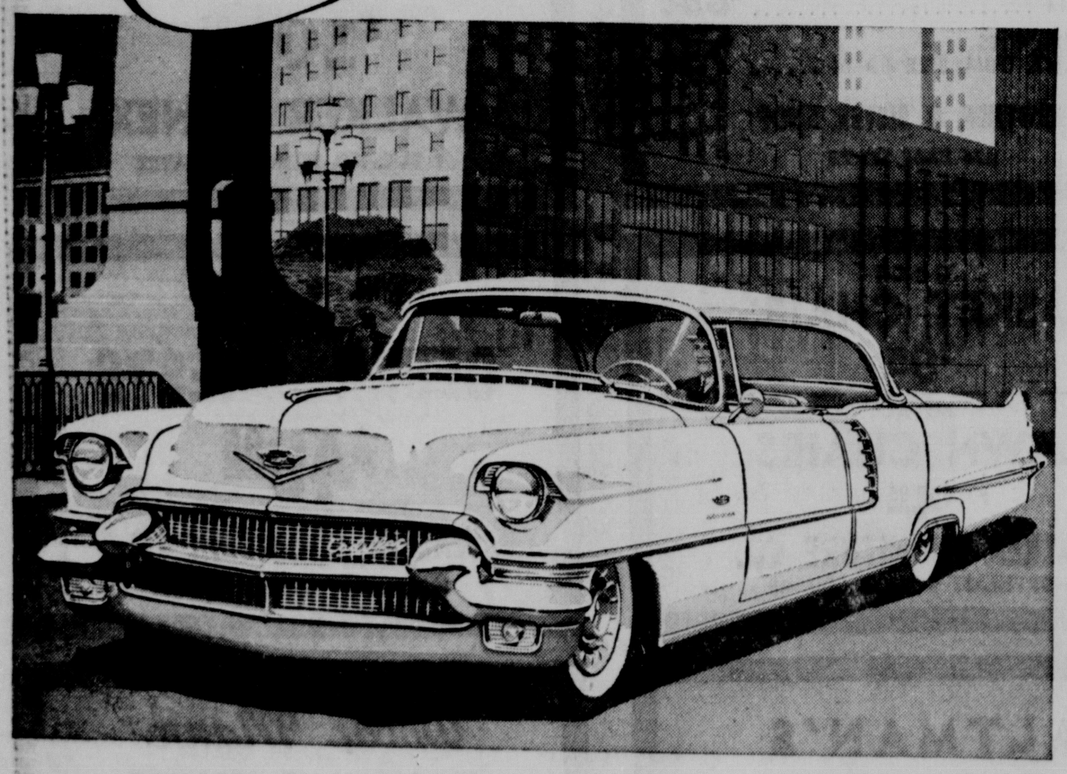
Belinson said that he placed the first TV set that arrived at the hospital in the security ward, where seriously disturbed patients are cared for. That was three years ago.

"It was predicted at the time it would be smashed up in a day or two. The reverse occurred: it is still there and working every day."

There are now about 35 TV sets at the hospital, all of them hooked to a high master antenna.

After the presentation Tuesday evening a regular meeting of the local post was held in the clubrooms on West State street. The post decided to participate in the Memorial Day parade to be held here Wednesday and all members are asked to assemble at the clubrooms at 10:30 p.m.

It was also decided that the post will hold its next fish fry next Friday, June 1.

Cadillac


Expected Much...and Got More!

He had heard it time and again from his friends who drive Cadillacs.

He had heard, for instance, of Cadillac's marvelous performance . . . and of Cadillac's great comfort and handling ease . . . and of the satisfaction that comes to the man at the wheel.

And so, when he took the keys to his first Cadillac just a short while ago, he thought he knew what to expect from the "car of cars".

How, for instance, could anyone fully foresee the joys of owning a new Cadillac car? It gives a man a sense of pride and a feeling of achievement and fulfillment that literally defy description.

Or how could anyone anticipate the thrill of driving a new Cadillac? Smooth and quiet . . . eager and responsive . . . restful and relaxing—it simply has no counterpart on the world's highways.

And how could anyone foreknow the many other pleasures that await him at the wheel . . . . . the joy of finding that his Cadillac, with all its quality and character, is among the most practical of motor cars to own and operate . . . . . and the satisfaction we believe he will find in his relationship with us as his Cadillac dealer—and in our honest concern with his motoring well-being.

Why not stop in soon for a personal preview of this wonderful experience?

We think you will be delighted to learn how quickly you can get delivery and to find how much your current car is worth to us in trade.

PIKE MEMORIAL

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A huge boulder monument to Zebulon Montgomery Pike will be dedicated this summer on Pike's Peak, which he discovered 150 years ago.

The dedication will be one of the chief events in the sesquicentennial celebration of Pike's discovery.

Attached to the boulder will be a 2 foot square bronze plaque with the head of Pike in bas-relief. The plaque is being cast from a model made by John Fetler, sculptor and music critic for the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph.

Good go-along for tomato juice: Cream soft cheddar cheese (it comes in a roll) with butter and add finely chopped shrimp, onion powder and chili sauce or catchup. Spread over toast and broil.

ALEXANDER STUDENTS EARN AWARDS

TONY FULTON JANET FOSTER

American Legion awards were presented to Tony Fulton and Janet Foster, who were chosen as outstanding students of the graduating class of the Alexander elementary school. The awards were presented by Dale Smith, representing Jacksonville Legion Post 279, and Mrs. Lyle Davis, representing the American Legion Auxiliary. Tony Fulton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton, and Janet Foster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster.

A tie for runner-up honors among the girls existed between Joyce Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ankrom, and Helen Rose Wallbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallbaum. Runner-up honors for boys went to Wayne Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson.

MEMORY LANE

WITH DUE REVERENCE

Remember when Memorial Day was usually referred to as "Decoration Day" and parades were held in every town? Deep reverence was shown the "old soldiers" as they proudly passed in review and we listened attentively to the orator who gave a patriotic address after a few appropriate numbers by the band. Remember?

Regardless of financial circumstances you may be sure that your individual needs and wishes will be faithfully fulfilled.

Patterson Club Family Gathering In White Hall

PATTERSON — The Help-a-Neighbor Club of the Patterson community met Sunday at the shelter house in Lion's Park in White Hall for a family gathering. A potluck dinner was served at noon.

The following members and their families were present: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walls of Manchester; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Houghton, Mrs. Alta Young, and Mrs. Glenna Clark, all of Roodhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Orval Cummins and daughter, Mary Lee, of Barrow vicinity; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith and children, Larry, Judy and Jerry; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westerhold and son John of White Hall, and Mrs. Hattie Nicholson and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mardelle Nicholson of the Oak Grove community.

A short business session was conducted in the afternoon and the members who had birthdays in May were remembered with gifts from their secret pals: Mrs. Hattie Nicholson, Mrs. Martha Shafer and Mrs. Mildred Wilkinson. Mrs. Jessie Barnett received the door prize which was given by Mrs. Ida Seely.

The June meeting will also be held in Lion's Park on the regular meeting day and the hostesses will be Mrs. Alta Young and Mrs. Pearl Seely.

Bluffs Rebekah Mother-Daughter Fete Observed

BLUFFS — Dawn Rebekah lorge, No. 169, recently observed its annual Mother-Daughter banquet and party with a potluck supper at 6:30 o'clock. More than 40 members and guests were seated at attractively decorated tables featuring Maypoles and dancing dolls as centerpieces. Mrs. Mildred Little gave the words of welcome; poem by Johanna Mullen; response by Allyne Smith, introduction of guests; origin of Mother's Day was read by Lola Lemme and a poem read by Betty Neese.

The oldest mother present was Mrs. Katherine Rogers and the youngest, Mrs. Dale Buhlig, both were given gifts of little potted plants.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK SUNDAY AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The Rev. Erik Ahlquist, missionary to the Chevante Indians of Manto Grosso State in central Brazil, will speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and again at 8:00 p.m. Sunday evening, at Central Baptist Church.

In the evening service he will show some pictures of the people with whom he works and explain the opportunities and needs of these people.

The Rev. Ahlquist is not a stranger to the people of Jacksonville. He will be remembered as the gifted chalk artist and music director in the Bob Randell revival. The Rev. Ahlquist will draw at least one picture Sunday evening, and sing; possibly the picture and song will be his famous "Ninety and Nine."

OH, DEAR, OH DEER!—It's a tough world as this week-old Costa Rican fawn found when he ventured into it at the Como Park zoo in St. Paul. He ended up in a nearby pen of mules and emerged with two broken hind legs. Now wearing casts, the youngster will have to stay close to its mother for a couple of weeks.

Glasgow P.T.A. Host To Scott County Council

GLASGOW — The Glasgow P.T.A. served as host to the May meeting of the Scott County P.T.A. Council in the Glasgow school Tuesday evening. Officers and representatives from the Winchester, Bluffs, Manchester and Glasgow P.T.A. groups were in attendance.

Following a brief business session, several of the delegates from the different county units reported on different phases of the recent state Parent-Teachers Congress, which was held in Peoria this year.

County officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. Paul Vannier. They were as follows: president, Mrs. Mary Taylor; vice president, Mrs. Ruth Van Tuyle; secretary, Mrs. Ray Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Geneva Wilson.

The entertainment period consisted of a quiz program, patterned after the Dr. I. Q. radio program, with questions dealing with P.T.A. subjects. Mrs. Vannier served as quizmaster.

The refreshment committee, composed of Mrs. Truman Bridges, Mrs. Millard McGlasson and Mrs. Charles Pigg, served ice cream, cake and iced tea to the group following the meeting.

Murrayville Society Meets At Heaton Home

MURRAYVILLE — The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church met Thursday with Mrs. Barbara Heaton. In the absence of the president, Bernice Harvey was in charge of the meeting.

The opening song, "Peal Out the Watch Word" was sung in unison followed by prayer by Mrs. Londa McKnelly. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Betty Stanberry and roll call was answered by 14 members.

Plans were made for the Bible school to start June 11. The teachers will meet June 6 to make plans.

The program, Take My Life and Let It Be, was given by Mrs. Katherine Million. The meeting closed with the Guild benediction and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Members present were Mrs. Donna Davidsmeyer, Mrs. Londa McKnelly, Miss Bernice Harvey, Mrs. Betty Stanberry, Mrs. Beverly Heaton, Mrs. Donna Heaton, Mrs. Faye Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Jane Rimbey, Mrs. Clarabel Alred, Mrs. Nellie Tendick, Mrs. Katherine Million, Mrs. Thelma Blimling, Mrs. Barbara Heaton and Mrs. Martha Joseph.

Waverly 6th Grade Rides C. B. And Q.

Room mother Mrs. Emery Seiz and Mrs. Walter Eldridge also rode on the train and Jennifer Points and Kent Seiz a brother and sister of two of the class. Arthur Long was unable to go because of the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Ritter, Mrs. Lillie Mae Points, and E. K. Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. John Romang met them at the Jacksonville depot and took them to the Illinois Theatre to see George Gobel in "The Birds and the Bees."

MURRAYVILLE

MURRAYVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith and Vera, accompanied by Miss Velda Millard of Champaign, attended the style show at the high school in Pekin Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson spent several days in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Concklin and family in Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Million and Mrs. Sadie Million enjoyed a picnic dinner and outing at Nichols park in Jacksonville Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Israel and Mrs. Clifford Alred accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Edwards of Athensville, attended funeral services in Greenfield last Wednesday at the Baptist church for Mrs. Israel's brother, Wes Nutchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hart of Roodhouse spent Friday with her mother, Mrs. Ernest Million.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Beadles spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heaton in Manchester.

Mrs. Edward Tendick was a guest Monday evening of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Evans in Springfield at a mother and daughter banquet given by her sorority.

Mrs. John Wilkey returned home Tuesday from Passavant hospital in Jacksonville with her son, John Wesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Basham of Woodson were supper guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blimling and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gross of Springfield were Sunday afternoon callers on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Rimbey.

Opportunity Knocks — Will You Answer???

The opportunity is in the basic agricultural field and the potential earnings run from $10,000 to $15,000 net per year. Capital investment runs approximately $3,000 to $5,000 at the outset. Additional capital can be easily paid from operations. The sponsoring firm offers complete financial, sales and service, advice and assistance. Sponsoring company will invest two to three times more than the owner. Management and organizational ability are essential to success. If you are interested in this opportunity write Box 5778, Journal Courier.

WHERE ARE YOU HEADED?

If you are an electronic technician . . . with at least a two-year technical school background . . .

If you want more than just a run-of-the-mill job . . .

If you think you have the know-how to take advantage of the most unique opportunity in the electronics field today . . .

Then you'll be headed in the right direction if you write us today for an interview.

We'll tell you about a new program—in a company world famous for stability, growth and leadership. You'll have a chance to see what this project offers you in growth possibilities, salary and company-paid benefits.

THE STORY: Partly to learn if Emmett Cash is a horse thief and partly because Emmett saved his life, Frank Ude goes to Cashtown. He has met a young woman named Jean who admires his horse. Frank, who had had an unfortunate experience once with a girl, tries to avoid friendship with her.

THE cook brought him his slice of beef and potatoes and he pitched into it like a man long without food. Back on the Anchor woman had taught him distrust of her kind. She had sworn to be faithful and he had believed in her love.

It still gave him a mental lashing to recall the day he had ridden down to the river and found Janet, in another man's arms. Frank turned the horse he was riding slowly homeward, a killing rage over him, and yet relieved to have discovered the truth.

Old man McCarty was a boss to frown on an indiscretion. When his daughter came to Frank later he told her there could be nothing further between them. Her passion changed her into an unpredictable demon. She turned old Buck against him in as bitter a piece of lying as Frank ever ran across.

Old Buck McCarty had waited for him that night as he returned to headquarters. It made Frank's mouth pinch in tighter at the corners now to remember that fight. The cold sweat stood against his brow; he lifted a hand and wiped it away. He hadn't meant to come so close to killing McCarty that night. An old man, and the best friend he had ever known.

Frank tried until the very last to pacify Buck. When Buck's gun exploded he had his hand over the barrel, turning it aside. The powder blast set his trousers afire. Still the old man wouldn't let him go. He cracked Frank across the face with a fist that was as hard as the sole of his boot.

At the last Frank turned to her, trying to hold the emotions out of his voice. "Buck gave me the gelding two years ago. Tell him I'm taking him—but don't tell him how you've lied!"

She lifted her head letting him see tears running down her face. In a moment she had come away from the fence and locked her arms around him. "Take me along, Frank. I made a mistake. Take me—"

He broke her hold roughly and threw himself into his saddle. As he rode away he could hear the sobs that were racking Janet's body.

THE girl who sang in Norring's saloon was named Lily Arnette. From some mysterious place in her past she brought a strange and magnificent talent for music that held the Alhambra patrons enthralled. As she crossed the dust of Cashtown's street she had not missed the slim man standing beside Sheriff Chantry — for Hyman waited here every day for her brief walk from hotel to saloon. He would also be in the group tonight listening to each note that fell from her lips. There would be wonderment in his eyes, both for her singing and for herself; and after her work was over he would return to his shop and take up his violin so that the back room where he lived would be filled with the same chords she had played on the Alhambra piano. One day a long time ago she had gone into that room to sing for him while he brought music out of that old violin. He was a musician—a greater and a more perfect one than she perhaps had ever met — but she would never return to meet again at close quarters that pathetic look of adoration in Hyman's eyes.

Her work did not start until nine at night, but she used the early afternoon in rehearsal. It offered her her chance to play the great masters, the music which had filled the southern drawing rooms before the war. Since this was extra on her part, and at no additional cost above her night singing, both Stephen Norring and his saloon manager, Jack Bamfort, were agreeable.

Her hands ran over the keyboard in a way that revealed deep feeling, that brought forth the closest attention of her barroom audience. She went instantly into a piece by Schuman and forgot this place.

She had a swift but vivid backward thought of Madam Phips encouraging her in Richmond. "You will go far, Miss Arnette! I can hear you now playing to the halls of Paris. This war will someday be over—when it happens you will become a discovery out of the misery of people's lives."

• • •

THE memory of Madam Phips' words came to an abrupt ending as a man's hand fitted smoothly about her shoulder. Stephen Norring was the man.

She said levelly, "Take your hand away, Steve," and at once Norring's hand lifted.
